ODESSA IS IN STATE OF WAR

St. Petersburg Hears That Black Sea Squadron is in Hands of Mutineers.

CITY IS IN FLAMES

Rebellious Sailors Said to Have Captured Three More Big Battleships.

THE CAPITAL PANIC STRICKEN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—A dispatch from Odessa says: "A state of siege has been declared in the city. The conflagration is sweeping along the harbor front, the sailors and strikers refusing to permit attempts to extinguish the flames. Three uninsured ships of the Pan-Russian Company have been destroyed. The offices of the port administration, stores of the Pan-Russian, Koshkin and Russian companies and many private establishments and a great number of wood yards have been burned, and the fire is now consuming long lines of railroad cars, containing cargoes unloaded from foreign ships. Many ships succeeded in leaving the harbor.

CZAR DECLARES WAR EXISTS IN ODESSA

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—The emperor has issued the following ukase addressed to the ruling senate: "In order to guarantee public safety and to terminate the disorders at Odessa and neighboring localities we have found it necessary to declare a state of war in Odessa and district and to invest the commander of the troops in the military district of Odessa with the rights of military authority and special rights of civil administration for the defense of order and public tranquility."

"The surviving officers of the battleship Kniaz Potemkine number 11 instead of 5. A number of them were set ashore by the mutineers. They confirm the details of the mutiny cabled to the Associated Press yesterday.

Sailor's Body Back on Ship.

"The body of Omiltchuk today was again taken on board the Kniaz Potemkine, from which a delegation of the crew, headed by the chaplain, visited the commander of the Odessa military district and asked him to accord a military funeral to the dead sailor.

"The newspapers have suspended publication and all regular life and business are at a standstill."

It is reported that the volunteer fleet cruiser Saratoff has been burned at Odessa.

Admiral Kruger's squadron is expected to arrive at Odessa tonight. His orders are to summon the Kniaz Potemkine to surrender and upon her refusal to sink her, after which he is to assist in restoring order in the town.

A dispatch which arrived here early this morning from Sebastopol announced that a squadron of battleships, the Tri Sviatitelis, Sinope and Rostialav, with a cruiser and several torpedo boats, only started for Odessa at 8 o'clock last evening.

This explains the non-appearance of the squadron at Odessa; but it is difficult to conjecture the reasons for delaying departure two days at such a critical juncture.

All Baltic Ports Revolt.

All the Baltic ports have revolted and there are fears of disturbances at Cronstadt.

At Odessa the railway station has been destroyed and many people have been injured.

General Kakhanoff, commander of the military district of Odessa, has been empowered to declare martial law, and Vice Admiral Chouknin, commander of the Black seat fleet, left St. Petersburg hastily during the night, either for Sebastopol or for Odessa, it is impossible to affirm exactly which. Beyond this no steps are known to have been taken to meet the emergency. Admiral Avellan was summoned to Petershof at 8 o'clock this morning to discuss the situation with the emperor.

More Ships Reported Seized.

Such advices as the emperor and the government have received are carefully withheld. The wires are in control of the authorities and appeals sent to the Associated Press correspondents at Odessa to telegraph what has happened since last have met with no response, up to noon. Rumors are rife in this city, however, that the officers on board the ships belonging to the squadron of Vice Admiral Kruger, which left Sevastopol for Odessa, Tuesday, according to one report, and for a practice cruise, according to another story, have shared the fate of the officers of the battleship Kniaz Potemkine and have been murdered by the mutineers. It is added that mutineers are in possession of the other warships of the squadron. If so, the mutiny has control of more than half the heavy ships of the Black sea fleet, the other battleships said to be in the hands of the mutineers being the Tchesme, Sinoe and the Tria Sviatitelia (Three Apostles). The admiralty, however, does not confirm the report of the mutiny on board Admiral Kruger's other ships. Admiral Wirenius, chief of the naval general staff, at noon today informed the Associated Press that he did not know whether Kruger's squadron had arrived at Odessa. Wirenius seemed at a loss to account for the mutiny, saying that the commander of the Kniaz Potemkine was a fine officer.

MUTINEERS ARE SHELLING CITY

Although Authorities Claim to Have Gained Control, Situation Is Most Critical.

SQUADRON IS NOT IN SIGHT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 30.—The Daily Mail this morning prints the following from its Odessa correspondent, timed 10:40 o'clock Thursday night:

"Using full charges, the Kniaz Potemkine opened fire on the city this evening. The first shell struck a house in Eyesjinskaya street and the second fell on a brewery. In the walls of both buildings large holes six yards wide by three yards high were torn. So far there has been no more firing.

"The governor ordered the gas lamps extinguished and the electric currents severed, so that the city is in total darkness.

"Large bodies of troops have arrived. It is reported that there are altogether 10,000 troops in Odessa.

"This afternoon a tugboat which arrived with a commission to investigate the condition of affairs proceeded, flying the Red Cross flag, to the opposite side of the bay and reported that two warships were lying opposite Little Fountain, at the harbor end of one of the main streets."

Admiral Kruger's squadron is not yet in sight.

RAZING OLD YELLOW ROW BY FIRE ENGINE STREAMS

Use Hydraulic Pressure to Raze the Most Dangerous Portions of the Manacing Structure.

By hydraulic pressure one section of Yellow Row was razed by the fire bureau early this morning. Chief Humphreys of the fire bureau and Supt. Dies of the building inspection bureau knocked down the walls of 659 and 661 Second avenue by streams of water forced through four hose lines by two engines. After an hour's work both structures were wrecked, and the debris was cleared away by "white wings."

Last Monday these buildings showed signs of collapsing. Supt. Dies ordered the tenants to vacate. This was done and the street was roped off. As there is an injunction in court against the removing of the buildings by the city authorities, Supt. Dies was undetermined what to do. Yesterday he consulted with the the city solicitors, and it was decided to knock the buildings down, as they were a menace to the public.

Chief Humphreys arranged to have two engines go to the scene. Four hose lines were rigged up in to a long nozzle. A pressure of 700 pounds was forced through these lines against the walls. When the water struck the walls it penetrated them as of they were made of paper. Bricks and timbers were blown in the air by the stream.

Supt. Dies ordered Police Captain McCabe to get the residents out of the adjoining houses while the work was in progress. William Woodruff, a 70-year-old negro, who has lived in Yellow Row for 20 years, sat on the curb and saw his home washed away.

PEACE COMMISSIONERS WILL VISIT OYSTER BAY

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 29.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt will not go to Washington to meet the Russian and Japanese peace commissioners, but will meet them in New York or invite them to Oyster Bay, probably the latter. The names of the plenipotentiaries will be given out officially in three or four days.

SON KILLED FATHER TO SAVE HIS MOTHER

Gave Himself Up to Sheriff and Entire Family Is Now In Jail at Marietta.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MARIETTA, O., June 29.—Edgar Uhl, Sr., a hotel keeper, aged 49, was murdered about 8 o'clock this morning by his son, Edgar, Jr., aged 22. The crime was committed on the second floor of Uhl's hotel, the young man using a double-barreled shotgun. Shortly after killing his father young Uhl went to the sheriff's office and gave himself up, saying to Deputy Sheriff Best:

"Well, here I am."

"What have you done?" asked the deputy.

"Well, you will find out soon enough when Chief Jake Dye comes after me," was Uhl's reply.

Thinking the boy out of his mind, Deputy Sheriff Best went about his duties, but two hours later, when he returned, he found Uhl still in the sheriff's office looking pale and haggard. Uhl handed over a bunch of keys and Officer Chamberlain and Deputy Sheriff Best went to the hotel and found it locked. Upon entering the hotel they found the murdered man lying on his bed.

When the body was found it was nearly noon. After Coroner Athey made an investigation the son was placed in the county jail. Mrs. Ida Uhl, wife of the murdered man, in an interview stated that her husband had kicked her out of bed three times during the night; that he had threatened to kill the entire family, and she feared he would do as he threatened. "We just had to kill him or he would have killed us," she explained in answer to repeated questions. Mrs. Uhl and her two daughters, one a deaf mute, were arrested this afternoon.

COUNTERFEITERS IN THE ARMY

Regular Soldiers in Hawaii Arrested on Charge of Making Spurious Gold Coins.

HONOLULU, June 29.—United States Marshal E. R. Henry has arrested four soldiers belonging to the Twenty-fourth regiment of coast artillery, stationed at Camp McKinley, on the charge of making counterfeit gold coin. The marshal also seized a gold plating machine.

All the coins alleged to have been made illegally are $5 and $10 pieces. The materials used were lead and copper, plated with gold.

BIG WHITE GOOSE SAVES FOUR FROM THE FLAMES

The noise made by a goose saved the lives of four people and probably prevented the building at 529-531 Liberty street from being destroyed by fire shortly before midnight. Supt. McQuaide of the bureau of detectives was passing the house and saw smoke and flames pouring from the windows. He rushed up the stairway to the second floor and aroused Dr. J. H. Thomas and Mrs. Thomas, who were sleeping there. On the third floor he heard a goose dashing about the room and a moment later Dr. E. W. Lindley and "Charlie," a crippled newsboy, emerged from the smoke. Mrs. Josephine Sablodowski, a Polish woman who had been given lodgings in the house, followed after them.

"Come out of here!" shouted Supt. McQuaide. "This place is burning up." Then he ran to turn in an alarm.

Down the stairway came Dr. Lindley, clad in a fur overcoat and bearing in his arms a very common place looking white goose. The goose hissed and "honked" and the moment the doctor reached the sidewalk it dashed away up Liberty street. It had saved their lives. Dr. Thomas, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Sablodowsky and "Charlie" followed close behind. When the firemen came the smoke and flames obscured the entire front of the structure. For a few minutes it looked as if the entire block would be destroyed, but the fire was soon discovered underneath the floor and was extinguished before the damage aggregated more than a few hundred dollars.

On the first floor is a branch depot for J. H. Gildhill, the fish man. The Diamond Produce Company has a poultry warehouse in another part of the building. Hundreds of chickens, ducks and geese were kept in the rear, but the fowls were not disturbed.

"We bought the goose last night," said Dr. Lindley, who is a boarder with the Thomas family. "We expected to have stewed goose tomorrow. That is how the bird happened to be there. Did they save the goose? It saved us."

The Polish woman happened along last night and said she had no home. Mrs. Thomas took her in for the night. "Charlie," the newsboy, has lived there for years. All were able to return to their quarters after the smoke was driven out. The goose escaped.

Striking Teamsters Indicted.

CHICAGO, June 29.—Fourteen indictments have been voted by the grand jury in the teamster strike cases.

FILTRATION WORK BEING EXAMINED

Expert Parsons Inspects Philadelphia Plant—Scheme to Remove Overhead Wires.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—The physical inspection of the Torresdale filter plant was begun today when William Barclay Parsons, the distinguished New York engineer, went over it under the guidance of Chief Webster, of the survey bureau, acting chief of the bureau of filtration.

"The trip of inspection which Mr. Parsons made today," said Mayor Weaver last evening, "begins the physical inspection of the plant, but of course, no examination of the character of work done was made. All that Mr. Parsons could do today was to make himself familiar with the plant as a whole. Hereafter he will inspect the details of the construction work." Mr. Parsons is the only member of the commission thus far appointed.

Mayor Weaver was closeted with Wayne MacVeagh, who is associated as counsel to the mayor, and there followed a general conference which lasted half an hour. During it Mr. Parsons received a preliminary report, which had been drawn up by the auditors now at work on the records of the filtration bureau. Its purpose was to familiarize him, in a brief time, with the status of matters at the present moment.

The removal of all overhead trolley wires and the prevention of any construction in which such wires figure was foreshadowed today in a resolution introduced into common council by J. F. L. Morris of the Twenty-first ward. Mr. Morris said that he presented it at the request of Mayor Weaver, who desires to see all the wires placed underground.

In financial circles the introduction of the resolution is looked on as the first step by the mayor in the much-talked-of battle with the rapid transit company. That it would cost millions to put the present overhead wires underground is known, but this may not be forced.

Select council at its special session today passed the bills repealing former ordinances which gave the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company the right to lay tracks on an additional 110 miles of street without the city receiving anything for the franchises. The action of councils is another victory for Mayor Weaver.

BUILD FURNACES IN OHIO VALLEY

New Midland Steel Company Secures a One-Thousand Acre Site at Cooks Ferry.

H. C. FOWNES AT THE HEAD

To the iron and steel industries of the Pittsburgh district a new one is to be added as rapidly as it can be built. The Company will be known as the Midland Steel Company. The site will be on the north bank of the Ohio river at Cooks Ferry, Beaver county. There 1,000 acres of land have been bought. The site has a frontage of two and one-half miles on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania system, and is one mile deep. It lies 60 feet above the level of the river and is safe from all flood danger.

Those interested in the new concern are H. C. Fownes, president of the Carrie Furnace Company, and the S. Jarvis Adams Company; W. C. Fownes, W. C. Fownes, Jr., Charles McKnight, president of the National Bank of Western Pennsylvania; Joseph McK. Speer and J. Ramsey Speer.

The connection of H. C. Fownes and his associates with the iron and steel business of Pittsburgh has been of long standing. They built and operated the Carrie furnaces at Rankin, which they sold in 1901 to the Carnegie Company.

It is proposed to erect at once a modern blast furnace of about 450 tons daily capacity, and to lay out the property with a view to having three more similar furnaces. That the company will build a steel plant is expected, although there is no official statement on this subject. The plans outlined call for an investment of several million dollars.

The same interests have secured 1,600 acres of fine coal land in the fourth pool of the Monongahela. The coal possesses excellent coking qualities and fortifies the new concern in its coke supply. With the Pennsylvania railroad connection and the proposed improvements in the rivers the new plant will have good transportation facilities. Another line of the Pennsylvania on the other side of the river now extends to within five miles of Cooks Ferry. The new company will also buy and operate its own ore lands in the upper lakes region.

The market for the product will be at first that of the general merchant furnace. The S. Jarvis Adams Company, which is one of the best known foundry companies in Pittsburgh, will take a portion of the product.

The land bought contains the only good town site left on the north side of the Ohio river near Pittsburgh, and with the exception of the Raccoon farm of D. Herbert Hostetter, containing 700 acres and located on the south side of the river below this property, is said to be the only large manufacturing site on either side of the river within 100 miles of Pittsburgh still in the hands of the first owners or the farmers. The Hostetter farm is handicapped somewhat because there is no railroad to it at present. All the other big sites have been taken up by syndicates which are holding them for investment.

FIRST FLOATING POOL ROOM.

Sails from Chicago, Picks Up Results by Wireless for Sports, and Police Can't Interfere.

CHICAGO, June 29.—The steamer City of Traverse, America's first wireless floating pool room, made its initial trip today on Lake Michigan. Chief of Police O'Neill tonight said that under a decision written by the legal advisers of the city he is powerless to interfere.

When the boat left Chicago today it carried 300 passengers. It remained for the afternoon in the open lake while its wireless apparatus picked up race reports, the second race at Sheepshead Bay being the first event on which the betting odds were received. Until 5:10 o'clock the results and betting odds from Latonia, Buffalo and Sheepshead Bay came without interruption both from Chicago and Michigan City.

TAFT FLAYS MR. WALLACE

Tells Canal Engineer He Is Betraying Trust for Filthy Lucre.

IMPUGNS HIS HONOR

President Directs Publication of Correspondence With Officer Whom He Elevated.

APPROVES THE CASTIGATION

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, June 29.

Secretary Taft made public tonight the fact that John F. Wallace's resignation as chief engineer of the Panama canal was requested when he announced to Mr. Taft last Sunday his intention to quit his $25,000 post on the isthmus, "which was lonely and risky," for a $65,000 presidency of a New York holding company with "opportunities for making money."

Bitter in his resentment toward Chief Engineer Wallace for leaving the government without a competent engineering hand on the helm at Panama, President Roosevelt directed Secretary Taft to publish the text of his reply to Mr. Wallace. This constitutes a burning castigation such as has not, in recent years at least, been visited on any American official not convicted of dishonesty.

This came after Mr. Wallace, at a conference with Secretary Taft and William Nelson Cromwell at the Manhattan hotel in New York last Sunday, told Mr. Taft that before leaving the isthmus he had been asked by prominent business men in New York if he would accept a prominent position, and that in response to his answer that it was "simply a question of terms and conditions" they had offered him inducements which he could not afford to refuse.

What Is the Position?

What this position is has now become an important question in the minds of officials here. Mr. Wallace has not announced it. Mr. Shonts, chairman of the commission, does not know what it is. Posts paying $65,000 a year are not plentiful.

Mr. Wallace sprang no surprise on Secretary Taft when he announced his determination to leave the government service. Mr. Taft went to that conference prepared to hear what he did hear and authorized by the president to meet Mr. Wallace's suggestion with a demand for his resignation. Until the last moment Theodore P. Shonts, chairman of the canal commission, a former collegemate and lifelong friend of Mr. Wallace, stoutly denied the possibility that Mr. Wallace proposed to throw over the government for a better post in civil life.

The statement issued tonight concludes with the president's letter to Mr. Wallace dated Cambridge, Mass., June 26, which reads:

> Your resignation as member and chief engineer of the isthmian canal commission tendered in accordance with the request of Secretary Taft which request under the circumstances has my entire approval is hereby accepted, to take effect immediately. Very truly yours,
> THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Uneasy After Twelve Days.

Secretary Taft returned to Washington today and summoned to his house Mr. Shonts, chairman of the isthmian canal commission, and William Nelson Cromwell, the counsel for the commission. They at once entered on the preparation of the statement which was issued by direction of the president, its main features having been agreed upon when Secretary Taft saw the president at Harvard university earlier in the week.

Secretary Taft begins with the statement of Mr. Wallace to Chairman Shonts immediately after the organization of the commission, that he would be ready to accept the position of chief engineer at $25,000 a year, and a residence on the isthmus, and would enter on his duties June 1. Twelve days after his arrival on the isthmus, Mr. Wallace sent the following cablegram to Secretary Taft:

> Important complicated business matters which cannot be arranged by correspondence, and which may affect my relations as chief engineer of commission, necessitate immediate return to the United States to confer with you and others. An order from you to return for official consultation will prevent apprehension on the part of employes. Suggest Shonts remain until my arrival. Please answer.

Secretary Taft replied:

> Secretary of war and Shonts, in accordance with your request and without knowledge of circumstances that justify, approve your return for consultation with them at Washington.

The statement continues.

His Excuse for Resigning.

Mr. Wallace then said that a few days before he sent the cable to the secretary, he received a cable from prominent business men in New York, asking if he would consider an offer to accept an important position in New York, that he had cabled in reply it was "simply a question of terms and conditions," that he had requested particulars; that the particulars came, and it proved to be a definite offer of a position as president of a large holding company, controlling several other corporations, with certain stock benefits and other advantages to himself, which, with the salary, made it equivalent to $50,000 a year; that he did not at once accept the offer, but delayed it for a few days, in order to cable the secretary of war, during which the parties increased their proposal, making it equivalent to $60,000 or $65,000.

He stated that the position was an especially attractive one, such as he had only hoped to obtain after the completion of the canal—and this only after years of further service on the isthmus; that the duties of the new position were especially agreeable and afforded opportunities to make money through investments; further, that the position was such a good one he did not consider he could decline it; that life on the isthmus was lonely and accompanied with risk to himself and wife, and that this was another reason for accepting a better offer, but that his new duties would not require all of his attention for the next two months, and that the parties had agreed he could close up his canal work in the meantime, always provided it did not take him from New York to the isthmus.

Under No Obligation.

He referred to the president's order, appointing the original commission, and in which the president had stated that the commissioners would hold office subject to the due fulfillment of their duties, and he stated that this made the office subject to termination by the president, and that consequently, he (Mr. Wallace) considered that the holder of the office had an equal right to retire from it at his option at any time.

Concluding, he stated that while he was thus severing his connection with the canal work, he was willing to make up his annual report, and he would, if desired by the government, continue to serve as a commissioner; but not as chief engineer in charge of the construction work on the isthmus.

Mr. Wallace said this was all he had to say in regard to his personal relation to the work, and that he would then proceed to discuss generally the conditions on the isthmus if the secretary desired. Secretary Taft said he wished Mr. Wallace would continue his general statement. Mr. Wallace followed his personal statement with a discussion lasting half an hour, regarding conditions on the isthmus and the work on the canal. When he finished, Secretary Taft thus addressed him:

Is Castigated by Taft.

Mr. Wallace, I am inexpressibly disappointed, not only because you have taken this step, but because you seem so utterly insensible of the significance of your conduct. You come with the bold announcement that you quit your task at a critical moment, on the eve of important work and in the midst of reorganization plans under which you accepted your position, with your department unperfected in organization and when you know, too, that my public duties call me to the Philippines for several months.

I must be allowed to remind you that when you were employed by the commission a little over a year ago you were receiving only $15,000 per annum under your former position, and that your salary was fixed at the sum demanded by yourself, $25,000. That was for constant service on the isthmus, where the construction work was to be performed and your services were required. You knew the risks to yourself and to your family, if they went with you, in the work you assumed an obligation to do. If you had not desired the position you need not have sought nor accepted it, but I understand that quite the contrary was the case.

I can refer more positively to recent events within my own knowledge. When the president found it necessary to make a reorganization of the former commission you were consulted in the frankest manner about every feature of the reorganization and were encouraged freely to express your opinion. Indeed, your voluntary suggestions from the isthmus embraced the proposal that you, yourself, be made a member of the commission and chief engineer on the isthmus.

Insensible to Opportunity.

The substance of the plan of reorganization, as afterward embodied in the president's executive order of April 1, was cabled to you by me and you cabled me your fullest approval of it and your thanks, for it included the appointment of yourself as a commissioner, as you had solicited, and a member of the executive committee. The new plan of reorganization was warmly accepted and endorsed by you when you arrived in Washington, and you expressed your hearty approval of it in the most unequivocal manner not only to the president and myself, but to members of the commission and its counsel, and just before sailing for the isthmus you called upon us and voluntarily thanked me in the warmest terms for what had been done in the reorganization of the canal work and in the positions which had been given you.

You co-operated for all these weeks in the work of reorganization and accepted the position assigned you under the president's order of April 1. The president and myself relied upon this fact in making up the plans, and the other members were selected with that in view. Now, within 12 days after your arrival upon the isthmus you send me a cable which, read in the light of what you say today, signifies your practical acceptance of an offer of another position inconsistent with the performance of your duties on the isthmus. I am astonished that you should be so disregardful of the splendid opportunities of the position which would have made you famous the world over by the honorable performance of your duties of chief engineer.

Swayed by Mere Lucre.

For mere lucre you change your position over night without thought of the embarrassing position in which you place your government by this action, when the engineering forces on the isthmus are left without a real head and your department is not perfected in organization; when the advisory board of engineers is to assemble under call of the president within two months and when I am departing for the Philippines on public duty. All this you know as well as I know it, but it has not had the least influence upon your action—you have thought of yourself and yourself alone.

I consider that by every principle of honor and duty you were bound to treat the subject differently. You have permitted the president and all of us to proceed in full confidence that you would perform the functions of chief engineer, and now, in an hour, you drop your great duties and throw them back upon us as if it were a matter of no consequence, and all this for your personal advantage solely.

Mr. Wallace, I do not agree with your idea of your rights, nor with your idea as to your duties. I do not agree that the president's original order giving him the right to discharge an unfaithful commissioner gave you the right to abandon your duties at a critical moment; but, independent of that original order, you accepted the duties of chief engineer on the isthmus under the recent order of April 1, which was made in co-operation with you and to suit your views. More than this, your duty in the premises is not measured by your mere legal contractual rights. It should be measured by the obligation of a public officer with a sacred allegiance to the government, it should be his honor and his pleasure to serve. You were therefore in honor bound by all that has preceded to continue to perform your duties upon the isthmus until such time—a year at least—as would have afforded us reasonable opportunity to select a competent successor and prepare him for the great duties of that office.

Makes Profound Mistake.

You make not the least complaint against your associates—superior or inferior—(I know of no possible ground for any). You are influenced solely by your personal advantage.

Great fame attached to your office, but also equal responsibility, and now you desert them in an hour. Even from a standpoint of policy, you are making a profound mistake. If you could withdraw from your new arrangements, which I do not suggest, I could have no confidence (since I know now your conception of duty), that you would not in the future repeat the same, not at a moment even more critical, when the consequences might be even more embarrassing and injurious to the government.

Under these circumstances, Mr. Wallace, and with great personal pain and disappointment, I am bound to say I consider the public interest requires that you tender your resignation at this moment, and turn over the records of your office to chairman of the commission.

Mr. Wallace replied that he was disturbed at the view taken by the secretary; that he had considered he had a right to retire when he chose, but that he was desirous of talking it all over and making some arrangement whereby the government could use his services in some capacity.

Would Not Dicker.

The secretary answered:

Further talk is useless. It would be to dicker. I cannot dicker on such a grave subject. I have assumed you had given this subject the greatest consideration and you have approached it deliberately and stated to me your action in set and definite terms. You have unmistakably announced that you propose to accept a position so attractive that you could not possibly afford to decline it, and that you would not henceforth perform any duties for the government as inconsistent with serving your new masters, who require your constant presence in New York, and therefore that you could not and would not go back to Panama as chief engineer.

Mr. Wallace again stated he deeply regretted the secretary's point of view was different from his own, and said that he would send his resignations as soon as he got back to his hotel, and would address them to the president through the secretary. "While there is a difference between us," he said, "as to the point of view we take concerning my duty, I consider that there can be no question that I have performed my full duty up to this hour."

Duty Is an Entirety.

The secretary replied that he did not consider that any man can divide such a duty up to any one point where it suits him to stop and then claim that he has fulfilled it by merely performing it up to the point of his own selection. In my view a duty is an entirety, and is not fulfilled unless it is wholly fulfilled."

His resignations as commissioner, chief engineer, and as vice president, general manager and director of the Panama railroad were then submitted. It is expected his successor as chief engineer may be announced in a few days. The commission is in communication with an engineer of distinguished ability who has been asked whether he will accept the position, and an answer is expected from him probably tomorrow. Neither Secretary Taft nor Chairman Shonts would tonight indicate the identity of the one who has been offered the place.

ODESSA IN STATE OF WAR

having a most kindly disposition. Besides under the Russian naval regulations the captain of a warship is obliged to daily sample the soup of the crew to see if it is suitable for them.

What appears certain from the reports received at the various embassies here is that Odessa was, at least for a time, practically in the hands of the strikers, who erected barricades from which the police and troops were powerless to dislodge them. Indeed, one consul at Odessa reports that the troops refused to fire on the rioters. Nickolieff, a neighboring town of the litteral, is reported in possession of a mob.

St. Petersburg, in view of the developments at Odessa, is filled with stories of disaffection and sedition among the troops. Even the guard regiments, it is reported, say they will never again fire upon the people. The Cossacks alone, according to these tales, are absolutely reliable. That disaffection and discontent among the soldiers is widespread admits of little doubt, but the situation is hardly as black as painted. Up to the present time there is no reason to believe that the vast bulk of the army is not loyal. What the effect would be of several regiments going over to the rioters is, however problematical. Certainly a crisis seems to have been reached.

DEAD SAILOR BURIED.

Admiral of Port of Odessa Held as Hostage by Mutineers While Funeral Is Held.

ODESSA, June 29.—The funeral of Omiltchuk, which has just been held, became an imposing popular demonstration, without disorder. A procession of many thousands followed the body from the harbor along Preobrajensky street to the military cemetery. The coffin, which was covered with the St. Andrew's flag and on which there were numerous wreaths, was carried by eight sailors. The procession was headed by priests. Neither police nor troops were stationed along the route to cemetery owing to a wise decision of the authorities, by which the possibility of a collision was averted.

It is reported the Kniaz Potemkine's crew sent a message to the city commandant today announcing their intention to bury their comrade with military honors and threatening that if any interference should be attempted they would bombard the city. The port admiral offered himself as hostage on board the Kniaz Potemkine for the safe return of the escort, and the band sent ashore from the battleship to attend the funeral of Omiltchuk and also for the safety of the city.

RUSSIA TORN WITH RIOTS.

Rebellion Stalks in Every Province and Thousands of Troops Do Police Duty.

LIBAU, GOVERNMENT OF COURLAND, RUSSIA, June 29.—The Russian sailors here mutinied last night, attacked the government stores, seized the arms and fired into the officers' quarters. Infantry, artillery and Cossacks were brought to the scene of the fighting, but the result is not known. Intense excitement prevails here.

LODZ, RUSSIAN POLAND, June 29.—About 15,000 additional troops have arrived here and the city is again quiet. In response to a deputation of Jews the chief of police today promised to protect them and their co-religionists.

RIGA, RUSSIA, June 29.—Strikers and peasants today ambushed a number of Cossacks in a neighboring wood, killed one of them and wounded several.

REVAL, RUSSIA, June 29.—Railroad employes here to the number of 400 have struck work.

A squadron of Cossacks have been dispatched to Gapsal to suppress rioting. Details are lacking as all telegraphic and telephone communication with the place is severed.

HARVARD LOSES BY OAR LENGTH

Yale Crosses Finish Line Three Quarters of Second Ahead of Crimson in Boat Race.

THE BEST CONTEST IN YEARS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW LONDON, CONN., June 29.—The Yale 'varsity crew this afternoon wrested victory from Harvard in the annual four-mile race on the Thames by the length of an oar. After rowing for four miles with the shells lapping and the graceful prows zigzagging between strokes the Yale boat crossed the finish line three-quarters of a length ahead of the Crimson. Yale won by two and one-half seconds. The Blues' time was 22:35½; Harvard's was 22:36.

Such a race was never before rowed in the 27 years of racing between these old rivals.

The Elis went to the starting flags confident of an easy victory, but Coach Wray sprung a surprise on Yale and tonight his name is on the lips of every lover of rowing as the coming rival of John Kennedy, the professional coach at New Haven.

Last year's experience of having a varsity race postponed kept many away form New London this afternoon but those who came got their money's worth. There was the customary long line of yachts, both above the draw bridge and at the end of the course, four miles up the river. It was the first time since 1891 that a varsity race has been rowed up stream, and this afternoon the sailing craft practically formed an avenue for four long miles.

The race was scheduled to be rowed at 4:30 o'clock and was started less than 15 minutes later. At 3 o'clock the captains decided to row the race up stream as originally agreed upon, if the conditions would permit. Five minutes before 4 o'clock Referee William Meikleman, ordered out both crews and half an hour later Charles H. Schwepps, the chairman of the regatta committee, had the course cleared. The wind which threatened to kick up the river in the early part of the afternoon had calmed down and was blowing almost across the course, and just quartering on the bows of the shells. It was a hard wind to row against and as the coaches sized up the situation they saw there was no chance for fast time. The tide was running up stream strong but the crews had the disadvantage of the wind.

At 4:40 o'clock Harvard was at her starting flag and three minutes later the Yale shell was in position. Within five minutes Referee Meikleham had given his instructions to the crews, there was a flash of a pistol and the strong arms and broad backs swung back in the shells. The race had begun.

The official time of the races was as follows: 'Varsity four: Half-mile, Harvard, 2:45; Yale, 2:48. One mile—Harvard, 5:30; Yale, 5:35. Mile and a half—Harvard, 8:30; Yale, 8:34. Finish—Harvard, 11:22; Yale, 11:27.

Freshman eights—Half-mile, Harvard, 2:12; Yale, 2:12. One mile, Harvard, 4:52; Yale, 5:00. One mile and a half, Harvard, 7:25; Yale, 7:31. Finish, Harvard, 9:59; Yale, 10:04.

The competing crews were as follows:

Yale 'varsity eight—Stroke, H. L. Whitney; No. 7, J. P. Kineon; No. 6, R. C. Whittier (captain); No. 5, R. R. Chase; No. 4, H. N. Scott; No. 3, R. C. Morse; No. 2, A. C. Ortmayer; bow, K. E. Weeks; coxswain, D. Barkalow.

PITTSBURGHERS IN WRECK OF CLEVELAND "FLYER"

Two Killed and Many Injured—Accident Due to Negligence of the Flagman.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, O., June 29.—A fast eastbound passenger train on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad was derailed and wrecked near Atwater, O., today, causing the death of at least one passenger, and the engineer, while a dozen or more others were more or less injured.

The dead:

C. M. MUNHALL, Cleveland, commercial agent, Cleveland, Akron & Columbus railway.

M. A. BALDWIN, the engineer.

The injured:

DELLA MILLER, colored, 170 Fulton street, Pittsburgh.

MRS. W. K. CRAWFORD, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

C. L. BRIGGS, Akron, O.

EDWIN P. RILEY, 315 Market street, Youngstown, O.

DELLA MOORE, 1804 Ranney avenue, Pittsburgh.

UNKNOWN FOREIGNER, badly hurt.

A. JOHNSON, colored porter, badly hurt.

CHARLES C. SHILLETS, East End, Pittsburgh.

BAGGAGEMASTER C. SHELDON, East End, Pittsburgh.

Among passengers who escaped injury were Harry Gordon, president, and J. E. Sieple, secretary of the Tippecanoe club of Cleveland, together with Dr. Wagner and Herman Wilker, also of Cleveland, who were going to Pittsburgh to take home E. S. Mell, a victim of the Engineers' and Tippecanoe wreck of March 3, near Pittsburgh. All the above were in the wreck of the Engineers' train.

The train is one of the fastest between Cleveland and Pittsburgh, making the run of 140 miles between the two cities in three hours and 15 minutes. When the accident occurred the train was probably running 50 miles an hour. A section gang was making repairs on the track, and it is said had removed a rail. A flagman was sent out, but for some reason he failed to stop the flyer and the wreck followed. The injured were taken to Alliance, O.

OFFER PROPERTY TO COUNTY FOR $350,000

The Third United Presbyterian Church Willing to Give County an Option at This Price.

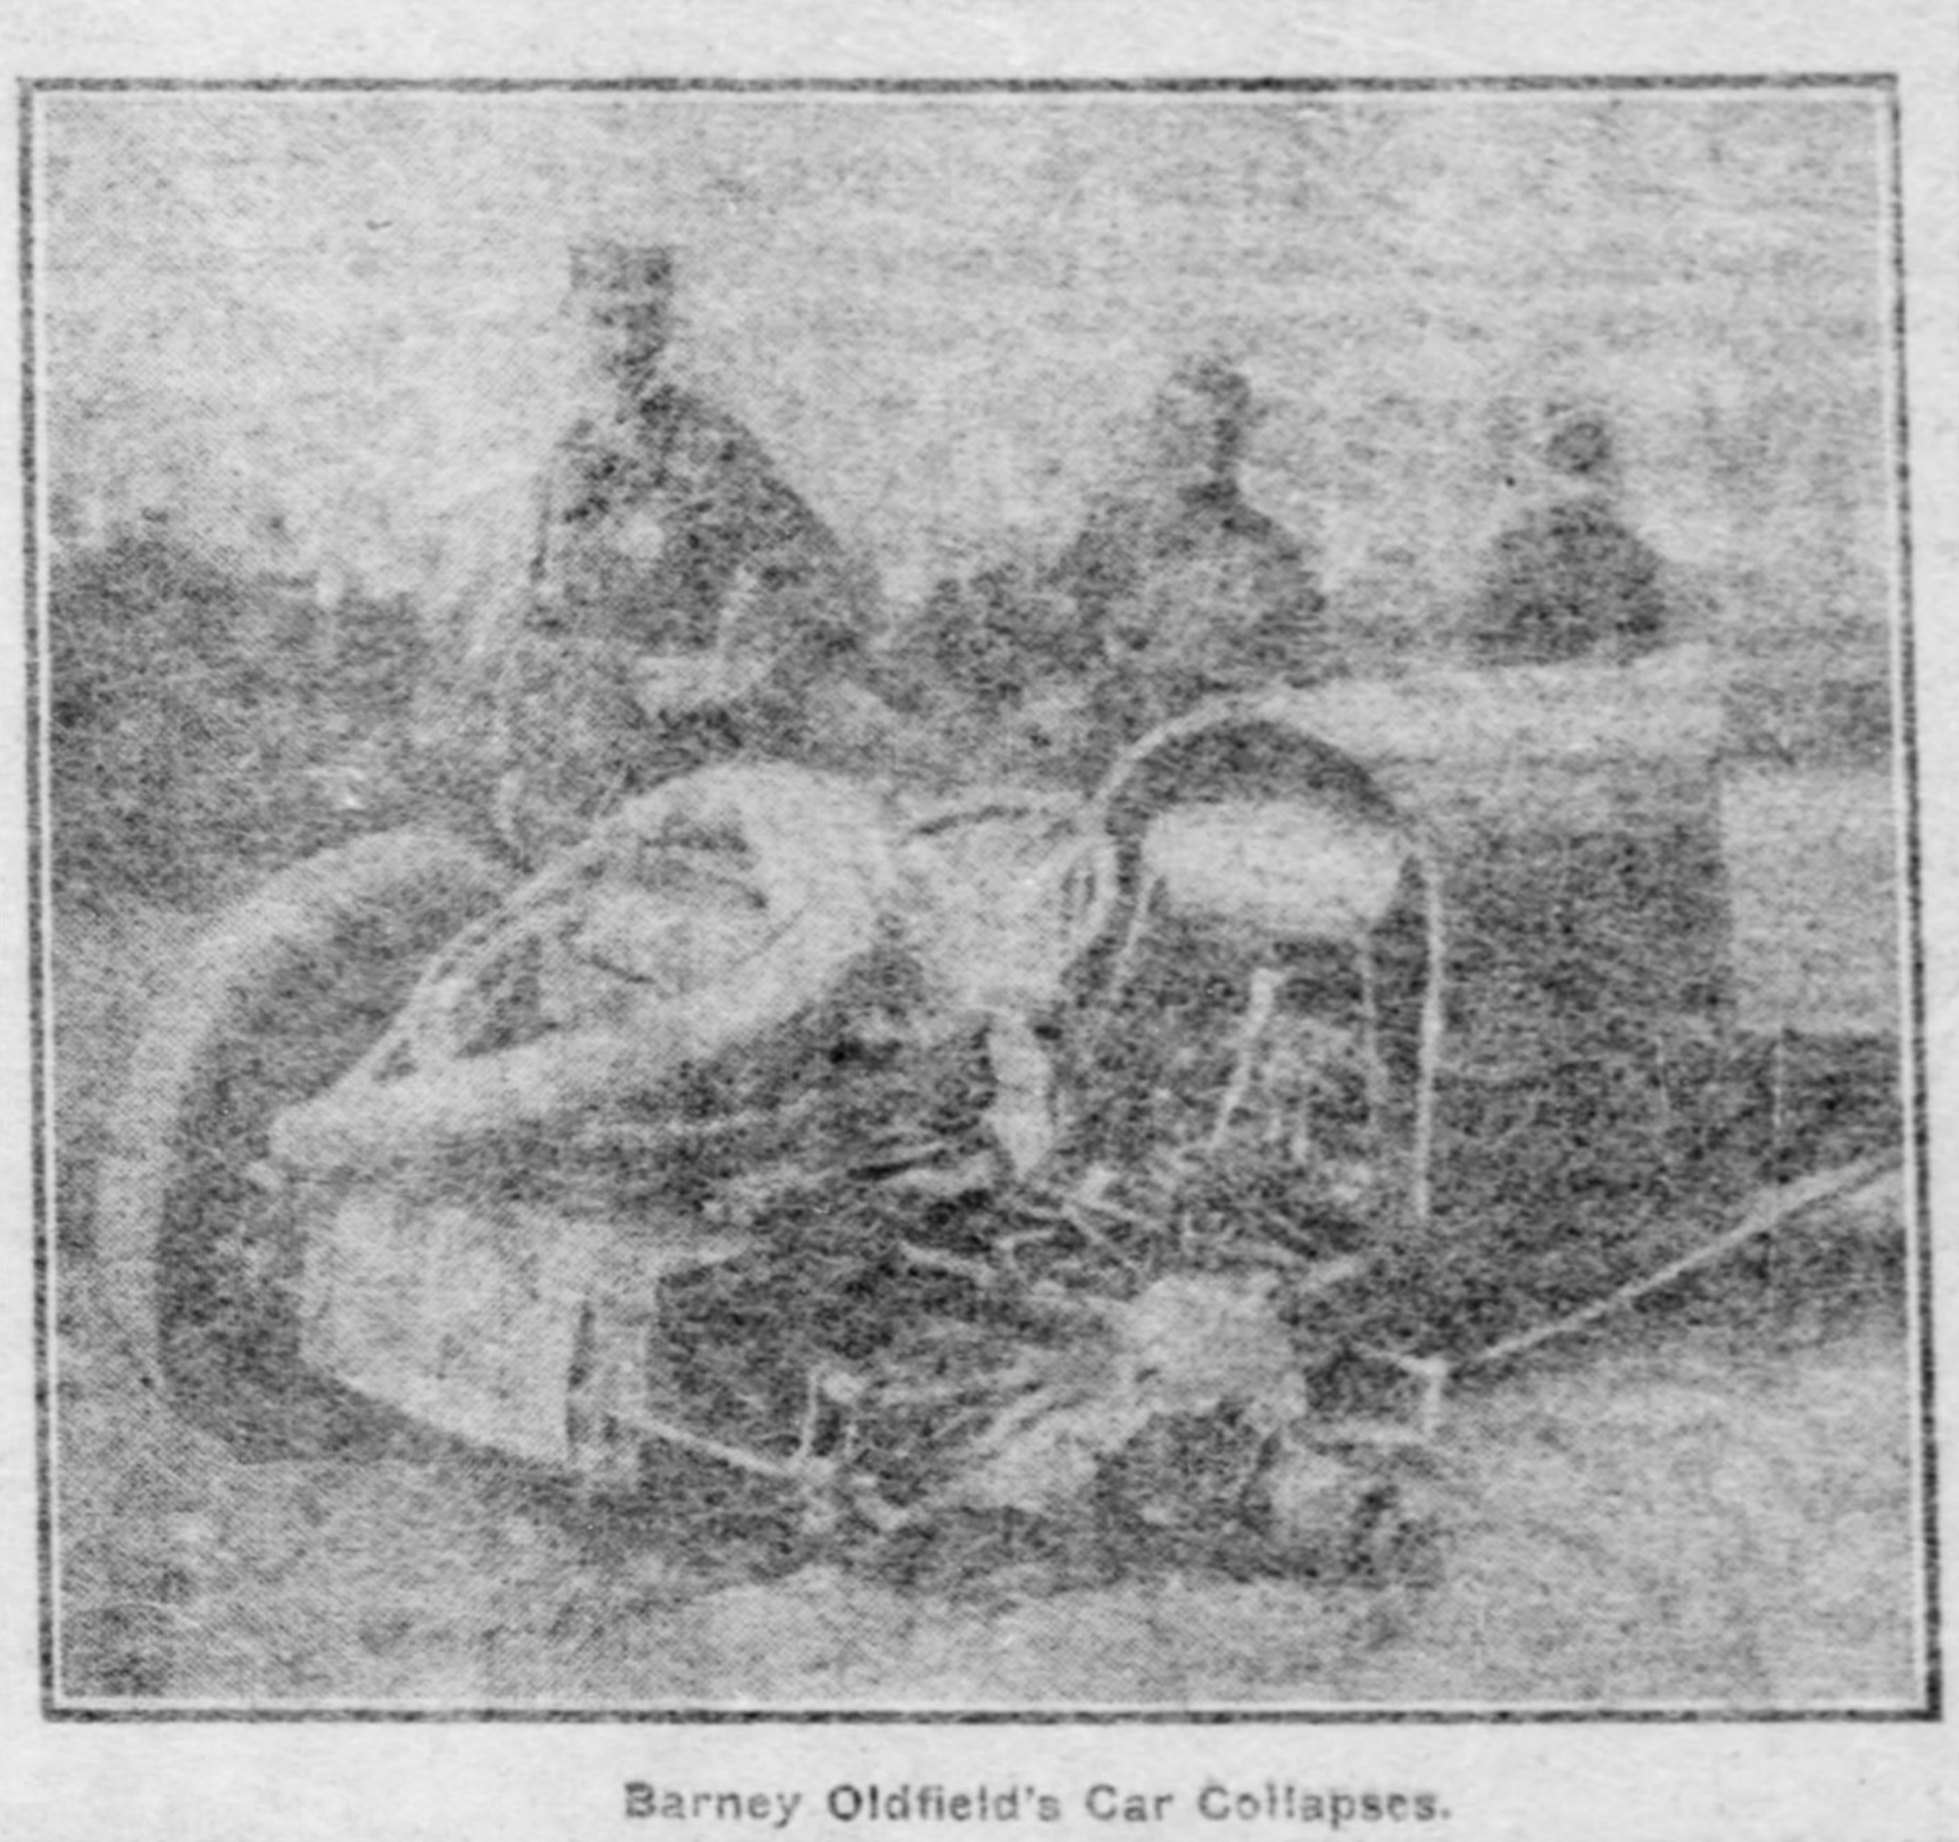
Th county has been offered the Third United Presbyterian church property in Diamond street for $350,000. The option will expire on September 15.

The county has been dickering for the property for some time. The lot has a frontage of about 98 feet in Diamond street and a depth of 115 feet. It lies next to the old university, owned by the county. This plot is 100x115. By putting the two pieces together a good site for the proposed court house annex would be secured. A 16-story building is contemplated.

Over a month ago Commissioner Evans made a verbal offer on the part of the county of $250,000 for the church property. The board of trustees rejected the proposition and made a proposal to sell for $432,000. The commissioners declined to consider the property at that price. The dickering has continued and now the church authorities are willing to sell for $350,000. Commissioner James A. Clark thinks the plot can be purchased for $300,000. This would be over $3,000 a foot front, a price much in advance of any recent sales in that neighborhood. About five years ago the property could have been purchased by the county for $115,000. Mr. Evans has been of the opinion the site could be acquired by condemnation proceedings for about $250,000.

The commissioners have given orders for the installation of a Bell telephone private exchange in the court house. The service will start with four trunk lines. At present the company has 20 direct wires running into the building. The central will be located on the first floor and will have about 50 private exchange lines.

WRECK OF THE GREEN DRAGON



Barney Oldfield's Car Collapses.

OLDFIELD'S CAR GOES DOWN IN WRECK

Thrilling Moment at Big Motor Races When Machine Collapsed.

CLOSE OF SUCCESSFUL MEET

Quite in a blaze of glory closed yesterday the two days' national championship motor meet of the Automobile club at Brunots Island. The big crowd of Wednesday were not satisfied and came back yesterday to see Oldfield, Chevrolet and Kiser fight it out again around the turns and down the stretches. They were on the cards for two events at ten and five miles.

Kiser could not appear with his Winton Bullet, as the crank shaft was broken beyond quick repair. The Green Dragon, after leading, began to miss going into the second of the 10 miles for the national championship, and Oldfield had to ease it a trifle before catching all right again. The recovery came too late to win. In suspected glee he gave Chevrolet a long ride in his dust. The wily Barney allowed the Frenchman to get to his heels before he set sail again and kept him in his wake. Chevrolet's time for the 10 miles, 9:53 2-5, would have been faster had it not been for this dust.

The free for all brought Oldfield and Chevrolet together again at five miles. Barney had secured a good lead and was fairly burning the track up and throwing billows of dust back at his rival, when, rounding the turn into the home stretch of the third mile, he was brought to a dead stop by the smash of his rear right wheel.

So sudden was the collapse that the big crowd in the grand stand was on its feet in an instant gasping for breath. The crowd along the fences rushed through the infield over to the place of the accident. When the cloud of dust and blue smoke which arose from the machine cleared away they saw Barney walking about the wrecked car, and the suspense was broken.

Barney a Great Favorite.

This daredevil has a great hold on the public and is the idol of the meet. Spectators shout themselves hoarse over his triumphs and their hopes and wishes are with him as he enters a contest.

Oldfield escaped unhurt. The mechanic who accompanies him immediately started in Oldfield's big touring car, which he takes with him, to the scene of the accident. Barney got in and drove to the judges' stand and assured the officials that he was not hurt, and then towed the disabled car from the track to the tent of the infield.

The accident was caused by the bursting of the tire on the same wheel that lost its tire yesterday. The wooden wheel rim then struck a deep rut which had been ploughed up by the cars rounding the turn and the spokes gave way. Oldfield did not seem chagrined by the defeats, in both of the events in which he appeared, by his rival Chevrolet, who placed both the national championship and free-for-all to his credit.

The unfortunate happenings which had marred the two big events of the afternoon induced the race committee to plan a special event in which the Fiat and Green Dragon could again appear, if the latter could be repaired in time. It offered a valuable cup trophy, but the Green Dragon was impossible for the day. Maj. Miller was then asked to send his car five miles for a record for a cup. "I will leave it to Chevrolet," said he; "whatever he says is agreeable to me. I would not expect to beat a record, as the flywheel of my car, as you know, is bent, and it cannot do its best." The Frenchman was called to the stand, but he said he would not care to go again unless against Oldfield.

Better Transportation Facilities.

Weather and track were all that could be desired again yesterday. The facilities for getting to the track were slightly improved as three small launches had been added. The matter of transportation to Brunots Island was quite outside the Automobile club, the arrangements being those installed by the Matinee club, which has the track property under lease. There will be some great light harness racing there this summer, but the crowds will be kept away if the means of getting over the river are not improved. It is estimated that nearly 2,000 people were turned back on this account Wednesday.

There were seven events decided yesterday besides a special. The last event on the program, a trial for records, was declared off because the Green Dragon could not go and Chevrolet did not care to. It was a great day for W. N. Murray, the local owner, who captured four of the seven events. He won two with the Franklin and two with a Pope-Toledo. The Fiat won two and the Peerless one.

The first race of the afternoon was at two miles for stock gasoline cars up to 22 h. p. Two 12-h. p. Franklin runabouts went against two 16 h. p. Reo runabouts. One of the Reo cars was in trouble at the half and dropped out of it, and the other at the turn into the stretch for the second mile. It was an easy victory for W. N. Murray's Franklin, driven by W. F. Winchester, with another Franklin, owned by C. K. Hill, second.

Murray Makes Great Showing.

Mr. Murray's Franklin came right back in the next event at ten miles among cars up to 28 horse power and made a grand showing. It led the bunch for six miles when it was passed by Barney Oldfield's Peerless, a 24 h. p. touring car.

The Franklin was then second to the ninth mile when it was passed by R. M. Gulick's 24-horse power Pierce, which was second under the wire in front of the Franklin by but a couple of lengths. D. P. Collins, who drove the Peerless, could have won farther off with his car than he did by 10 lengths.

The third event on the card was the big race of the day, the national championship motor race at 10 miles. Of the five original entries only the Fiat and the Green Dragon went to the post. They started at the half-mile pole and came to the stand for the word. Barney had the pole. When they got away the Frenchman tried to take the pole, but Barney shot away from him and led him a merry clip. Chevrolet made the turns closer to the rail than Oldfield and came up on the inside as they were finishing the first mile, but Barney jockeyed him.

As they started into the second mile Chevrolet rushed into the lead with the pole around the first turn and then it was seen that the Green Dragon's engines were missing. Before Barney could get them all working again the Frenchman was almost a lap ahead. Some one said "that is Barney all over again. He will not try if his rival gets anything like a lead on him. Watch him play one of his tricks on the Frenchman." And he did wait until Chevrolet got around to his heels and kept him in his dust for the rest of the journey. Chevrolet's time was 9:53 2-5 and Oldfield's 10:49 2-5.

Triumph for Myler.

The fourth event furnished a splendid contest between stock gasoline touring cars up to 36 horsepower. It brought together a 28-horsepower Pope-Toledo of the Standard Automobile company and a 28-32-horsepower Pierce, owned by T. McNally, on even terms. A third entry was R. M. Gulick's 24-horsepower Pierce, which was a little outclassed in power. The Pope took the lead and always had the foot of the party, and could come away as its driver pleased. It eventually won by a sixteenth of a mile from its big Pierce rival. Charlie Soules drove the Pope and E. Haus Mr. McNally's Pierce. Mr. Gulick's car did not finish.

A special event at five miles was made to take the place of the obstacle race as the fifth race. The result was a perfect triumph for the handicapper, T. S. Myler, for the three contestants finished noses apart, so to speak. It brought to the post Earl Kiser, driving Oldfield's 24-horsepower Peerless, which was given 20 seconds' handicap; W. N. Murray's Franklin 12 horsepower, with 35 seconds' handicap, and the Standard Automobile Company's 30-horsepower, driven by C. Soules, as the scratch car.

The Franklin led for four miles, but the Peerless began to creep up through the third mile. It was not until the fourth mile that the Pope-Toledo had all its sails spread, and it had the grandstand going by the way it ate up the space between it and the leading cars. There was much enthusiasm when they came into the stretch of the final mile nicely bunched. The Pope was three lengths to the good under the wire and the Franklin the same margin over its bigger rival, the Peerless.

Miller Will Quit Racing.

The sixth event was a three-mile handicap, with six starters. Two 30-horsepower Pope-Toledos were placed at scratch, a Franklin 12-horsepower and Pierce 22-horsepower were given a handicap of 20 seconds, a 24-horsepower Pierce was given 25 seconds and a Franklin 12-horsepower a minute. There was really nothing much to it, as W. N. Murray's little Franklin tow-roped the field and won by 40 lengths, with R. M. Gulick's Pierce second and the Standard Automobile Company's Pope third.

The free-for-all was down as the seventh event, but it was run off before the sixth. The Fiat won the free-for-all, with the other starter, the Green Dragon, breaking its wheel, as already told. Barney took the pole at quarter. Coming to the stand at the end of the first mile Chevrolet tried to come inside, but Barney moved over to the rail and prevented it, and the Frenchman quickly swished to the outside again. Going through the second mile Oldfield seemed to be going away some till the smashing of his wheel occurred.

Oldfield and Kiser left last night for Cleveland. They will both race at Columbus July 3 and 4. Chevrolet also left last night for New York. He will race at Morris Park July 3 and 4 and then go to St. Paul. "I will give up racing after the St. Paul meet," said Major Miller. "I only went into it when E. R. Thomas and W. K. Vanderbilt expected to race, and I intended to drive my own car. They all seem to have gone out of it, and I guess I will stop, too."

GAVE GREAT WELCOME TO PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 29.—The government yacht Sylph, carrying the president and his party, reached Oyster Bay at 10:30 o'clock today. The president landed at the pier of the Seawanhaka Boat club. As the launch came within hailing distance, he stood up and waved his hat in response to the cheers that greeted him from the crowds that lined the shore and the adjacent wharves. The president was informally welcomed by Sheriff Johnson at the head of a few of Oyster Bay's leading citizens.

Claims and Facts About Cleaning and Dyeing

There is a wide difference between claims and facts, just as there is much difference between a good cleaning and dyeing concern and an inferior one.

Not only a claim, but a fact, that we charge 20 to 25 per cent less than others.

REPUBLICANS ARE WELL SATISFIED WITH OHIO

Senator Dick Professes Pleasure With the Democratic Party's Selection.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Senator Dick of Ohio arrived here today to meet Elmer Dover, secretary of the Republican national committee and take up several matters of business and politics. Senator Dick is understood to have told friends, since his arrival, that he is better pleased with the Ohio Democracy for nominating Pattison, against the pretty solid vote of city delegations, than he would have been at the choice of Welty or a man of that moderate stand on the temperance issue. He is also well satisfied that the Democrats held their convention so early, since not one, but both tickets will now have to hang fire through a hot summer to real campaigning time.

There will be much national interest in the Ohio campaign. It is not that the national administration, rock bed solid on its tremendous majority and continuing popular support, will worry lest a Democratic success should see a spell reaction. But the Republican politicians who must look forward as the administration does not have to do, and Democratic leaders would see in an Ohio Democratic victory the corner stone laid for a fighting organization in 1908. And so far there has been no indication anywhere of a majority party rally from the rout of last fall.

It is understood that Ohio Republican strategists see in the Pattison nomination a localization of the hardest fighting in the country districts. They expect the easier task to lie in the cities, always excepting Cleveland.

They will go to the farmers with a tariff campaign, with warnings that the municipal ownership plank in the Democratic platform means Socialism.

STRUGGLE TO SEE GRADUATION OF HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

Fifteen Hundred Relatives and Friends Unable to Gain Admission to the Nixon.

CLEVER ESSAYS BY GRADUATES

Fifteen hundred friends of the graduates of the Pittsburgh High school last night failed to gain entrance to the Nixon theater during the commencement exercises. Half an hour before the curtain was raised every seat from the orchestra pit to the top of the gallery was filled and all the available standing room was taken before 8 o'clock. The doors were closed and the crowd in the lobby battled for admission. Finally Thomas F. Kirk, Jr., manager of the theater, was obliged to urge the crowd to move away. The disappointed throng shouted defiance and Mr. Kirk threatened to take down the fire hose and turn on the water.

The crowd around the gallery and stage entrances were no less persistent. Scores climbed up the fire escapes and girls in white gowns and spotless gloves did not hesitate to try the gymnastic feat of scaling the iron ladders hand over hand to the windows, where they gained entrance to the balcony. Four graduates arrived too late to get seats on the stage and sat behind the scenes weeping bitter tears in their overwhelming disappointment.

Scores of parents who came to the theater to see their sons and daughters graduate and in the hope of hearing their commencement orations were compelled to stand helplessly outside the theater. They remained for an hour and then dispersed. When the crowd thinned out the doors were opened about half an hour before the exercises closed. About 200 people were left and they made a wild rush into the crowded foyer. There were over 3,000 persons in the house. Women sat on the top of the plush divans and jammed the rail along the inclined plane entrance to the balcony. Some literally hung to the chandeliers.

A great crush occurred at the stage door. Seats had been provided and all the graduates were summoned to be on the stage at 8 o'clock. The curtain was rung up and it was not noticed that four young women members of the class were not in their seats. A few minutes after the Rev. Dr. S. A. Martin said the invocation and the girls on the stage were beaming smiles from behind their lace fans, four belated graduates in white rushed frantically through the stage door. They looked for their seats. None were visible.

Severe Blow to Girl Graduates.

They told their troubles to the stage manager, to the electrician, to the fireman, to the back doorman and everyone whom they saw. There was no chance for them to get in now. All the seats on the stage, apparently, were filled.

The girls picked up their bouquets and wandered from wing to wing in the maze of scenery. They laughed at first, but when they saw their fellow-graduates winning applause of a great audience while they were obliged to sit back amid the whitewashed walls and dusty scenery, they wept as if their hearts would break. It was a bitter moment at a period which they had looked forward to as the happiest hour in their lives.

It has been suggested that next year's commencement should be held in Exposition hall. Nearly 5,000 people came down town last night to attend the exercises, and of this number less than half got comfortable seats.

In the academic, normal and commercial departments of the Central High school this year are 243 graduates, of whom three-fourths are young women.

Bright Graduates Read Essays

D. L. Gillespie, president of the central board of education, delivered the address to the class, and Prof. Edward Rynearson, director of the high schools, presented the diplomas and medals. J. Edgar McClelland, the first honor man, delivered an oration on "Civil Service Reform." Margaret W. Kelley, who took the second honors, spoke of the virtues of "Joan of Arc." In the normal department the highest honors were taken by Gwladys Thomas and the second by Frieda A. C. Broecker. Margaret R. Doane won the university scholarship and her thesis, "Things That Count," was delivered with wonderful self-possession, grace and earnestness. The essay showed care and ability in its preparation. Miss Kelly received the Abraham Lippman medal for highest standing during the last two years. Hubert Pringle received the Edna Levy medal for the best essay on "Personal Liberty." Others who took part in the commencement were Edith G. Steffler, Nellie M. Dittmar, Marie E. Belleville, Mary A. Campbell and Jay R. Newman.

Bellevue High School Graduates.

The commencement exercises of the Bellevue High school were held last night in the Bellevue United Presbyterian church. Those who graduated are: Elsie V. Baer, Elias A. Barnes, Howard C. Carpenter, Elsie W. Graham, Mary B. Greene, Jane Harding, Ernestine A. Kayser, Eva B. King, Hugh A. Miller, William E. Millar, Grace B. McCafferty, Mary E. Norris and Armond H. Raiber.

Curry Students Have Outing.

Sunburned, tired and hungry, but with a good time behind them, over 300 students, friends and relatives of Curry's Business college, arrived in the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie station last night at 9:30 o'clock after having, as one member said, "Fine-combed" Cascade park in a search for amusement. The outing was the last of the events which filled commencement week of the college, which began June 23, with class exercises in the college hall.

Presented Pirates of Penzance.

The choir of St. Peter's church presented the Pirates of Penzance, Gilbert and Sullivan's tuneful opera, in the Gayety theater last night. The audience took kindly to the efforts of those who essayed the various roles and the many pretty solos and choruses were received with enthusiasm.

SAME OLD SCALES WILL BE ADOPTED

No Advance in Wages and the Removal of Limit in Sheet and Tin Settlement.

PLANTS WILL NOT BE CLOSED

There will be no advance in the wages of the union employes of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company. The limit on production will be removed. The terms will be settled without difficulty today and the mills will not be forced to stop. The conference set for today with the independents has been postponed.

These statements are based upon the developments at yesterday's conference between the Amalgamated association's representatives and the officials of the American company. While no decision was reached enough headway was made to insure a settlement on the basis outlined above. The order that neither United States Steel nor independent plants should be stopped on the expiration of the scale tonight was telegraphed last evening by the officials of the Amalgamated. The plants will all continue to operate on the old scale and conditions pending the final settlement.

On Wednesday the American company's officials heard the request of the Amalgamated for an advance of 22 per cent on the tin scale and 18 on the sheet scale. They were to give an answer yesterday. Instead they brought a counter proposition and the conference adjourned last evening for the Amalgamated officials to consider the propositions. There will be a conference of the Amalgamated at 9 o'clock this morning, and at 10 o'clock they will meet the representatives of the American company with their answer. The following are the features of the American company's proposition.

The old scales for both sheet steel and tin plate.

Elimination of the limit of output.

Elimination of the clause providing for plants starting at 5 a. m. Monday morning as an earlier start is desired.

Removal of scale for spreading slabs on jobbing mills.

Removal of cluse 5 in the tin scale, which defines the difference between tin plate and sheet steel. This question is of much importance as it practically makes the two branches the same.

Removal of all old clauses pertaining to limits.

There will probably be concessions on both sides in the consideration of these propositions. There is no reason to doubt a speedy and peaceful settlement of the new scales. It is believed that the independents will agree to the new arrangement in its entirety.

GOLF BALL SEVERELY INJURES A PASSENGER

Miss Phoebe Bardsley, an Official of Y. W. C. A., Victim of Peculiar Accident.

As a result of being struck and having one of her eyes severely injured by a golf ball, Miss Phoebe Bardsley, assistant secretary of the Central Young Women's Christian association, Fifth street, near Penn avenue, is confined to her home in Harrison avenue, Bellevue. It was at first feared she would lose the sight of the eye, but the physician attending her now states that her sight is not permanently injured.

Miss Bardsley was returning to her home in Bellevue in an open trolley car on Wednesday afternoon, and while passing the golf links of the Brighton Country club, California avenue, was struck just above the right eye. Her sudden collapse caused a fright among the other passengers and the car was stopped, when it was learned that Miss Bardsley was hurt. No one saw the missile which struck the young woman, but as the car passes close to the return hole on the golf links, it is thought she was struck by a golf ball.

The blow was a glancing one and, after striking Miss Bardsley, the missile flew out of the car and was not recovered. Miss Bardsley's eye-lid was cut and the physician who attended her states that had the ball struck her full force her skull would have been fractured. Miss Bardsley will be confined to her home for some days as the result of the accident.

Friday, June 30, 1905.

THE majority of the 600,000 people of Greater Pittsburg will take a holiday over the Fourth. It is a great thing to get away for a night and a day—if you can't get away for the night, be sure and take the whole of the day.

We dare say you are working out some special plan for the Fourth.

Write down a list of what is needed, come to our store early today or tomorrow, or even Monday, and we haven't the least doubt that everything on the list will be found here.

FOURTH forget-me-nots, or a series of charges for your memory.

Don't forget that it is incumbent upon you as a patriotic American, to fly a flag from your home on the Fourth. Flags of all sizes in silk and wool bunting, and for lower prices than such good flags usually sell for.

Boys will not forget that we sell all requisites for field games.

Men will not forget that we have all the auxiliaries for angling.

Everybody will please remember that we sell Eastman Kodaks.

Don't forget to take along a hammock.

I. & R. Morley's

English White Lisle Underwear, $1.75 a Garment.

This is the kind that we sell for $2.50 to $3.50 a garment, according to size.

The shirts have half sleeves. The sizes are from 34 to 48-inch chest. Drawers have spliced seats, and are reinforced. Sizes run from 28 to 48 waist.

A fine light Summer-weight lisle, and at $1.75 a garment, irrespective of size, is one of the greatest values ever set out to customers of Men's Furnishing Store.

Today We Begin Our Clearance of Men's Clothing.

Ordinarily we would not begin this clearance until the First of July, but that date falling on Saturday of this week, we concluded to give men an opportunity of buying Summer clothes at July Clearance prices a day earlier.

This clearance of men's clothes will keep right along from day to day until the entire Summer stock has been cleaned out. Following are the prices, which represent a very low figure for the class of suits that we carry; indeed, our regular season's prices were really too low for the high grade of garments to which they were attached:

Men's $15.00 Suits will be sold for $10.00
Men's $18.00 Suits will be sold for $12.50
Men's $20.00 Suits will be sold for $14.00
Men's $22.50 Suits will be sold for $16.00
Men's $25.00 Suits will be sold for $17.50

The materials in these suits are the very best that can be produced for the original prices, the styles are the latest, the tailoring is along the rigid lines exacted of our tailors.

We Also Begin Clearing Boys' Clothing Today.

And if parents would like to see their boys clothed neatly, and we might say nattily, this is an opportunity that should not be passed over lightly, for it is doubtful if lower prices will be quoted for first-class clothing for boys any time during the July clearance.

Boys' $6.50, $7.00, $7.50 and $8.00 Russian Blouse Suits, the Cossack style of cut, unlined blouse, the material used being light color homespuns and cheviots—sizes 2½ years and up to 6—choice.......... $4.50

Boys' Double-Breasted Suits and the swagger Norfolk Suits, composed of fancy homespuns and cheviots—sizes 8 to 16 years—formerly selling for $5.00 and $6.00, clearance price.......... $3.75

Boys' Wash Suits, Sailor and Russian styles, all with bloomer trousers—sizes 2½ and up to 10 years—clearance price.......... $1.75

Boys' Reefers, that it would pay parents to buy now and put away for Fall, former prices $5.00 and $6.00—sizes 3 to 10 years—clearance price.......... $2.50

Boys' Fine Madras Blouse Waists, different qualities, that sold for $1.50, $2.00, $2.50; sizes 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 years—Star and King makes—clearance price, each.......... 90c

Today we will have on sale a lot of Boys' Colored Shirtwaists—percale and cheviot—with or without collars—sizes for 6 years and up to 12—three for $1.00, or single waists.......... 35c

The July Cut in Men's Straw Hats a Day in Advance.

Tomorrow we begin the clearance of men's straw hats and the prices to which they have been reduced will be recognized as the alliterative dreadful drop. The first crop of straw hats is now pretty well covered with Pittsburgh's notorious soot, and to get a fresh and stylish straw tile for such prices on the last day of June is, indeed, one of the heretofore unknown propositions.

All Straw Hats that were $2.00, today and tomorrow, each . . 95c
All Straw Hats that were $2.50, today and tomorrow, each . . $1.45
All Straw Hats that were $3.00, today and tomorrow, each . . $2.00
All Straw Hats that were $3.50 and $4.00, today and tomorrow $2.45
All Straw Hats that were $5.00, today and tomorrow, each . . $3.45

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO PARENTS—All straw hats for children, mark the statement, all straw hats, have been divided into two groups and therefore there are two reduced prices to be quoted.

Children's Straw Hats, heretofore selling for 75c, $1.00, $1.50, have been reduced to the remarkable low price of, each.......... 25c

Children's Straw Hats, heretofore selling for $2.50, $3.00 and $4.00, have been reduced to the extreme low price of, each.......... 95c

Friday, June 30, 1905.

An important point was won by the prosecution in the Grant boulevard traction case yesterday, when the court ordered submission of the agreement of transfer. This case is a very important one and is being carefully watched by an interested public because it bears on the system of giving valuable municipal rights for nothing.

It has been learned the losses sustained by the life and accident insurance companies by the death of policyholders in the wreck at Mentor, will be likely to aggregate more than half of the sum paid in damages as they average for such an accident. The prominence and wealth of the victims in the Twentieth Century wreck were considerable above the average.

In the wreck of the Cleveland "flyer," the element of speed was in evidence. The track was in bad condition owing to repairs, unable to stand the strain of fast running. A slow train would probably have passed safely and if not the result of derailment would have been much less serious. High speed is intensely dangerous over any but roadbed in first-class condition.

Lynching by wholesale is the latest from Georgia, with the further variation of the program by including a white man with seven negroes. One colored man escaped death by rare fortune and a ruse which reflect no credit on the mob. There is nothing new to be said about this crime. It is wholly reprehensible and is injurious to the whole south. Failure of the law to punish promptly may explain, in part, these lawless manifestations, but cannot excuse them.

A case of bubonic plague is reported at La Boca, isthmus of Panama, the second within the week. Quarantine of 14 days has been ordered. There is no apprehension that bubonic plague may become epidemic in Panama, but there is naturally grave concern lest necessary quarantine may obstruct commerce and stop progress on the canal. Yellow fever, in that climate, is a problem sufficiently serious to keep administrators awake nights without having an intrusion of bubonic plague to contend with.

Religious organizations in Washington are fortunate in the sympathetic interest taken in their work by Commissioner Macfarland of the District of Columbia. It is said to be through his influence the Salvation Army was recently allowed to pitch its tent on government property opposite the White House grounds. The family of the president is likely to be away from Washington during the hot weather, but less considerate officials might have denied the privilege to which President Roosevelt cordially assented.

Harvard gave the Yale crew some hard work in the eight-oar race yesterday, but the blues won by a narrow margin, and thus were able to add to their succession of victories over the crimson. The fact that the expulsion of Oarsman Daly did not seem to affect the rowing of the Yale crew, shows they made careful provision against an emergency like the loss of a valuable member of the eight at the last moment. Harvard hopes that substitution of a new man might give them the victory proved illusory. Honors were evened to some extent by Harvard winning the four-oar and freshman contests.

Secretary Taft left Washington last night with his party which is to take a trip to the orient in a semi-official capacity. They will sail from San Francisco, July 8, for Manila, and spend about a fortnight in the islands made familiar to Mr. Taft during his term as governor there. The visit to the new possessions will be largely given up to social functions, but on their return the excursionists will spend a longer time in Japan and Honolulu, returning home October 4. With Hay indisposed in New Hampshire, Taft in the orient and Assistant Secretary Loomis on a special mission in Europe, there is quite a shifting of the chief actors in the principal incidents that have engaged the attention of Washington authorities. The "lid" appears to be wholly in the president's charge.

Prof. Hilprecht, the assyriologist and curator of the Babylonian section of the museum connected with the University of Pennsylvania, has been exonerated by the trustees of that college, who have unanimously accepted the report of the committee appointed to investigate the charges that were made against him last spring. As the accusations were made by such eminent students as Dr. John Peters they attracted wide attention and scholars have taken sides in the controversy which involved the authenticity of discoveries which have thrown much light on history. As a result of the charges some of the leading officers of the museum resigned and in spite of the fact that the verdict is acquittal it is said Prof. Hilprecht will retire from his work in Philadelphia.

Just a Square Deal.

Considerable attention was given Republican party affairs by the Leader yesterday. The effort was a combination of abuse of the party organization, an attempt to dictate its conduct and an exhibition of its frenzy of fear that Republican success will follow the reorganization of the party. The abuse of the Leader does not hurt any one; its dictation to the Republican party is preposterous because it is unqualifiedly anti-Republican; its fear is real, because its owners see slipping away from them the private advantages bargained for their support of the notorious grabs of the Citizens ring.

No Leader diatribes will affect or alter the conduct of the Republican party. Republicans are capable of managing their own affairs without outside interference, or assistance. The Leader is outside. It is outside the Republican party and outside the pale of common decency. The Republican party will nominate its candidates by fair and open primaries; evolve its policies through frank expression of popular opinion and attend to its own business in its own responsible way. It will give the square deal to every man. The Republican party will elect its candidates by a fair vote and despite the activity of a pay roll under the lash of as remorseless drivers as ever cracked the political whip.

This year's campaign is going to be between the people, represented by the Republican party on the one side, and on the other side the franchise grabbers, with compensation clauses removed; the hangers on, like the Leader, who are having their private axes ground in return for support of administration vagaries and the politicians who have violated every pledge they have ever given the voters. The frantic efforts of the Leader and other organs to kick up a dust will not obscure the facts. The more frantic they become the more clearly they expose the personal and private benefits they desire to reap at the public expense.

The position of the Leader is too well understood for its misrepresentations to deceive many. Its show of virtue is too shallow to convince even the casual reader. Its readiness to impugn the motives of others is merely intended to cover its own selfish designs. Its advice to the Republican party is not wanted, because it belongs to amalgamation that nominates by curious methods, and which has just produced a ticket of political hacks, leaving out the two county officers of its own previous choice who have given their attention to the public business rather than the political exigencies of the ring, Messrs. Stengel and Evans.

Interesting Developments.

Two items of current news are significant of industrial conditions and prospects in the Pittsburgh district. One is the announcement of a contract between the Pittsburgh Steel Company and the United States Steel Corporation for the delivery of 1,000,000 tons of billets during a period of several years; the other is the beginning of the Midland Steel Company, a Pittsburg enterprise whose works will be in Beaver county.

In the first may be seen the confidence felt in the stability of steel manufacture in the near future. It is the largest single contract ever made. In the other is evidence of the continuing supremacy of this region in iron and steel manufacture, and of the possibility of getting good sites for large mills. The Pittsburgh district is expanding and has room for expansion. Its growth is limited only by its facilities for transportation and the promise of Ohio river improvement increases the territory available for heavy tonnage production.

A Perilous Moment.

Rebellion is the only word that fits the situation at Odessa, and the alarm of the Russian government at St. Petersburg is fully warranted. Its chief fear is lest the flame of revolt shall spread to other sections, Russian Poland being already almost in a state of civil war. With the autocracy and the aristocracy the main question is whether the army will remain true, or follow the example of the navy in the case of the Kniaz Potemkine. An army defection would menace the empire.

Conditions in Russia are unfavorable to the rapid spread of revolution, even if popular sentiment were ripe for it. Dissemination of news under any circumstances is slow; when the censor is active, as at present, it is much slower. There is opportunity to suppress one outbreak before information reaches other disaffected communities. The proclamation of martial law in the Odessa district and the orders to Admiral Kruger give proof of the intention of the czar and his ministers to act quickly and vigorously. Yet it is far from certain they will succeed by such means in smothering the volcano giving so many signs of eruption.

Uncollected Revenues.

In explanation of the failure of Director Bigelow to furnish data for the collection of the linear tax on switches, it was stated yesterday the city solicitor had decided the ordinance illegal. It is in the same class with the larger linear license tax ordinance which was passed for campaign purposes and decided invalid by the courts.

No explanation has been offered for the persistent neglect to collect the claim against the railways company, which was presented to a fraction of the Roenigk committee yesterday by Controller Larkin. This claim is under a contract made by a former director of public works, pertaining to the reconstruction of the Tenth street bridge. It has simply been neglected by the present administration for reasons best known to itself. It is one of many claims thus ignored while realty owners groan under the weight of direct taxation imposed to provide revenue for indifferent government.

These things are worth noting on the eve of another important campaign. They afford an index to the character of the city administration in Pittsburgh as clearly as recent disclosures have characterized the same party administration in Allegheny. They may also afford a clue to the expectations of leaders of that party that they will have the support of favored corporations in lieu of that of the general public.

Murderous Entanglements.

There were three instances in the news of yesterday in which the murder of one or both the victims of illicit relations between the sexes were detailed. The crime of murder is shockingly frequent in connection with previous immoral conduct on the part of the victim and his or her companion. The killing is usually the result of mad and unrestrained jealousy, but the vicious tendency lies deeper and is fed by the manner of life these people lead. That an alleged affection between a man and a woman should produce murderous frenzy is proof that primordial brute instinct is still mighty, despite the civilization of centuries. The frequent murders growing out of these circumstances do not call for psychological comment. They should be the subject, as far as possible, of strong legal surveillance. Men and women who wilfully desert their lawful partners in order to form illicit attachments should, if discovered living such a life, be promptly arrested and punished as criminals.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure when it comes to dealing with crime. It is almost certain two people who so flagrantly and offensively set aside the laws of public decency and deliberately choose a life of open crime and shame are not good citizens and may at any moment become a menace to the peace of a community. There are ample laws on this subject. They should be more generally and rigidly enforced. By checking the evil cause, the greater criminal results will be often prevented.

Mr. Bryan says that the Democratic party should do more thinking. The fact that mention of his name was vociferously cheered in the Ohio convention indicates it is not following his advice.

The terrible ghost of the Slocum excursion disaster goes marching on. A fresh discovery of human bones in the hold of the vessel has been announced.

As if the yellow fever plague and the Russian massacres were not enough it is announced that Bill Devery will break into politics again.

Lynching eight men at one time in Georgia may have a tendency to spoil that state for the retail perpetration of the crime.

The Kentucky woman who has buried eight husbands and who is preparing to marry her ninth, should syndicate her abilities.

If Cupid can stand the pace set for him at the automobile races he is a considerably faster little chap than we took him to be.

At any rate, the Ohio Democratic candidates have ample time in which to get used to the idea of defeat.

The deadly illicit love germ is nearly as destructive to human life and happiness as epidemic cholera.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

'Twas in a breach of promise suit the letters all were read,
And here is what the opening words of her epistle said:
"Dear Mr. Smith," "Dear Friend," "Dear
John," "My Cherished Four-Leaved
Clover,"
"My Ownest Jack," "Dear Friend," "Dear
Sir," then "Sir," and all was over.
—Saturday Evening Post.

That is about the way in which most of the picnic, summer resort, and excursion mashes fizzle out. They are mashes and nothing more as a rule.

Men usually patronize these for the fun they can have and not for the purpose of engaging in anything serious. If a flirtation offers they take it up thankfully, for it promises some amusement if nothing more.

Young women go to these places mainly because the boys are there, for girls will go where the boys are every time. Nor can you blame them, for wasn't woman born to follow man in his comings and goings, and in all his wanderings over the earth?

And because woman is built for this sort of thing she is inclined to take man seriously, to believe in him, and to accept his flirtatious conduct as evidence of affection and of love. She goes to summer resorts for fun and recreation, but all the time hoping that she may meet him there.

Matches are made at summer resorts, no doubt, and there is no doubt that many of them are unmade in the divorce courts. These begin in fun and end in misery. And yet the business has gone on increasing year by year so that now seashore and mountain resorts can hardly accommodate the crowds that rush in on them during the hot months.

Men go to see, and women to be seen, and all to have a good time. Such matters as health and rest are hardly thought of, while the serious business of life is entirely forgotten.

Is it any wonder that unfit matches are made when all seriousness is left out?

If there is one thing more serious than another or that demands more thought and care than another, it is matrimony.

The young man and woman engaged in a flirtation do not see the serious side at first, but they are likely to awaken to a keen sense of it. Maybe only one is seriously affected, which is very bad for that one and not at all pleasant for the other.

And even after they begin to realize that matters are becoming too serious for fun, neither has the courage to speak of it, much less to suggest that they break away, and stay away until they shall have had time to think it over alone.

You can think such things over more calmly and dispassionately when the dear charmer is away, don't you know. But if you haven't the courage to break away you are both liable to go to smash together.

This sort of thing may happen elsewhere than at summer resorts—anywhere in fact. And it does happen oftener than you may imagine.

The records of divorce courts show that it is coming to be the rule to marry in haste to repent at leisure.

Nor is it to be inferred that the fact of there being a divorce court has anything at all to do with these marriages. In almost every case where divorce follows, the parties have thought themselves deeply in love with each other, or at least one has been deeply enamoured of the other.

It often happens that after a love affair has cooled down one of the parties to it is willing to quit, and would quit were it not that the other won't. A man does not like to abandon a woman who is all wrapped up in him and rather than do so he consents to marry her, even though he knows he doesn't love her as he ought.

In some instances these get on very well, at least to all appearances, but in most instances the dissatisfied party looks for satisfaction elsewhere, is not loving and kind at home, is prone to find fault and to scrap and quarrel. It matters little what the faithful partner may do to promote peace and good feeling the other will not, and so it goes on to a separation, and finally to a divorce court.

A little heart break, and a day and night's sensation at the beginning, would have been better, far better.

Some women are possessed of the foolish notion that a man can love whomsoever he will, and if he doesn't return their love it is merely because he won't.

Instead of meeting this error squarely and earnestly men have allowed themselves to be literally dragged into matrimony, even when they believed it would be ruinous.

Nor are such victims always men, for there have been many instances in which women have married men because of their persistent coaxing, and sometimes because of threats to kill themselves.

As a rule it is better to let a man go ahead and kill himself than to marry him, for it usually happens that both live miserably ever after.

Occasionally you hear a woman say in fun that she married the man just to get rid of him, but it sometimes happens that she is speaking more in truth than in jest. And there are men in the same boat, and all are sorry that they did not brace up at the right time and do that which they knew they ought to do.

Sentiment is a good thing in its proper place, but it isn't the whole thing in matrimony.

Possibly some men are driven to marriage through fear of being sued for breach of promise, and some by actual threats of such action. Such cases are quite rare, for if a woman wants a man because she loves him she isn't going to threaten him in this way, although she may bring action should he desert her and treat her badly, thereby injuring her chances of a happy marriage.

Innocent flirtation isn't so bad, but there is no telling when it may become serious, so that at very best it is more or less dangerous, particularly for the young and inexperienced.

Old stagers, and those who really know what is what may indulge in this sort of thing to a limited extent, but even these are sometimes caught in the toils, which often prove to be as terrible as the toils of the devil-fish.

Go on your vacation light-hearted and joyous, have a jolly good time, but beware of flirting, for if you take a flyer you are likely to come home as sad and miserable as you were gay and joyous at your departure.

You can have a good time without getting into trouble if you are careful not to linger too long in one place. The humming bird does not linger around a flower a moment longer than is necessary to sip the honey in sight, and then away to another.

The wise physicians tell us there is danger in a kiss:
That dire distress may reach us through that avenue of bliss.
They say that with the honey men are all so prone to sip
The dreadfulest bacteria may pass from lip to lip.
The osculative greeting that awakens
happy thrills
May bring us months of sickness, and a lot of doctor's bills
But when a fellow gets a chance to kiss a pretty maid
He's apt to say: "Oh, hang the quacks!
Plague take them, who's afraid?"
—Nixon Watterman.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—There is no graft so small in New York but that someone will be found who is willing to pick it up. The latest complaint made to officials of the city is that employes of the free city baths are charging patrons a dime for certain privileges. That this system has been in operation for some time is indicated by the letter President Ahearn today sent to the superintendent of public buildings, in which the borough president called attention to the fact that he had before ordered a thorough investigation of this charge, and nothing had been done. Mr. Ahearn today took the bull by the horns and sent out spotters to see if the culprits could not be apprehended.

Investigation develops the fact that this petty graft has been going on for a year. It is especially productive in the summer, because more people take advantage of the free baths during the hot weather. As there are many thousands of patrons of the public baths daily it is easy to see how the dimes would rapidly grow into dollars and produce a considerable sum for the attendants, who are not satisfied with the weekly wage they draw from the city treasury.

The floating baths are not yet open this summer, as it has been found impossible to secure attendants for them, but President Ahearn hopes to have them in operation within a couple of weeks.

Woman's Weapon Wins Victory.

Mrs. Kate Mifflin reported to the police today that a robber attempted to hold her up shortly before midnight, but she wielded her trusty hat-pin so fiercely that he was compelled to give up the job and flee for his life. The man seized her as she was walking toward her home, but she succeeded in freeing herself and returning the attack. As she left the mark of the hat-pin on the robber, the police hope that he may be thus identified and captured. A general alarm has been sent out for the arrest of the man looking as though he had been fooling with an angry feline which meant business.

Some Wideawake Guests of the Waldorf.

Those guests of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel who have their rooms on the Fifth avenue side of the house were the most wideawake people in the city last night. And they were somewhat peevish about it. Finally, after a few score of them telephoned the hotel office, the police were called and settled things so they could go to alseep. A new department store is to be built at the corner of Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue, and last night was selected as the time to raze the building now located there. It was intended to have the building demolished before dawn, and the job would undoubtedly have been finished on time had not the police interfered.

New Musical Prodigy Is Coming.

"The boy Paderewski" is to be one of the features at a local roof garden in a few days. He was found in Montreal and is one of a family of 14 children, all musically inclined, although neither the father nor mother is likewise afflicted. This youth, although only 10 years old, plays half a dozen different instruments, and was heard in concert at the age of four. As he does not play ragtime we may be able to forgive his manager for turning him out at so early an age.

Just Like Other Men.

His excellency, Kang Yu Wei, who has come over from China to study our civilization with a view to adopting those features which he thinks would benefit his country, is like most of the foreigners who come to America, in that he is so busy looking at our American women that he finds little time for anything else. The prince has been interviewed on the subject, and he agrees with us thoroughly, that the American woman leads the world for beauty and intelligence. Being such a discriminating oriental, Prince Wei is likely to pick up a lot of beneficial knowledge to carry back to his countrymen.

Must Count the Passengers.

Collector Stranahan is not going to take any unnecessary chances on a repetition of the Slocum horror this year. One of the troubles on that ill-fated vessel was that it was carrying more passengers than its permit allowed. All captains of excursion steamers are inclined to wink at this practice, as the more people they crowd on board the more money there is to turn over to the owners. Mr. Stranahan will see that they obey the law hereafter, as he has ordered the steamboat inspectors at this port to be present at the sailing hour and count the passengers. When the vessel's legal quota is taken aboard, no more will be allowed to go on. This may not prevent accidents, but it will make it easier to control the crowds should accidents occur.

She Fears a Politician.

Miss Anna S. Butler rushed into the Tenderloin police station today and asked the sergeant in charge to protect her from a prominent politician, whom she charged with trying to hypnotize her. The police sent word to the young woman's home and her mother called and took her away. She is a school teacher, and her mother says that over-study and the confining work has wrecked the young woman's nerves. A short stay at a sanitarium is likely to relieve her of her hallucination.

Cotton and Law Are Mixed.

Juror Castle, who is helping to try a case in the court of general sessions, continued today to receive reports from the Cotton exchange, permission having been granted him to do so by Judge Foster, yesterday. This is a precedent that is likely to cause all sorts of complications in the future. There are a lot of men called to the jury box who will want reports on the races and the ball games, and can the court deny them this privilege after allowing such an unimportant matter as the price of cotton to come into the box?

"Well, I'm not," was the withering retort.—Kansas City Journal.

CANAL TROUBLES

From the Philadelphia Press.

As to the precise reason for which Mr. Wallace, engineer of the Panama canal, resigned, the American public is not very greatly interested. It wants the canal built. This is the one object. Details of delay interest no one. The delay itself is the serious matter. Side issues are of no consequence. Whether purchases in or out of the tariff line led to the resignation, whether Mr. Wallace was worried by red tape at Washington, or whether he worried his superior, Secretary Taft, by resigning for a better-paid job, no one cares a whit.

Other Pebbles on the Beach.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

There are hints of a scandal in the background with which Mr. Wallace's resignation is connected and an effort is being made to associate it with the question of buying goods for the canal in the cheapest market, but no scandal can long remain in the background while Theodore Roosevelt is president, and the public can safely count upon being informed of all the facts without any avoidable delay. In the meantime, while the services of Mr. Wallace are undoubtedly valuable and the loss of them will be a matter for regret, he is not the only pebble on the beach. There are others, and if not by him, then by some one else the great enterprise at Panama will be pushed to a successful conclusion.

Delaying the Work.

From the Philadelphia Record.

The total number of cubic yards to be excavated is 100,000,000, and at the rate of progress during May over 100 years would be required to complete the work. The cost a cubic yard during May was over one dollar. If the cost of administration had been added and allowance made for deterioration the figure would have been nearer two dollars a cubic yard. In the estimates it is assumed that excavation would not exceed in cost 50 cents a cubic yard. On the basis of the May reports the cost of the canal would be three or four times the amount estimated, or from $750,000,000 to $1,000,000,000, instead of $250,000,000.

Work Fettered Until Fall.

From the New York Times.

Work on the isthmus appears to be fettered until next fall, the water supply and sewerage systems for the sanitation of Panama's cities remain unbuilt, there is fever on the isthmus, and there are unequivocal reports to the effect that Chief Engineer Wallace, baffled of his plan for a permanent sea-level canal to be constructed at a reasonable cost of materials, and in despair of getting workmen into the plague-stricken strip, has sent his resignation to the president.

Delay Not Serious.

From the Baltimore American.

There is satisfaction in the fact that there are engineers—and quite a number of them—of as much skill and ability as Mr. Wallace, and the government, by offering adequate inducements, may obtain their services. The time consumed since the canal was undertaken has not been wasted. An immense amount of preliminary work has been done not directly connected with Mr. Wallace's department, and it is possible that if a thoroughly practical chief engineer is selected the work on the canal proper will be pushed. Some engineers are very great in theory, while others are more successful in practice. The latter would seem to be preferable when the problems have been repeatedly solved. While congress was in somewhat of a hurry in starting the undertaking, there has been no real delay in getting the enterprise on its feet. The hurry has led to confusion in canal counsels, but it has not interfered for a moment with the preliminary work.

What Wallace's Resignation Implies.

From the Baltimore Sun.

What is apparently most deplorable in the resignation of Mr. Wallace is the disorganization which his retirement seems to imply. In fact, there is something more than disorganization—there seems to be friction between the war department, to which the construction of the canal has been intrusted, and the civilian members of the canal commission. Unless these two elements can work in harmony there is fear that the completion of the gigantic project will be delayed. It seems that the war department ought to be in absolute control, and yet, on the other hand, the chief engineer ought to be granted some discretion, for he will be held responsible for any failure of the plans which he has been engaged to prepare and execute.

CONTEST FOR POINTS.

Unique Percentages Established for Merits of After Dinner Oratory.

NEW YORK, June 29.—(Special.)—Persons with original jokes or ideas which can be woven into an after-dinner speech will be suitably rewarded by placing them in the hands of J. Clarence Harvey or G. Paterson Early at the Atlantic Yacht club house at Sea Gate before 6 o'clock tomorrow night. Persons with good, humorous stories reasonably new will be rewarded also in proportion.

This is the result of a controversy of long standing among members of the club as to which of the two men was the most effective and fluent after-dinner speaker. Several wagers have already been laid as to who will win the decision. John L. Golden heads the list with a bet of $1,000 that Mr. Early, who is connected with large steel interests in Pittsburgh, will defeat his opponent. Daniel G. Reid, commodore of the club, has covered this bet with a like sum on Mr. Harvey of this city, who is well known as a member of several clubs. Frederick D. Underwood, president of the Erie Railroad Company, and Barton S. Weeks have been selected as referees.

That they may not be carried away by temporary flights of eloquence by either contestant, Messrs. Weeks and Underwood have determined that the decision shall be based entirely upon the points made by the men, and have classified these as follows:

Originality, .60; humor, .20; logic, .17; pathos, .02; facts, .01.

When this percentage list was posted on the bulletin board in the club house tonight some of Mr. Early's friends were inclined to regard the point that "facts" had been dismissed with one 1 per cent. to be in the nature of a handicap upon their choice as the best speaker in the club, and sought to file a protest for a rerating. The judges declined to entertain this protest, however, declaring that, after all, facts were the least essential factor in an after-dinner speech considered to be the "real thing."

Answers to Correspondents.

Constant Reader, Sewickley—The woodcock season is from October 1 to December 1.

P. L. M., Allegheny—The United States government controls only such area as lies within the harbor lines established by the United States engineers and sanctioned by the secretary of war. The United States engineers and United States harbormaster have charge of local harbor. Individuals may own to low water line if the deed reads thus, but their control is limited by the establishment of harbor lines. Harbor lines have been established only to about Elizabeth, as it is not deemed necessary to extend them unless encroachments threaten from railways or other trespassers.

Advice to Negroes.

Paul Jones, the Topeka negro editor, gives the members of his race some good, wholesome advice. He says: "Every man and woman who makes any pretensions of being cultured and refined should devote one or two hours each day in reading and study of some good book or newspaper. As a race, we have neglected too long the cultivation of those habits which are so essential to a people who desire to live upon a high social plane."—Kansas City Journal.

PICKED UP IN LOBBIES

Making a New Hostelry.

The Hotel Anderson, which has been under the management of the McKinnie family since it was built, 30 years ago, is to be given an entirely new guise, and is to be continued under the McKinnie management for another 10 years. W. M. McKinnie announced last night that he had just signed a lease for ten years. Mr. McKinnie and his brother, F. H. McKinnie, have been proprietors for the past three years, the former having, prior to that time, been proprietor of the Wayne hotel at Ft. Wayne, Ind., for several years. He will now bring his family from Ft. Wayne to live in the Anderson. It will be 29 years from tomorrow when the Anderson was first opened to the public. It was Mr. McKinnie's father, Henry McKinnie, who was the first proprietor. The hotel will be entirely remodeled and redecorated inside at an expense of $75,000. New elevators will be installed and a large number of bathrooms added. The contract has been let to W. H. VanTime, who began work on the reconstruction yesterday. During the remodeling the hotel will be open as usual and patrons will not be put to the least inconvenience or discomfort. F. H. McKinnie retires from the hotel business to devote his time to personal business interests.

Speaker Cannon's Double.

The Hon. Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the national house of representatives, has a double. He is the Rev. H. L. Chapman of Aspinwall. In appearance and dress they are not unlike. And it is but natural that the two should be friends. The Rev. Mr. Chapman, while being often mistaken for Speaker Cannon, says that he knows distinctly of one instance when Mr. Cannon was taken for himself. Last evening the Rev. Mr. Chapman happened to accompany one of the 20 wedding parties that went to the Union station to see the newly wedded start on their honeymoon trips. Twice the minister was mistaken by people for the statesman. When asked if he was Speaker Cannon he replied, with a smile, that he was not, although he would not seriously object to such an honor. Speaker Cannon would also doubtless make as happy a reply if asked whether he was not the Rev. Mr. Chapman.

Silent on Interstate Matters.

Judge John Yeoman of Iowa, who is a member of the interstate commerce commission, was a passenger on the Baltimore & Ohio train to Washington last evening. Mr. Yeoman was not inclined to talk about the doings of the interstate commission in the cases that are under way against the railroads. He said the investigations are being made secretly, and no announcement will be made for several months.

Extending the Wheat Belt.

From the Kansas City Journal.

Some idea of the tremendous development of the wheat belt of Kansas can be gathered by a comparison of the records of last year with 1894. For instance, Reno county produced 336,000 bushels of winter wheat in 1894, last year it produced 3,500,000. The yield of Rice county has risen in the same period from 306,000 to 2,240,000; of Stafford from 306,000 to 2,750,000; of Barton from 418,000 to 3,415,000; of Pawnee from 169,000 to 1,627,000; of Edwards from 4,000 to 1,301,000; of Ford from 21,[illegible] to 262,000.

Safety on Fast Trains.

From the Chicago Record-Herald.

As a matter of fact, the fast trains are as safe as the slower trains on the great lines. The speed now attainable, whether sustained or interrupted, implies first-rate equipment, and the best possible conditions as to roadbed, grades, curves, rails, ties, etc. It is these conditions that render possible the ordinary rate of speed now deemed essential and the mere saving of two or three hours in the time required to cover the distance between Chicago and New York cannot in the slightest degree diminish the safety the public expects and the railroads guarantee.

Japanese Emigration.

From the New York Sun.

For the next generation Japan will be improving, expanding, building. Her contractors and her promoters will need laborers, mechanics, farmers and settlers. They will prefer, of course, their own people, by virtue of both principle and merit. That is just why Japan fought this war—to find an outlet for her surplus population, a tiny fraction of which is sifting through San Francisco, causing the demagogue to roar.

The Yield of Gold.

From the Providence Journal.

The latest reports of the gold output in the Rand warrant expectation that the aggregate for the current calendar year will exceed $100,000,000, as compared with about $80,000,000 in 1904. The April yield is put at $8,610,000, the largest for any month since September, 1899, just before the beginning of the Boer war. Indeed it is not very far below the maximum monthly output, which was that for August, 1899—$9,653,000.

"Yes," replied Tommy, "but I tickerlary noticed it was your brother, not sister."—Boston Christian Register.

JUNE.

The birds are singing in the trees—
Why shouldn't they? They take

They loaf about the woods all day,
And haven't any rent to pay.

The flowers bloom and gaily bow—
Why shouldn't they? Who'd make a row
If down below he had a root
Preparing food and drink to suit?

The trees are rustling all their leaves—
Why shouldn't they? Who is there

When neatly dressed from top to toe
And not a cent to pay or owe?

The fishes dart about the sea—
Why shouldn't they? It seems to me
That men enjoy mere rambling, too,
Provided there's no work to do.

The little lambs do skip and play—
Why shouldn't they? What's in the

RULE MAKERS WORK IN HARMONY

Committees Will Pass on the Revised Magee Amendments at a Meeting Today.

APPROVE CLARION SYSTEM

The sub-committee having in charge the revision of the Republican rules for the government of the party in the county and the three cities, has finished its work. With a few changes, the Magee draft has been approved.

This afternoon the rules committee of the county committee will meet with the sub-committee of the joint rules committee. In case the representatives of the county organization indorse the amendments, the indorsement of the joint rules body will follow. In the conference today will be 10 of the 17 members of the joint committee. Should the two bodies fail to agree this afternoon, there will be two reports sent to the meeting of the county committee on July 15. Harmonious action is expected, however, and the new rules will doubtless be ready for the printer on Monday.

The sub-committee and County Chairman T. J. Ford have been meeting together. There has been complete harmony and it is not probable the other members of the joint rules committee will disapprove their work. It was decided to change the method of making contests. Under the Magee draft, contests were disposed of by a committee made up of members of the county committee. It is now the intention to leave the determination of all contests to the returning board. This board is composed of the executive officers of the county committee and one person designated by each candidate for office. The decision will be final.

The sub-committee gave a great deal of consideration to this amendment offered by Mr. Magee and finally adopted it:

> The vote received by the highest presidential elector in each district at the last preceding election for president, shall be apportioned among the candidates in the ratio of the votes received by them respectively at such primary election, and the one receiving the highest total vote so calculated shall be the successful candidate.

Mr. Magee says the rules recommended by the joint committee are being drawn with the understanding they are to be put in force in Pittsburgh, Allegheny, McKeesport and the country districts. Their adoption by the county committee on July 15 will make them operative in the entire county for the September primaries. The question of their adoption for use in the city primaries will come later. Mr. Magee says Chairman M. G. Leslie of the Pittsburgh committee is going to Colorado next week to be gone for a month or more, but expects a meeting of the city committee to act on the new rules not later than September.

FRICK ACCEDES PARTLY TO BIGELOW'S THEORIES

Makes Concession in Regard to Hump Removal—Agrees to Cut of 15, Instead of 18 Feet.

H. C. Frick has partly met Director Bigelow's idea of the depth of the cut which should accompany the Fifth avenue hump removal, and it looks now as if the director will not insist on his original proposition that the depth of the cut at Wylie and Fifth avenue shall be 18 feet and a little more. Mr. Bigelow said he had a pleasant interview with Mr. Frick and at that interview Mr. Frick made the concession.

The city engineers were at work yesterday figuring out the changes they would have to make in the present plans, should Mr. Frick's ideas be accepted. They did not get through the work, but they could make a fairly correct estimate of the depth of the cut that will have to be made.

When Mr. Bigelow discussed the matter with some of his friends some years ago, several of them advised him that he ought not to ask for a cut of more than 15 feet at Wylie and Fifth avenues. He went ahead, however, and insisted on an 18-foot cut, until Mr. Frick objected. It is figured unofficially that if the hump is cut down according to Mr. Frick's latest concession, the cut at the highest point will be 14 feet. To carry that out the grading will have to begin at Smithfield street.

Mr. Frick has steadily given way after his first objections to the 18-foot cut. First he would agree to no more than a six-foot cut, later he consented to a 12-foot, which would have confined the beginning of the grading to a point at Fifth avenue and Cherry alley. His latest concession will permit to the grading to begin at Smithfield street.

The city finance committee will meet at 2 p. m. today. Mr. Bigelow has sent out 100 invitations to property owners in the hump district, asking them to be present at the meeting. Mr. Frick said yesterday he would attend, if it were possible for him to do so.

RUNAWAY HURTS THREE.

Buggy Collides With Telegraph Pole in West End and Occupants Are Thrown Out.

While driving to Pittsburgh from Bridgeville, three young men were severely injured in a runaway in the West End, by the buggy colliding with a telegraph pole. The injured are: Jenks Ziegler, aged 23, severe internal injuries; Patrick Walsh, aged 21, hip dislocated and hurt internally; J. M. Gallagher, aged 20, nose broken and badly bruised.

The men hired a rig from Amos Fryor, a Bridgeville liveryman, and started to drive to the city yesterday morning. On reaching Warden street, about 11:45 a. m., the horse frightened at a stone crusher being operated in the street and bolted. After running a short distance the buggy hit a telegraph pole and the men were thrown out. The buggy was wrecked and the horse ran to Main street, where it was captured by S. H. Gibson.

The injured men were taken into the home of George Washington, 25 Warden street, and Dr. A. J. Neeley called to attend them. The crowd about the house was so large the doctor was unable to reach the men and he notified the police at No. 8 police station. The men were taken to the South Side hospital in a patrol wagon.

TRACTION CAR RUNS AWAY.

Two Women Are Severely Hurt in Sensational Jump of Trolley in North Braddock.

Two women were painfully hurt in a sensational runaway on the East Pittsburgh and Wilkinsburg division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company at 12:05 p. m. yesterday. Car 1972, while descending Center street, North Braddock, jumped the track, crossed Corey avenue and plunged into the premises of Dr. Benjamin M. Bartilson. The injured are: Mrs. Rosa Black, aged 32, of Wallace avenue, Wilkinsburg, lips cut and teeth loosened; Mrs. Annetta Geiss, aged 41, of Larimer avenue, Turtle Creek, two scalp wounds and mouth and cheek torn.

When the car ran into Dr. Bartilson's yard it knocked down a poplar tree and stopped near the house. The tree fell against the house and smashed a window. The motorman and a male passenger were bruised.

The German Force Ambushed.

CAPE TOWN, CAPE COLONY, June 29.—A telegram from Stainkopf, German Southwest Africa, says Petrus Christian, the insurgent leader, recently ambushed the German force commanded by Maj. SOMETHING NEW! "WORD HUNT"

$50.00 IN PRIZES

For Four Words Selected From

NEXT SUNDAY'S GAZETTE

Rules and Conditions of the "Word Hunt."

The hunt consists of selecting four words from the advertisements appearing in next Sunday's issue of The Pittsburgh Gazette.

In selecting such words you are privileged to use each letter of the alphabet four times, but not more.

Each letter of the alphabet has a value in points, according to its location in the alphabet. For example, A is one point; B, two points; C, three points, etc. This would make the letter Z count twenty-six points.

The persons selecting the four words aggregating the greatest number of points (on the basis described above) will receive the prizes. We give below examples to demonstrate the difference in value of words. Take the word "Furniture."

6—21—18—14—9—20—21—18—5
F—U—R—N—I—T—U—R—E

It contains nine letters and represents 132 points, whereas you take the word "Handkerchief."

8—1—14—4—11—5—18—3—8—9—5—6
H—A—N—D—K—E—R—C—H—I—E—F

It contains twelve letters, which only represent 92 points.

Answers must give the words selected, explain from what ad they were taken and where the ad is located in the paper. This is necessary to properly check the answers. After each word must be given the number of points it represents; at the bottom of the sheet the total of the points represented in the four words. Sign your name and address plainly.

Answers will be numbered as they reach the desk of the Manager of the Hunt and should a tie occur the one first received will be declared the prize winner.

Every person is eligible to enter the Hunt except employes of The Pittsburgh Gazette and members of their families.

All answers must be sent in on the blank form provided in The Sunday Gazette.

No contestant will be awarded more than one prize.

FREDERICK BUECHLER DIES IN ALLEGHENY CITY

Veteran of the War of the Rebellion and Prominent North Side Hotelkeeper.

Frederick Beuchler, one of the most popular and well-known hotel men in this section, died at 10:10 o'clock last night at his home, 611 West Diamond street, Allegheny, of a complication of diseases. He had been ill for several weeks. Yesterday he rapidly became worse. Mr. Beuchler was born in Allegheny April 9, 1844. He was a son of Peter Beuchler, a resident of Allegheny until 1847, when he moved to Rochester, Pa., with his family and there engaged in the hotel business. "Fred" Beuchler, as he was known by all his friends, was a soldier in the war of the rebellion, enlisting in Company F, Tenth Pennsylvania Reserves, when he was only 17 years old. He served until the close of the war, and participated in about 35 battles, being wounded several times. He was a member of James M. Lysle post No. 128, Allegheny, and of Lorena lodge, Knights of Pythias. Returning from the army, Mr. Beuchler engaged for a time in Rochester in the teaming business, and then went into the hotel business there with his father. In 1866 he married Miss Amanda Harsha, a daughter of Dr. Andrew Harsha of Rochester. To them were born four children, three sons and one daughter—Charles H. and William H., both of Allegheny; Mrs. Mollie A. Saylor of New York city and Frederick K., who was killed in a street car accident at West Ohio and West Diamond streets, Allegheny, in 1892. In 1874 Mr. Beuchler came to Allegheny and engaged in the hotel business at 60 West Diamond street, now the Hotel Donaldson. About 17 years ago he purchased the property at 611 West Diamond street, which, in 1851, was used by Col. James Anderson for his free library, and turned into a hotel, which he has since occupied. His wife survives him.

SHIP CANAL PROJECT IS HEARTILY INDORSED

Youngstown Chamber of Commerce at Its First Banquet Resolves to Encourage the Scheme.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 29.—Business men and manufacturers united in making the first banquet of the chamber of commerce a success. Its main feature was the presentation of the ship canal proposition, which was heartily received. That the prosperity of the Mahoning valley was only to be secured by the building of the ship canal between the Ohio river and Lake Erie was the contention made by John E. Shaw, and he presented facts and reasons why it should be built.

A district which has a tonnage so enormously great that it can exceed that of London, New York, Antwerp, Hamburg and Liverpool combined could hardly be expected to do anything else than indorse a ship canal proposition, Mr. Shaw said. This the chamber did by a unanimous vote, and passed resolutions declaring Youngstown would exert its utmost efforts to see that the proper means were exerted to help along the proposition. Prominent men announced they would subscribe liberally to the stock of the canal company.

Hon. R. W. Taylor, judge of the United States district court, spoke on what the corporations have done for the Mahoning valley. He also advocated the canal proposition. Other speakers were Col. J. J. Sullivan, of Cleveland, president of the National Association of Chambers of Commerce, and Thomas H. Watson of Cleveland, a former resident of this city.

ANOTHER CURE BY CUTICURA

"For two years my neck was covered with sores, the humor spreading to my hair, which fell out, leaving an unsightly bald spot, and the soreness, inflammation, and merciless itching made me wild. Friends advised Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after a few applications the torment subsided, to my great joy. The sores soon disappeared, and my hair grew again, as thick and healthy as ever. I shall always recommend Cuticura. (signed) H. J. Spalding, 104 W. 104th St., New York City."

BEAVER CITIZENS NAME DEFEATED CANDIDATE

R. S. Holt, Who Lost the Nomination for Judge, Bolts and Joins With the New Organization.

BEAVER, PA., June 29.—The Citizens party of Beaver county was born here today with R. S. Holt, the defeated candidate for judge at the Republican primaries, at the head of the ticket. The platform indorses fusion with the Democrats, divorce from the use of liquor and the assessment of liquor dealers for political purposes, repudiates the last Republican primaries as having been illegal and favors a union ballot law.

The Citizens held their convention in the court house. It was attended by almost 100 delegates sent by petitions from the various voting precincts. A. C. Townsend of New Brighton presided. George A. Baldwin of Rochester nominated 'Squire J. A. Irons of Monaca for temporary chairman and W. T. Dunn and M. T. Watson of Ambridge for secretaries. They were elected by acclamation.

W. B. Cuthbertson of New Brighton moved that a committee of seven be appointed by the chair to confer with a similar committee from the Democrats regarding fusion. The motion passed with provision that the committee could name the candidates other than judge. The committee was appointed as follows: A. C. Townsend of New Brighton, R. F. Wintergill, Beaver Falls; C. G. Carr, Ambridge; R. W. Darragh, Beaver; D. D. Fleming, Rochester; George M. Pierce, Beaver Falls, and E. S. Shade, Moon township; Attorney J. Frank Reed, Beaver.

The following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That this convention hereby requests Richard S. Holt, Esq., to accept a nomination for president judge on an independent or fusion ticket and that we hereby pledge him our support and that a committee of three be appointed to wait upon him forthwith for the purpose of making him acquainted with this action and if possible to secure his presence in this convention.

Mr. Holt was brought into the convention and was at once given the floor. Mr. Holt pledged himself to accept no railway passes and promised to give every man a square deal.

FREIGHT TRAINS CRASH AND ENGINEER KILLED

Operator's Error Causes Fatal Collision on Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Road.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., June 29.—One man was killed and three others were seriously injured in a head-on freight wreck two miles below Echo, on the Baltimore, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad early this morning. The dead:

ROBERT F. MICHAELS of Dubois.

The Injured:

HARRY VIALL, engineer; scalded.

JOHN BARRY, fireman, of Punxsutawney; crushed.

J. E. ROVE, fireman, of Dubois; crushed.

Engineer Michaels was taken from the wreck alive and brought to the Adrian hospital here, where he died a short time afterward. Viall and Barry, who are also in the hospital here, will recover. It is said the collision was the result of the operator at Echo having neglected to hold the southbound freight at that place.

The accident, which demolished two engines and five freight cars, occurred in a dense fog, allowing no time for the crews to jump. Passengers on other trains were transferred and all trains, including a Baltimore & Ohio inspection train, were blockaded several hours.

Engineer Michaels, of the northbound freight, was found under a section of one of the wrecked freight cars, and was extricated with great difficulty. Fireman Rove, who was on the engine with him, was pushed through the cab window into Mahoning creek and was not badly injured.

Foreigner Arrested at Greensburg Had a Hundred Pounds of It in His Trunk.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 29.—(Special.)—Pennsylvania railroad detectives at the local passenger station this afternoon found packed loosely in a trunk sufficient dynamite to blow up the entire town.

The trunk was the property of John Bonacheca and had been carried from Redstone Junction on the Southwest Pennsylvania railroad, along with a number of others. The suspicion of the baggage men was directed to the trunk and it was opened. The railroad detectives found over 100 pounds of dynamite and several boxes of caps.

Bonacheca was arrested and jailed pending a hearing. He stated that he was on his way to work in the mines near Cresson and being unable to sell the dynamite at a good figure had determined to carry it along with him.

WASHINGTON COUNTY DEMOCRATS QUARREL

Have Two Candidates for Judge to Oppose Republican Nominee and the Fight Grows.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., June 29.—Following a meeting of the joint Democratic-Citizens fusion committee here yesterday a big fight has been stirred up in the ranks of the new organization which is endeavoring to wrest the power from Congressman Acheson in Washington county.

The fusionists repudiated Attorney J. M. Patterson, regularly nominated by the Democratic convention, and selected as their nominee to oppose Judge J. F. Taylor, the Republican candidate Boyd Crumrine, an attorney of the local bar. This was done with the expectation that Patterson would withdraw and leave Crumrine a clear field with which to fight the Republican organization. This Patterson has refused to do. He gave out publicly today that he would be in the fight until election and his friends in the Democratic ranks have declared against fusion movement and for the straight Democratic ticket.

NATIONAL GAMES TODAY.

St. Louis at Exposition park.
New York at Brooklyn.
Boston at Philadelphia.

The Pittsburgh team arrived from St. Louis yesterday afternoon well pleased with its record of four consecutive victories. The Cardinals will clash with the Pirates at Exposition park today. Manager Burke's plans when the Pirates left St. Louis Wednesday night were to bring Pitchers Brown, McFarland and Nichols with him, and it is not likely that he will make any change in this arrangement unless Nichols decides that he is not able to work. There is nothing the matter with the veteran's pitching arm, but in practice the other day he received a hard rap on the end of the index finger of his left hand, and with a thick bandage around the injured member he was afraid he could not field his position properly.

Manager Clarke was in a happy mood last night. He said: "I made two discoveries at St. Louis that pleased me almost as much as winning the games did. I knew that McBride could play short in grand style, but did not have as much confidence in him at third, because I looked upon it as a strange position for him, but he proved to me that he can fill the bill nicely now, and knowing his disposition, I think it is safe to say that he will be getting better for years to come. We all know what Tommy Leach can do in the infield, and the way he nails foul flies convinced me that he could do good work in the outer garden, but he exceeded my expectations Wednesday. His throw to the plate and two returns of ground balls were neat and timely plays."

In Clarke's mail at the office of the Pittsburgh team last night was a marked paper from Dennison containing a criticism upon John Wagner for not showing himself on the rear platform of the Pirates' special car last Saturday night when the team was en route to St. Louis. The writer intimated that the star was too proud to recognize his old friends, no less than 100 of whom turned out to greet him. Clarke laughed at the complaint. Said he: "It is bashfulness, not pride, that keeps Hans under cover when we pass through Dennison. The big fellow is one of the most modest men playing ball. He always peeps out the window and points out his friends to us, but you could not get him to go out on the platform."

If Catcher Gibson arrives from Montreal in time Clarke may give him a trial against St. Louis Saturday, but as Carisch and Peitz are both in good form, the team will not be weakened if he does not report in time for the game.

The Pirates report that St. Louis has discovered a genuine second baseman in Arndt. They say that the new man is as good a hitter as he is a fielder, and they are surprised that Cincinnati allowed him to escape.

Philadelphia 3-2—Boston 2-1.

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—Philadelphia took two games from Boston today, the visitors being outplayed in both contests. Willis and Sutthoff pitched good ball in the second game. Attendance 6,350. Scores:

Massillon won from McKeesport yesterday 4 to 3, in a pitchers' battle with Robinson on the right end. Until the eighth he was effective and allowed but two hits. With two out and two on the bases in the first Crum misjudged Castle's fly and it went for two bases, Dombroski and White scoring. The visitors made two more in the eighth again with two down on singles by Robinson and Burke and Gove's double. McKeesport got one in the seventh on Schmidt's walk, Bennett's sacrifice and Crum's single. In the ninth McKeesport came within an ace of nosing out the game. Schmidt was safe on an error and Bennett sacrificed. Crum followed with a double scoring Schmidt and Piper also doubled, scoring Crum. Score:

AN EXCITING SCENE ON DAWSON RACE TRACK

Crowd Thought Horse and Driver Had Been Killed—Races Were Close and Well Contested.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, June 29.—There was a scene of wild excitement on the race track at Dawson today. It was the third day of the Pittsburgh, Ohio and Monongahela Valley circuit meet and 5,000 people were out to watch the sport.

During the first heat of the third event, a 2:20 trot, the crowd rushed onto the track expecting to pick up Winona J. Brown, owned by W. H. Nicholson of Johnstown, and her driver, Hedrick, dead. The horse had choked and dropped through the inside fence, taking driver and wheels with her. Both recovered.

In the second race, a 2:17 class pace, the time was exceptionally good and the finishes close. There were seven heats before the contest was decided. The best time of the day, 2:16¼, was made in the second and third heats.

In the first race, a 2:19 trot, Arthur Czar, the winner, was pushed closely in every heat by Belle Sligo, from the A. C. Overholt Scottdale stables. Results:

Artha Czar, b.m., F. Jamison, Indiana, Pa. 1 1 1
Belle Sligo, b.m., A. C. Overholt, Scottdale, Pa. 2 2 2
Mattagorda Chief, b.g., A. D. Parr, Clarksburg, W. Va. 4 3 3
Clay Cecil, b.h., H. N. Reaves, Macon, Ga. 3 4
Time—2:22½, 2:21¼, 2:21½.

The second event, a 2:17 pace, was full of excitement. Black Bird was the general favorite at the start, and he kept in favor until the sixth heat, when he showed signs of being tired. Electric Storm then forged to the front as a general favorite, and caused the loss of thousands of dollars to those who had stuck to Black Bird. A peculiarity of this event was the fact that every horse which did not drop out after the fourth heat, in accordance with the rules of the local track, won one heat. Results:

Electric Storm, b.g., W. H. Nicholson, Johnstown, Pa. 6 6 1 3 3 1 1
Black Bird, br.g., Eddie Haywood, Chicago, Ill. 4 1 2 1 2 2 2
Minnie Thompson, b.m., A. J. Jamison, Roanoke, Va. 3 2 6 2 1 4 3
McEurie, b.g., Dave G. McDonald, Pittsburgh, Pa. 1 4 4 6 4 2 4
Belle Dawson, s.m., H. T. Cochran, Dawson, Pa. 2 3 3 5
Maxie Blaess, ch.m., B. L. Stringer, Atlanta, Ga. 5 5 5 4
Time—2:17¼, 2:16¼, 2:16¼, 2:19½, 2:19¼, 2:16¾, 2:18.

Kate Sligo, one of the Overholt flyers, won the third race with ease and also much money for her numerous admirers. Results:

Kate Sligo, b.m., A. C. Overholt, Scottdale, Pa. 1 1 1
Welton Boy, ch.g., Charles Atkinson, Norfolk, Va. 2 2 5
Alladin, ch.g., F. Jamison, Indiana, Pa. 3 3 2
Mack H, b.g., W. H. Hellen, Uniontown, Pa. 4 6 3
Cogency, c.g., A. D. Parr, Clarksburg, W. Va. 5 4 4
Miss Ida, b.m., Col. Thomas B. Davis, Keyser, W. Va. 6 5 6
Time—2:29¼, 2:24¼, 2:26¼.

DUQUESNE SILVER TOP

The Aristocrat of the Bottled Beers

IS GOOD

THE NEW BREW OF

The Independent Brewing Company of Pittsburgh

EXCELSIOR

(With apologies to Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.)

The shades of night were falling fast,
As through a busy cafe pass'd
A man, who bore, from year to year,
A taste for a Superior Beer—
"Duquesne Silver Top."

His brow was smooth, his lips beneath
Flash'd forth a smile from pearly teeth,
And like a happy mortal asked
The Finest Beer to him be passed—
"Duquesne Silver Top."

On attractive bottles he saw the name
Of a new household word just rose to fame;
About, it seemed to be the thing,
And from his lips escaped "It's King,"
"Duquesne Silver Top."

"Try not some other," the waiter said;
"Will not another beer do instead?"
The dark blue eyes grew deep and wide,
And low that smiling voice replied:
"Duquesne Silver Top."

When in Atlantic City get it at the Academy Buffet, New York avenue, near Boardwalk.

BAR ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS

Judge Robert S. Frazer of Allegheny Is Chosen First Vice President.

OTHER LOCAL MEN HONORED

Special Telegram From
J. J. NORDMAN, Staff Correspondent.

BEDFORD, PA., June 29.—Allegheny county practitioners were honored this afternoon during the election of officers for the ensuing year of the Pennsylvania Bar association. Judge Robert S. Frazer was elected first vice president; Thomas S. Brown and Joseph M. Swearingen, members of the executive committee, while Mr. Swearingen was also named as one of three delegates to the American Bar association. J. B. Colahan of Philadelphia was elected president.

The full list of officers is as follows: President, John B. Colahan, Jr., Philadelphia; vice presidents, Judge Robert S. Frazer, Allegheny county; Senator Cyrus J. Woods, Westmoreland; Charles W. Stone, Warren; Judge Mahlon H. Stout, Bucks; Russell C. Stewart, Northampton; secretary, William H. Steake, Philadelphia; treasurer, William Penn Lloyd.

Members of the executive committee: Thomas H. Brown, Allegheny; George Wentworth Carrm, Philadelphia; J. W. Woodward, Luzerne; Judge Francis J. O'Connor, Cambria; J. N. Banks, Indiana; A. B. Smith, Jr., Susquehanna; Judge John Ormond, Potter; Fred W. Cobblestone, Mifflin; M. J. Martin, Lackawanna; ex-Judge Dineen Beeber, Philadelphia; James M. Lamberton, Dauphin; William F. Dannohower, Montgomery; A. Mitchell Palmer, Monroe; Frederick J. Shoyer, Philadelphia; Alfred P. Reid, Chester; Horace P. Glover, Union; William Keiper Stevens, Berks; Charles Walter, Franklin; G. Ross Eshelman, Lancaster, and Alonzo G. Hagan, Fayette.

Delegates to the American Bar association: Christian R. Ruhl, Berks; Joseph M. Swearingen, Allegheny; George H. Schmidt, York; alternates, Charles P. Orr, Allegheny; Ross Reynolds, Armstrong; N. H. Larzelere, Montgomery.

Committee on comparative jurisprudence: Charles Wetherill, William Draper Lewis, William W. Smither. The newly-elected executive committee elected ex-Judge Dineen Beeber of Philadelphia, chairman, and named the last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in June, 1906, as the time for the next meeting.

The morning session was devoted to hearing a paper read by W. Rush Gillan of Chambersburg, on "James Buchanan." Among the arrivals today was Judge John Stewart, Republican nominee for supreme court judge.

The annual banquet was held this evening, toasts being made and responded to as follows: "The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker; "The Bench," Hon. Walter Lyon, of Pittsburgh; "Law and Politics," Woodna N. Carr; "The Bar," Roland S. Morris; "American Nationality," Col. Ned Arden Flood.

At the banquet tonight Gov. Pennypacker addressed the association on the "Commonwealth of Pennsylvania." He took the opportunity to refute reflections on his state appointments, particularly that of Israel Durham, and pointed with pride to the fact that in no other commonwealth in the country has such well-equipped appointees been named. He said in part:

> You citizens walk erect when you reflect on your state's present condition as compared with less fortunate commonwealths. She is out of debt. She has annual revenues double that of the United States when Jefferson purchased Louisiana. The riches of our hills are building universities and equipping libraries all over the world.
> In the senate she is represented by such cultured and considerate gentlemen as Senators Penrose and Knox. Her attorney general, Hampton L. Carson, is a representative of your bar. Over her library presides the best librarian in the state. The president of Franklin is head of our water commission.
> Pure food laws are enforced here as no where else. Some time ago it was said that connected with public printing were making fortunes. Today it is hard to get a man to take the contract. The St. Louis commission returned $40,000 into the treasury. At the head of our public schools is a man who spends $6,000,000 a year. He is a Democrat and has been retained. C. Larue Munson, who for the life of him does not know whether he is a Democrat or a Republican, was appointed chairman of the committee to unify the divorce laws. I challenge any community to prove that such appointments are made in it or are even possible.
> If it be true that a politician has presided over the insurance department of Pennsylvania, then there must be importance in the fact that officers of the insurance companies have reported to me that never before in its history was the work of that department so well conducted. If we have one political star among the state appointments, we are indeed fortunate.

Hon. Walter Lyon of Pittsburgh discussed "The Bench." He reviewed the conditions of state courts, and suggested that the license business and equity cases be turned into other channels. Other speakers were: Wood N. Carr, Uniontown; Roland S. Morris, Philadelphia, and Col. Ned Arden Flood of Meadville.

Epworth League of the North Avenue Church, Allegheny, Holds Its Annual Patriotic Service.

The Epworth league of the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, held its annual patriotic services last night, as is the custom each year prior to the advent of the Fourth of July. The exercises were preceded by a review and drill in Arch street, in front of the church, by the Swift's Mission brigade under command of Maj. McCombs. Postmaster John Francies was the orator of the evening, and made a short address on "Citizenship." He said in part:

"It is an undeniable truth that practically all nations have fallen because of the corruption existing in the large cities. It is high time that a note of alarm should be sounded and public sentiment awakened to the fact that many of our cities should be purged from the criminal and undermining influences that are sapping away the moral character of communities. The official who is bribed or who indulges in blackmail in any form is a greater enemy and by far is more dangerous than any spy that could land on our shores. Many of the very best American citizens neglect to exercise their right of franchise. No man is doing his duty who does not cast his ballot."

The girls of the league, dressed as Red Cross nurses, served refreshments in the church parlors.

INTERESTS OF BRITAIN IN PACIFIC OCEAN

Significant Statement in British House of Commons About American Dominance.

LONDON, June 29.—During the discussion of the naval estimates in the house of commons today, Sir John Colomb, (Conservative) said everything pointed to the necessity of keeping up the naval strength of Great Britain. The real question now was "who is going to rule the Pacific?" President Roosevelt said the United States intended to rule the Pacific. The United States was giving every sign that this was her intention by the extraordinary increase of her naval power.

Sir John declared that in the not distant future questions would arise in the Pacific affecting the policy of Japan, the United States and Great Britain. He asked what Great Britain was doing against the time when her interests ceased to be identical with those of the two great powers whose naval bases were in the Pacific. Great Britain looked with dread and horror to a rupture with the United States, but she could not shut her eyes to the fact that ruptures had occurred between the most friendly nations.

RAIN MARRED PLAY.

Miss Sutton Looks Like Winner of English Championship.

LONDON, June 29.—Today's tennis was marred by rain. Play had to be stopped on several occasions. Miss May Sutton of Pasadena, Cal., continued her successful forcing tactics, using powerful forehand stroke to great advantage. In the fourth round the American champion meets Miss Thompson, last year's runner-up, and in the event of winning Miss Sutton will almost certainly take the championship to America. Holcombe Ward scratched for the all-England plate, one of the compensation events.

In the second round of the gentlemen's doubles Holcombe Ward and Beals C. Wright had a walkover, Pearce and Powell having scratched. In the next round Ward and Wright will meet Baddeley and Tims.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 29.—(Special.)—R. R. Barber of Sioux City, Iowa, today broke the record for the grand American handicap event by bringing down 99 out of a possible 100. He missed his 96th bird. Yet, notwithstanding this remarkable performance, he has not yet won the match, for it was not quite completed, and if those yet to shoot, Burton Call of Montpelier, Ohio, can tie him. However, Barber is looked upon as the winner. He is an amateur, shoots from the 16-yard mark, and was placed at 13 to 1 in the betting. He also won the preliminary handicap, breaking 98. A. H. King, G. E. Painter and L. B. Fleming, all of Pittsburgh, were entered.

CROWD REFUSED TO BE HELD BACK BY ANYBODY

On They Rushed to the Liberty Clothing Company's Store for Bargains.

HALF PRICE FOR CLOTHING

A Clothing Manufacturer Took Fright at Weather Conditions and Stampeded.

There has been a mad rush at the Liberty Clothing Company's store for several days past for clothing bargains.

Summer suits for men are selling at half price, although the biggest part of the summer is yet to come.

The men of Pittsburgh and its vicinity have been crowding into the store of the Liberty Clothing Company for these bargains in genuine Pittsburgh fashion—they refused to be kept back by anyone.

The Liberty Clothing Company is enabled to sell these fine, new summer suits so cheaply because it bought an immense invoice of them from Schloss Bros. & Co. of Baltimore, for a ridiculously small price.

Schloss Bros. & Co., the most prominent manufacturers of high-class clothing in the country, feared that the weather conditions were such that they would lose heavily on their stock. It was a late spring and business was dull. The Liberty Clothing Company bought the immense stock at half-price.

These summer suits for men are all high class and as finely tailored as any suits ever made. Schloss Bros. & Co. manufacture no other kind. They make suits to sell all the way from $15.00 to $50.00 each.

This great shipment of goods has been divided into four lots at the following prices: $7.93, $8.98, $9.98 and $10.98.

At $7.98 you have your choice from 800 elegantly tailored suits in single and double-breasted styles, in fancy mixed Scotches, cassimeres and blue serges. There is not a suit in the lot that is worth less than $15.00.

At $8.98 there are about 650 suits of all the new, fetching styles. Some of these are half lined, others full lined, all haircloth fronts and hand-padded shoulders and hand-filled collars.

For $9.98 you have your choice of a variety of materials, including imported worsteds, single and double-breasted styles. These are regular Schloss Bros. $25.00 suits.

At $10.98 you take your choice of the finest summer suits. You could not duplicate one of these suits elsewhere for less than $25.00 to $35.00. You take your choice of a variety of imported flannels, fine worsteds, genuine Blarney tweeds, featherweight homespuns and English crashes. They are half and quarter lined. This is a great boon for the fine dressers of Pittsburgh.

HEINER'S IDEAS ARE APPROVED

Yerkes Thinks State and Government Officials Should Work Independently.

OBVIATES COMPLICATIONS

Collector of Internal Revenue Daniel B. Heiner can go right on pursuing the even tenor of his ways. The charges which State Dairy and Food Commissioner B. H. Warren had preferred against him at Washington will have no effect in the conduct of the Pittsburgh office over which Mr. Heiner presides. Commissioner of Internal Revenue Yerkes has written a letter to Collector Heiner outlining the charges against him and defining his duties. The commissioner's ideas as to how federal officers should work in bringing malefactors to justice coincide nicely with those of Collector Heiner, and put to flight the attempt of Dr. Warren to bring about a change in the operation of the local office.

Dr. Warren had an idea that, in trying to bring about the arrest of those who transgress the pure food laws, the federal and state officers should co-operate. Collector Heiner thought differently, and instructed his deputies to go right on with those "gum-shoe" methods which have brought good results in the past and which have met with the approval of the government. Dr. Warren wrote to Washington, calling the attention of the internal revenue department to the matter. Commissioner Yerkes' letter to Collector Heiner on the subject was received yesterday. In part it says:

> The complaints presented against you were two-fold:
> First, that the collector's force declined to co-operate with the state officials in the enforcement of the laws of Pennsylvania with regard to oleomargarine, adulterated butter, etc.
> Second, that you failed to act after information had been given you, showing violation of the federal laws.

Continuing Commissioner Yerkes says:

> The information you received was sufficient to put you on notice that the internal revenue laws were being violated by persons within your district, and you should have investigated the matter promptly, although, as a rule, it is perhaps wiser that the officials of the state and those of the government should act separately and independently in attempting to secure the arrest and conviction of persons committing acts which violate both state and federal legislation. It is possible that complications might arise where officials of the state and federal government act in combination.

This letter, Collector Heiner says, settles the question once and for all.

"Dr. Warren and myself are personal friends," said the collector yesterday, "but I was determined that no odium should attach to this office. The papers have said that the ear of the president was reached with these complaints. Certainly not with those which Commissioner Yerkes has outlined in his letter. Dr. Warren might have reached the president with complaints which related to food sold to the navy near Philadelphia, but the controversy in which this office was concerned went no higher than the commissioner of internal revenues."

THE SIGNAL FIRES ARE LIGHTED AT CHAUTAUQUA

Bishop Vincent Welcomes Visitors to Summer School and Gives Them Some Practical Advice.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., June 29.—The opening of the thirty-second annual assembly of Chautauqua institution took place at 10 o'clock this morning with the devotional hour under charge of President Rush Rhees of the University of Rochester. An organ recital, given by Dr. Percy Starnes, followed.

At the formal opening of the afternoon Bishop John H. Vincent welcomed the visitors and gave the annual opening address, in which he said:

"Here are a few practical suggestions for you. Don't attempt to do too much. Don't go to everything; make a selection and follow one line. It is impossible to be in a receptive mood if we go to hear too much. Whatever you undertake, do it well. Keep your bodies in good condition. If you must complain, do it at headquarters. Finally, in all relations at Chautauqua be friendly and neighborly."

Miss Anna R. Lazear, the first Pittsburgh girl to appear as a reader on the Chautauqua platform, was enthusiastically applauded for her excellent reading of "The Taming of the Shrew." The signal fires, two on either side of the pier house on the lake front, were lighted at 9 o'clock.

ENORMOUS BILLET ORDER.

Pittsburgh Steel Company Contracts With United States Steel Corporation for About 1,000,000 Tons.

By the announcement made yesterday by President Wallace H. Rowe of the Pittsburgh Steel Company, it was shown that the billet supply of the Pittsburgh Steel Company has been settled for a period of about five years. The company has closed a contract with the United States Steel Corporation interests for 1,000,000 tons of open-hearth and Bessemer billets, deliveries starting July 1. The company consumes practically 200,000 tons a year.

This contract disposes for a number of years of the project the Pittsburgh Steel Company has formed to build its own blast furnaces and Talbot open-hearth steel furnaces at Monessen. It insures a large market for the Steel Corporation which it lost last year, the Republic Iron and Steel Company capturing the business. The company has in addition contracts for 40,000 tons with the Republic and for 70,000 tons with the Carnegie Steel Company, deliveries extending over 10 months. These contracts were made two months ago. The price of the billets under the new contract is on a sliding scale based on the selling price of Bessemer pig iron.

Tarentum's New Opera House.

The Tarentum Realty Company yesterday awarded the contract for the Tarentum Opera house to Frank C. McClure of Chicago. The contract amounts to $26,070, and the opera house, when completed, will cost $40,000. It will have a seating capacity of 1,200.

The pretty town is filled with visitors, including among them some very prominent people from all parts of the United States. The popularity of Mt. Clemens Mineral Springs as a health and pleasure resort seems to increase with each succeeding year. There is good reason for this, as the town offers a rare combination of every requisite for recuperation, recreation and amusement. An observer writes: "The summer season at this famous health resort is in full blast, a panorama of outdoor life, with all the delights and comforts that human beings can enjoy, and with none of the discomforts of hot and sultry weather; with superb hotels and amusements of all kinds. There is everything here to make Mt. Clemens the ideal spot of the world for health, rest and pleasure. Those who have never read of the wonderful waters can hardly believe their own eyes. Thousands of people are cured here every year by the mineral baths. For health, rest, enjoyment and fishing, Mt. Clemens leads the world."

SOCIETY

EXQUISITE in their simplicity and beauty were all the appointments at the wedding of Miss Martha Page Laughlin, Mr. and Mrs. James Laughlin, Jr.'s eldest daughter, and Edgar V. Seeler of Philadelphia. The marriage was solemnized at 8 o'clock last evening at the family residence, Lincoln and Allegheny avenues, Allegheny, the Rev. Dr. Sylvester Scovel of Wooster, O., a former pastor of the First Presbyterian church, this city, officiating. The library was chosen as the scene of the ceremony, the bride entering on the arm of her father and being immediately preceded by her sister, Miss Leila Irwin Laughlin, who was her only attendant. They were met by Dr. Scovel, the bridegroom and his best man, J. Randolph Coolidge of Boston, Mass. Although the bridal party included several ushers, they did not form a part of the bridal procession, merely taking their places among the guests when the opening chords of the wedding march were played. The ushers were Harrison Seeler of Philadelphia, a brother; H. Hughart Laughlin and James Laughlin, III., brothers of the bride, and Rutherford M. Shepard of Plainfield, N. J.

The bridal robe was a regal creation of soft white silk and Venetian point lace, fashioned with a court train. A dainty bertha effect was given by the arrangement of the lace on the bodice and the sleeves were cut to elbow length. The tulle veil, falling cloud-like to the train, was caught up with pearls which had been Mrs. Laughlin's. Instead of the regulation bouquet the bride carried a beautiful little white leather book with silver clasps in which the guests later placed their signatures. Miss Laughlin wore a chic toilette of white mull and French lace and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas.

The decorations in each room were much the same and consisted of white phlox in large clusters, drooping Cibodian ferns, and asparagus plumosa over the curtains. Particularly effective was the arrangement of the blossoms around the alcove, where the bridal party stood for the ceremony. The background was formed of ferns and asparagus and in huge clusters the phlox outlined the alcove, while at the side was an asparagus-decked wicker standard to which the cords, forming the aisle, were fastened. A new and altogether charming feature was the large tent erected on the lawn, and which was connected with the house by a canopy. From the roof of the tent were suspended prettily-shaded electric lights and bark lanterns, with here and there a rope of asparagus. A portion of the space was divided by means of a wicker fence and palms, and here was placed the bridal table with covers laid for 22. The list included the bridal couple, and Miss Laughlin, Mr. Roberts, Miss Cynthia Richards, Miss Anne Burgwin, James Laughlin, III., Miss Sarah Wharton, Miss Elsie Wharton, Mr. Shepard, Dr. and Mrs. William H. Mercur, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McKnight Speer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Randolph Coolidge, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus P. Burgwin, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Seeler, and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. B. McKnight. The bridal cake occupied a separate table. Among the out-of-town guests were the three ushers, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge, of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Fulton of Easton, Md.; George W. Seeler, father of the bridegroom, from Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. T. Hughart of Grand Rapids, Mich. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Seeler began their wedding tour, at the conclusion of which they will make their home in Haverford, Pa. No at home days have been announced.

Pinkerton-Harper.

Green and white were the colors chosen for the wedding last evening of Miss Jane Pinkerton and G. Thomas Harper. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Pinkerton, at whose home, in Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, the wedding took place at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. G. W. Robinson, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, performed the ceremony, the bridal party including the maid of honor, Miss Mary Mitchell, and the best man, Roy Harper, the bridegroom's brother. The bride wore a gown of white imported batiste, with trimmings of point lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses, showered with white sweet peas, while her maid of honor, in sheer white material, carried an armful of long-stemmed pink roses. Cards have been issued announcing days at home after August 1 in Monticello street, East End.

Bridal Party Will Travel.

After their wedding tomorrow Miss Velma Mercer and John Francis Hazen, Jr., will go to Cambridge Springs to spend the Fourth. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Matthews, Jr., Miss Mabel Mercer and Joseph E. Bentley. Mrs. Matthews is to be matron of honor and Mr. Bentley the best man. The bridal couple will bid farewell to the others at the springs and travel on to Atlantic City to be guests of Mr. Hazen's family. From thence they will go to New York city and Allenhurst, N. J. The wedding is to take place quietly tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. B. Mercer, in Wilkinsburg. A wedding luncheon at the Schenley will follow. Upon returning from their trip Mr. Hazen and his bride will reside with Mr. and Mrs. Matthews, the latter a sister of Miss Mercer, in Bennett street, Homewood.

Lawn Fete a Great Success.

The lawn fete and bazaar given on the parish grounds of the Sewickley St. James' Roman Catholic church last evening was in every way a success. There was a large crowd, and several hundred dollars were cleared. Supper was served from 5 to 9 o'clock. There were three booths with articles of all kinds for sale, each booth being elaborately decorated; also ice cream, lemonade, gypsy camp, fancy work, etc., being in the hands of the women of the church. Father F. F. O'Shea acted as host, and was assisted by the regular parish committee, composed of Messrs. Anthony Glauser, John Marron, H. S. Becker, Joseph Heuler, James R. Kerr and T. A. Gilroy. These bazaars are annual affairs, and the church aims to clear at least $1,000 each year.

Bridal Couple at Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Graham Ferguson have returned from their wedding trip, which included several points of interest in the east. At the time of their marriage they announced days at home after July 1, and will now receive their friends on Thursdays in July at their residence in Oakland avenue. Mrs. Ferguson will be remembered as Miss Minnie Burleigh, the marriage having taken place a short time ago at the residence of the bride's brother, Clarence Burleigh, Forbes and McKee place, Oakland. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burleigh, Jr., who were married a few weeks ago, are now in New York, and will not return to Pittsburgh for some time. The bride was formerly Miss Luella Munhall.

Miss Lanahan's Wedding Plans.

There will be but two attendants at the wedding of Miss Florence B. Lanahan and William D. Phelan, which is set for Monday morning, July 10. Miss Lanahan has chosen Miss Ruth Weldon, who announced the engagement, to be her maid of honor, while Mr. Phelan will have his brother, A. X. Phelan, as best man. The Rev. Father Francis Keane will perform the ceremony in the Roman Catholic church of the Sacred Heart at 10 o'clock. The wedding is to be extremely quiet, only verbal invitations having been issued to the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom. A breakfast at "Oak View," the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. James K. Lanahan, in Center avenue, will follow the church service.

Pupils Will Give Recital.

The piano pupils of Miss Julia Eleanor Doran will give a recital at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Twentieth Century club, Duquesne way. Those who will give the program are Miss Marcella Callery, Miss Madeline Wildberg, Miss Margaret Dewar, Miss Alice Gormly, Leslie Wildberg, Miss Rose Thalheimer, Miss Florence Kingsbacher, Miss Elizabeth Patterson, Miss Gertrude Friedman, Miss Doris Rich, Miss Emma Bardonner, Miss Gertrude Friedman, Miss Doris Rich, Miss Emma Bardoner, Miss Gertrude Kingsbacher, Miss Eugenia O'Neill, Miss Lillian Friedman, Miss Roberta McKay, Miss Mary Frye, Miss Caroline Himmelrich, and Miss Hilda Luther.

Holdship-Ware Wedding Rehearsal.

The rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Alice Holdship and the Rev. Edward Twitchell Ware took place yesterday afternoon in the First Unitarian church, where the wedding will be an event of this afternoon. Immediately after the rehearsal Charles Frederick Holdship, a brother of the bride, whose wife is to be matron of honor, gave a dinner of 18 covers at the Duquesne club. The guests included the men in the bridal party with a few additional friends of the host. Miss Gertrude Ware of Atlanta, Ga., sister of the bridegroom, is here for the wedding, over which she will be a house guest of Mrs. J. Hartley Anderson of Fifth avenue.

Two Sewickley Events.

Miss Isabel Wardrop of Academy avenue, Sewickley, entertained with a pretty 4 o'clock tea yesterday in honor of Miss Florence Huston of Columbus, Ohio, the guest of her cousins, the Misses Nanette and Hayaelle Huston, in Quaker Valley. About thirty guests were present, including the younger college set, Miss Wardrop being a St. Margaret's girl. Miss H. D. Howard Blair of Bank street entertained at bridge whist during the afternoon, the guests being invited to meet Mrs. Robert Pierce of Cleveland, Ohio, who is the guest of Miss Bessie Cunningham of Frederick avenue. Seven tables were used.

O'Brien-Manion.

Miss Susie O'Brien and Patrick Manion of Carnegie were married yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock at St. Luke's Roman Catholic church, Carnegie, by the Rev. Father J. J. Brennen. The best man was Charles Manion, brother of the groom, and Miss Bessie O'Brien, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The wedding was a quiet one, owing to a recent death in the bride's family. Mr. and Mrs. Manion left for an eastern trip, and on July 13 will be at home at 209 Center street, Carnegie.

Frew-Adler.

Very quietly the marriage of Miss Mary Frew and C. J. Adler was solemnized last evening at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Margaret Frew, in Woodlawn avenue. There were no bridal attendants and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. G. Fast, pastor of the Oakdale Methodist Episcopal church. Days at home in Hazelwood avenue have been announced for after August 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hang of Sandusky street, Allegheny, entertained last evening with a large reception in honor of their daughter, Miss Agnes Hang. The affair took the form of an informal musicale, the program being given by Miss Mary Preiss, William Reining and Mr. Gilligan.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Opening Carnegie Branch Library.

Since the opening of the children's substation of the Carnegie library in the Soho Settlement house, 2404 Fifth avenue, it has been meeting with much success. On the opening day 25 little boys drew out books and the number of children using the library has increased, while the library room is filled with girls and boys every afternoon. Two librarians are in charge each afternoon. The kitchen garden class, which was conducted every Saturday afternoon for a couple of months, closed its work last Saturday, and will not resume until fall, when more classes will be conducted. On the closing day there was lemonade and cake and a few pretty inexpensive toys. The bright, clean faces and freshly-ironed dresses of the little girls during the last few weeks was sufficient evidence of the success of the scheme, while Saturday afternoon came to be regarded by the children almost as a party day. During the summer arrangements are being made to conduct a sewing school, and Mrs. James C. Dick has been made chairman of the committee in charge, while an efficient director will be secured to instruct the children. Plans are being discussed for the organization of other classes and clubs when the fall season opens.

Playground Teachers' Institute.

The teachers' institute conducted under the direction of the committee of women's clubs in charge of the Allegheny playgrounds and vacation schools will open on Saturday morning and continue throughout the day and on Monday. It will be held in the Sherman Avenue Second ward school building, Allegheny, with morning sessions from 10 o'clock until 12 and afternoon sessions from 1:30 o'clock until 4:30. At both sessions on Saturday Mrs. Elizabeth Duffy will instruct the basketry teachers and all others who wish to take up that work. On Saturday morning the kindergarteners will meet Miss Lilian Stonel. Saturday afternoon Miss Marion Knapp will teach the playground games to all the teachers and volunteer workers. The sewing, art and nature teachers will be instructed on Monday morning, while Monday afternoon will be a general session for all teachers, chairmen and committees and other volunteer workers. The schedule of teachers will be announced at that time, their duties will be explained and all questions which may arise will be answered.

Arranging the Summer Home.

The members of the Relief club went to the summer home in Idlewood yesterday to complete the arrangements for the reception of the children. The first party will be taken down tomorrow, and will consist of 20 children, who will be under the care of Miss Ruth Wilson. They will remain in the country a couple of weeks, when they will return to the city and a second party will be taken out.

Hold Regular Monthly Meeting.

THE THREE RIVERS

The stage of water at Davis island dam at 9 last night was 5.7 feet and the river was falling.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, OHIO, June 29.—(Special.)—At 6 p. m. today the Ohio river at Cincinnati was 23.5 feet and falling. Today's departures of packets from the part of Cincinnati were: Keystone State, Pittsburgh; Henry M. Stanley, Pomeroy; Courier, Maysville, and City of Louisville, Louisville. The movements of Pittsburgh towboats in the local harbor will come to a close Friday, when the Iron Age and Alice Brown will pass up for headwaters with tows of empties and for the annual overhauling. The movements today were: Arrived and back, Raymond Horner through to Louisville and the lower river, Dave Wood, Resolute and Valiant. Up: Josh Cook and Ed Roberts. The total shipment of coal for the month of June from the combined field of Pennsylvania and West Virginia was close to 20,000,000 bushels. There is every prospect of a good packet stage of water along the Ohio river for several weeks to come. There is enough water to hold much of that which is in the stream below, and there is 6.5 feet this morning below the Davis island dam at Pittsburgh. This condition of the river will allow of the packets running for several weeks, at least, as far up as Pittsburgh. Clear and pleasant.

LOUISVILLE.—Falling. In canal, 8.6; on falls, 6.4; below locks, 22.2. Clear and pleasant.

EMPTIES GETTING BACK.

Boats Arriving With Heavy Tows and Being Distributed.

Empties are arriving, every boat which went down the river on the recent rise and stopped at Cincinnati being now on the way up with a heavy tow. The G. W. Thomas of the Jutte company was the first in. She arrived early yesterday morning. The Tom Dodsworth and Charley Brown of the River Coal company arrived last night. The Sam Brown and Coal City of the same company will get in tonight. The Helen White is on her way up with a big tow for the United Coal Company. All of these are being distributed at the several mine landings or sent to the docks for repairs. The river is falling rapidly and many of the boats now coming back may be unable to get over the bad places between Pittsburgh and Sewickley, in which case they will lie below and their tows will be brought up by pool boats.

Quite a little party of Pittsburghers left Wednesday evening to attend the waterways convention in Cincinnati, which began yesterday. Those forming the party were Capt. John F. Dravo, J. Frank Tilley, Capt. James A. Henderson, James W. Wardrop, John H. Jones, John Eaton, Capt. Thomas Rees, E. J. Lloyd and George H. Anderson. The meeting will last two days and a plan of campaign for a waterway improvement undertaking will be formulated.

The Ben Hur arrived yesterday from Parkersburg with a heavy lot of freight and a good passenger list.

The I. C. Woodward, the Morgantown boat in yesterday, was a couple of hours late owing to heavy business.

Capts. John Dippold and Charles Stewart of the Harry Brown are home from Louisville. They left the boat there in charge of lower river captains, who will take her to New Orleans with 25 boats of coal and two model barges of steel products.

The Lorena, from the Muskingum valley, and the Greenland, from the Kanawha valley, will arrive today. The Columbia will be the Monongahela river boat in.

WIFE GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Jury Convicts Mrs. Novakovic for Crushing Her Husband's Skull With a Hatchet.

CLARKS BLAME E. M. BIGELOW

For crushing her husband's skull with a hatchet, Mrs. Annie Novapovic was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter before Judge McClung yesterday. The case occupied but one day, the jury bringing in a verdict about 5:20 p. m. The woman, who was charged with murder, was defended by Attorney William M. Price, while Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., appeared for the state.

Mrs. Novakovic was charged with burying a hatchet in her husband's skull while he slept on the night of April 20 last at their home, 2614 Smallman street. It was said at the time that he wanted her to violate her marriage vows, but at the trial she denied that as being the cause, saying he beat and abused her and she struck him during a struggle.

There were several challenges before the jury was finally selected, one being that of Howard Douglass, a student, who said he could not agree to a verdict to hang a woman. He was excused.

The Case of Jonathan Clark's Sons Company against the city of Pittsburgh over the Highland reservoir contract was resumed before Judge Acheson. B. S. Crocker, chief engineer of the General Chemical Company of New York, and who was chief engineer for the Clarks at the time the reservoir was being built, occupied the witness stand during all day. In his testimony Crocker said that Director of Public Works Bigelow acted in bad faith with the Clarks and hampered the work. The material for the puddles, he said, was not decided upon by the city until late in the second season after the construction of the reservoir had begun. There were delays in furnishing plans for the influent and affluent chambers, together with an unreasonable and unjust rejection of stones after they had been brought upon the work, some of which later upon a second inspection were passed by the city.

Judge Miller of the orphans' court, who sat common pleas No. 2 to hear the equity suit Alfred R. Hoffman against the borough of worth and others, filed an opinion in the It involved street improvements, and urt dismissed the bill as to the matter except the prosecution of the work.

of Police Thomas J. Grogan of McKe's Policemen John Brisan and Edward Ri- the same town, and Pittsburgh & Lake railroad detectives J. L. Parent, E. C. rist and A. W. Stewart were placed on trial in Judge Evans' branch of the criminal court on a charge of felonious assault. The case grows out of the riot at Schoenville April 9 between the officers and about 500 foreigners, which was caused by an attempt on the part of the former to arrest a Hungarian woman. During the riot which followed about a score of shots were fired, and Henry Berkorski was shot in the stomach and seriously wounded. The case is still on trial.

Elias Forsan, Barbari George and John Zorock, three of the seven Assyrians charged with conspiracy by the Rev. N. Kifartwy of St. Ann's Zyran Catholic church, who claims they attempted his life, were convicted. The others were acquitted.

Henry Ulrich was appointed receiver for the Ulrich-Stewart Manufacturing Company in a proceeding instituted by the Oil Well Supply Company, one of the defendants' creditors. The defendant joined in the request for the appointment of a receiver.

The commissioner in the divorce suit of Mary Gildernew against James Gildernew has filed his report. Desertion is alleged. Mrs. Gildernew testified they were married November 24, 1898. Gildernew, she says, was a member of engine company No. 3 of the bureau of fire, and on the morning of August 4, 1899, she says he left.

Believe Cox Is Tool.

a preliminary hearing before United States missioner Lindsay in the Federal building Martin Cox of Canonsburg, Pa., was remanded to jail to await trial at the July term of court at Erie on a charge of passing counterfeit money. Lewis Malepa, a merchant of Canonsburg, testified that Cox had passed a counterfeit half dollar in his store early in May of this year.

Cox has been identified by the authorities with the passing of four similar coins of the eight which were in circulation. Cox claims he was ignorant the money was counterfeit and is thought to have been a tool of other parties.

COKE IS FALLING OFF.

Production in the Connellsville Region Shows Decrease of 1,000 Tons for Last Week.

CONNELLSVILLE, June 29.—Production in the Connellsville coke region fell off a little over 1,000 tons last week. A summary for the week ended June 24 shows a total of 22,833 ovens, of which 20,669 are in operation. The week's production, estimated upon the number of ovens drawn, amounted to 246,360 tons, a decrease of 1,058 tons from the previous week. The shipments aggregated 11,027 cars, distributed as follows: Pittsburgh and river points, 4,219 cars; points west of Pittsburgh, 5,665 cars; points east of Everson, 1,243 cars, a net decrease of 186 cars.

The shipments estimated from reports from shipping points were 255,031 tons, a decrease of 4,185 tons from the previous week. The shipments were 8,671 tons in excess of production. In the Masontown field the shipments aggregated 2,092 cars, distributed as follows: Pittsburgh and river points, 225 cars; points west Pittsburgh, 1,741 cars; points east of Everson, 126 cars. These shipments are estimated at 59,760 tons, or 1,736 tons less than for the previous week.

FOURTH OF JULY TRAVEL.

Pennsylvania Lines Low Fares Will Attract a Great Deal of Local Traffic.

Pittsburgh to Cleveland and return, $4.25; to Columbus and return, $5.85; to Erie and return, $4.65; to Wheeling and return, $2.25, to Youngstown and return, $[illegible]; to New Castle and return, $1.80, are concessions in fare included in the general reduction in the cost of travel over the Pennsylvania lines for the Fourth of July. Tickets go on sale July 1st and may be obtained that day and on July 2nd, 3rd and 4th to any station within a radius of 200 miles. Return limit includes Wednesday, July 5th.

Inquiries at the Fifth avenue and Smithfield street office of the Pennsylvania, and at Union station and Allegheny, indicate a good many persons will be absent from both cities on the Fourth. Quite a number will leave Saturday at noon when office business generally is suspended for the week. As the Fourth falls on Tuesday this year a number of people will include Monday in their holiday outing, which will enable them to visit the lake resorts, taking in Put-in-Bay, Detroit, St. Clair Flats, etc. The noon train over the Pennsylvania reaches Detroit early in the evening, and the evening train arrives in Cleveland in time to connect with steamers. It is probable that Pittsburgh will be well represented at the lake resorts from Saturday until the middle of next week. Schedule of return trains over the Pennsylvania permit excursionists to leave Detroit and Toledo Wednesday night, and Cleveland as late as midnight Wednesday, permitting a five-days' outing on Fourth of July excursion tickets.

The week-end excursions to Conneaut Lake, Erie, North East and Ashtabula will also be well patronized, and the Sunday excursions to Wheeling will attract a good crowd. The new Sunday train on the Pennsylvania, established last Sunday, allows a stay of nine and one-half hours in Wheeling. It leaves Union station 8 a. m., city time, and runs through Wheeling without stopping after leaving Pittsburgh. It was established mainly to take care of the $1.50 excursions to Wheeling run every Sunday by the Pennsylvania.

While Pittsburgh's regular population will be depleted for several days on account of the Fourth of July excursions, ity will attract a great many visit- from cities and towns in Western ylvania and Ohio, as the Fourth excursion fares to Pittsburgh ex- far as Erie, Ashtabula, Cleve- Crestline, Columbus, Bellaire, g, Washington Pa., and interme- ations on the Pennsylvania sys-

CONTRACT MUST BE PRODUCED

Agreement Between Promoters and Philadelphia Company Ordered Filed.

VOTERS' LEAGUE GAINS POINT

Judge Buffington has directed W. B. Carson, secretary of the Philadelphia company, to produce before Commissioner Gamble the agreement between the Philadelphia company, the Pittsburgh Railways Company and M. K. McMullen, T. Hart Given and Thomas S. Bigelow, this having been requested by the attorney for the Voters' Civic league in the Grant boulevard case.

Carson, while on the witness stand, was being asked certain questions about the agreement and when he was asked to produce the agreement and hand it over to the commissioner, under the advice of counsel he refused and the attorneys went before Judge Buffington.

Attorney Weil read to the court the questions asked the witness, who replied that the agreement provided for the building of the Grant and Liberty street railway, but whether it was to be built by the Philadelphia company or the Pittsburgh Railways company, he could not say. He was then asked if the agreement did not provide for the payment of a large sum of money to McMullen, Given and Bigelow, for money advanced, and for the payment of the money advanced to secure the passage of the ordinance giving the Grant and Liberty Street Railways Company the right to occupy the Grant boulevard, and also for the distribution of a large amount of stock and bonds to these men. This the witness said he could not remember.

When asked to produce the agreement he did so, but refused to surrender it to the commissioner. Attorney Weil said the court was being imposed on, and that it was the fifth time a certain question had been certified to court and this was the second time this same question has been certified.

"Every attempt is being made," said Attorney Weil, "to hinder and delay the matter, and we will be all year getting any testimony if every question is to be certified into court."

Attorney J. E. Shaw said they were not delaying the case and that they had a right to try this case as they thought proper. After a lively argument, Judge Buffington said he did not feel that he should take the time and trouble to look over 60 pages of that agreement, and that it was not the place of the court to do that in this stage of the case.

"This is five times," said Judge Buffington, "that questions have been certified to me, and I begin to think it is getting too frequent. Why was not this agreement submitted to me yesterday, when the questions of directing the witness to tell about the arrangement was argued and I directed him to answer?"

"The question was: 'What was the agreement?' The witness was directed to answer that question and now it develops that the answer to the question is in writing. Now that the answer to the question the witness was directed to answer is to be found in writing, why should it not be produced? The witness was directed to answer the question: 'What was the agreement?' and is there any reason why the answer should not be in writing instead of verbal?"

Attorney W. B. Rodgers: "Why should the private affairs of certain persons not in this case be made public?" Attorney G. W. Guthrie objected to the court taking the paper and examining it and deciding the question of its materiality without giving the attorneys for the plaintiff an opportunity to examine the paper and argue the question of its pertinence to the case.

Attorney Shaw said: "That is just what we want to avoid and just what the attorneys for the other side desire. They want to get an insight into the contents of that paper for purposes other than this case, which will develop later."

Finally Judge Buffington said: "We have heard nothing which has caused us to change our position from yesterday, that the witness must answer the questions, and we direct that he produce before and deliver to the examiner the agreement which now lies before me."

The hearing was then resumed.

LARKIN'S SENSATION IS SPRUNG ON COMMITTEE

Says Pittsburgh Railways Company Ought to Pay $25,000 on Contract With the City.

The public revenue committee of the city councils failed of a quorum yesterday, A. G. Roenigk and P. J. Barry being the only councilmen present. Nevertheless, Controller John B. Larkin sprung his promised sensation. The controller said that while he would rather work through the committee, yet he would take the responsibility and would turn over to City Auditor Kimball for collection the claim which he had discovered.

In a communication to the committee the controller showed that there was a claim against the Pittsburgh Railways Company of $25,000 as a payment on the cost of reconstructing the South Tenth street bridge. When the bridge was reconstructed the Birmingham Traction Company, now owned by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, agreed to pay $100,000 in 20 years toward the cost of the reconstruction. This money was to be paid in quarterly installments amounting to $5,000 a year. The controller showed that the amount owed was $25,000, for the Birmingham traction or the Pittsburgh Railways had never paid a cent of the money.

The contract to pay $100,000 was entered into by George W. Wilson, then the director of the department of public works, and the officers of the Birmingham Traction Company. The agreement was concurred in by the city councils on May 9, 1901, and it authorizes the city to take $25,000 in a lump sum as an advance payment on the $100,000. This $100,000 is supposed to be rental for 20 years, and at the end of the term either the city or the traction company can terminate the contract on 30 days' notice.

Car Strikes Buggy, Hurting Two.

A car bound for Kennywood park yesterday struck and wrecked a buggy containing Raymond Williams and Miss Harriet Davies, both of McKeesport, injuring both. The car was rounding a sharp curve and the motorman failed to see the buggy in time to prevent a collision. The buggy was wrecked.

A petition has been circulated among the citizens of West Pittsburgh township for the annexation of the township to Pittsburgh under the provisions of the Goehring act. A public meeting in the interest of the annexation will be held on Friday evening, July 7.

WABASH LINE IS NEARLY YEAR OLD

Opening Is Recalled as a Notable Day Here—Important Western Changes.

TRAFFIC MEN IN SESSION

The Wabash system's line into Pittsburgh will be a year old this coming Sunday. There are at least 350 Pittsburghers, some of them leading manufacturers, city officials and professional men, who will recall the opening day with a great deal of pleasure, for they were the guests of the Wabash system and occupied a special train of 12 cars for the initial trip to St. Louis over the Wheeling & Lake Erie and Wabash railroads, with a two-day visit to the Louisiana Purchase exposition. One of the most pleasant features of that trip aside from the excellent entertainment afforded by those in charge of the party, was the evening dinner given to the guests on the big cantilever bridge over the Ohio river at Mingo junction. A bronze tablet at the first landing of the stairway in the Wabash station waiting room here commemorates that trip, alluding to the hosts of the occasion, who were: Joseph Ramsey, president; James W. Patterson, vice president and chief engineer; C. S. Crane, general passenger and ticket agent; W. D. Holliday, assistant general freight agent, and F. H. Tristram, assistant general passenger agent.

No arrangements have been made by the officials for a celebration of the first anniversary of the road into Pittsburgh. From the inauguration of the passenger service on July 2, 1904, to the present day the business has steadily grown and additional trains have had to be added. The freight service has been open for several months and the road is handling a good amount of freight for a new line with limited facilities. There are several local lines now under construction and these will be carried to completion as soon as possible to afford connection to reach the big tonnage producers. There have been a number of changes in the official personnel of the Wabash system during the year, but there has been no diminution of interest in the value of the vast traffic possibilities afforded here.

Men Who Get Business Are Here.

Two hundred men who are directly responsible for the securing of the enormous freight traffic handled by the Pennsylvania system are in Pittsburgh for a two-day meeting. They are mostly representatives of the Union Line bureau, the fast freight line of the Pennsylvania, but about 75 regular line representatives of the system are also in attendance. They are headed by Manager E. A. Sawson of the Union Line bureau, Chicago, who suggested the joint meeting in Pittsburgh; Freight Traffic Manager D. T. McCabe of the Pennsylvania lines west, of Pittsburgh, and General Freight Agent E. P. Bates of the Pennsylvania railroad, Philadelphia. After a session all day yesterday the men gathered with a number of invited guests from other lines in the banquet hall of the Hotel Schenley last evening for a banquet. Addresses of a nature in line with the work and with Pittsburgh were made by Messrs. Dawson, McCabe, Bates and others. Today will be occupied by a trip over the Pennsylvania's terminals in this district. The special train will go over the Panhandle to the new Scully yard, across the Ohio connecting bridge to the Fort Wayne, through Allegheny to the West Penn, and thence to the Brilliant branch, thence to Conemaugh over the main line, back to Brinton and down the Monongahela division to the South Side. Manager Dawson presided at yesterday's business session, which began at 10 o'clock and lasted until 6 o'clock last evening, with an hour for luncheon. It was a "family meeting," and no information of the particular subjects discussed was made public. It was said that such subjects as are of paramount interest to the soliciting agents were discussed, with particular bearing upon the Pennsylvania's affairs. A number of the agents were trained to their work through the traffic offices in Pittsburgh, and these particularly are enjoying their visit to the city.

Illinois Central Changes.

Emil Doul, commercial agent of the Illinois Central in this district, has received circulars from the office of Vice President J. T. Harahan announcing important changes in the traffic department of the road. J. D. Hudson, formerly traffic manager, has been appointed general traffic manager. J. B. Bowes, formerly assistant traffic manager, is appointed freight traffic manager. The titles of traffic manager and assistant traffic manager have been abolished. A. E. Hudson, formerly general passenger agent, is appointed passenger traffic manager, and Samuel D. Hatch, formerly assistant general passenger agent, is appointed general passenger agent. Mr. Hudson has been identified with the Illinois Central since 1877 and has been traffic manager since 1887. Mr. Hanson has been with the road 36 years, having been general passenger agent since 1880. Mr. Hatch has been with the company since 1896.

To Fight for Companies.

It is reported from St. Louis that a movement is on to amalgamate 20 of the leading street car building plants of the country, the giant corporation to be capitalized at $50,000,000. Among the promoters is said to be James Stewart of the Pittsburgh contracting firm of James Stewart & Co. Investigation at the offices of the company in the Westinghouse building proved that, so far as was known, Mr. Stewart was not identified with the combine. George J. Kobusch, president of the St. Louis Car Company, is said to be one of the prime movers of the project. The instigation for the combine came from the reported intention of the American Car and Foundry Company to enter into the manufacture of street cars in connection with their steam railroad car business. Mr. Kobusch is one of the promoters of the Philadelphia & Western railroad, a third-rail electric line extending from Sixty-third and Market streets, Philadelphia, to Parkersburg, Pa. A contract has been let by this company for its entire plant to the General Electric Company.

Railroad Notes.

A. R. Raymer, assistant engineer of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, returned from a meeting of the New York Central line's signal committee at Boston.

A number of the officers of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie attended the funeral of the mother of Treasurer John G. Robinson.

Miss Sara Budd Dillon, stenographer for General Superintendent J. B. Yohe of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, was one of the successful persons in a contest for a free trip to Europe.

Stockholders of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad Company (the former Detroit Southern) have ratified the purchase of the Ann Arbor railroad.

Among those caught in the Twentieth Century limited wreck at Mentor a week ago were Warren J. Lynch, general passenger and ticket agent of the Big Four, and Mrs. Lynch, who were enroute to New York and Atlantic City. Mrs. Lynch lost gowns valued at $2,000 in the burning of the baggage car.

Shipments of coal and coke originating on the Pennsylvania railroad lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie for the week ended June 24 amounted to 859,793 tons.

The Lehigh Valley is reported to be in the market for 1,000 freight cars.

H. M. Matthews will assume his new office as general coal and coke agent of the Baltimore & Ohio system at Baltimore tomorrow.

John R. Pott, district passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul in this district, reports business heavier than he has ever known it to be. From June 14 to June 29 106 full tickets and three half-fare tickets were sold at the Pittsburgh office. Of these 54 full tickets and two half-fare tickets were for round trips to the Portland exposition. Robert H. Fleming, city passenger agent of the road, was at New Castle yesterday closing up with a special party for Colorado.

The Baltimore & Ohio Association of Railway Surgeons will conclude the convention here at noon today and will spend the afternoon in trips about the city. One of the interesting subjects for today's program is "The Present Status of the Roentgen Ray in Surgery," by Dr. G. C. Johnston of Pittsburgh.

According to the Manufacturers' Record between 400 and 500 miles of new track have been laid in the south this year, 2,300 miles are under construction, and at least 1,200 miles more will be built by roads recently chartered.

Officials Inspect Bathing Pools.

Mayor Hays, Director Moore and Supt. Wallace yesterday afternoon inspected the bathing pools in the three rivers. The trip was made in the yacht Sylph. It was decided to anchor floats in the pools chosen and to put out white canvas markers beyond which it will be dangerous to go. The pool at Thirty-sixth street is abandoned because of dangerous holes in the river bottom in that vicinity.

Ousted from Borough Council.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 29.—(Special.)—Judge J. A. McIlvaine today handed down an opinion in the local courts deciding that W. W. Hoyt, president of the Washington borough council, held his seat in that body illegally.

Next Seashore Excursion July 6th, Via Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

$10 round trip, tickets good 16 days. Trains leave Pittsburgh 8 a. m., 6:30 and 9:00 p. m. Stopovers permitted at Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington on return trip.

HOLDING FAMILY MEETING IN PITTSBURGH

Freight Traffic Officers and Agents of the Union Line Bureau and Pennsylvania System.

GAZETTE BEGINS NOVEL CONTEST

Unique Word Hunt Will Furnish Interesting Diversion for Sunday Readers.

THIRTEEN PRIZES OFFERED

Every reader of next Sunday's Gazette will have a chance to share in the distribution of $50 in prize money. To the reader who selects the four words from advertisements in The Sunday Gazette which have an aggregate of the greatest number of points, $15 in cash will be given. The second prize will be $10 and in addition there will be two prizes of $5 each; four prizes of $2.50 and five of $1.

The Gazette will be allowed to select four words from any advertisements appearing in next Sunday's issue. Each letter will have a value relative to its position in the alphabet. A will count one, B two, C three, and so on, Y counting 25 and Z 26. The only limitation is that no letter can be used more than four times in any particular word.

A word hunt is always fascinating. Of course the contestants will endeavor to get long words and those with letters which will produce high numbers. According to this system of word values Togo would be worth 57, while Rojestvensky would aggregate 183.

In The Gazette on Sunday morning will be printed a blank form which must be used in sending the words to this office. The returns must be made before the Thursday morning following. This is the first time the word-hunt problem has been attempted and it is copyrighted by the circulation manager of The Gazette. The new contest promises to rival the popularity of the proverb hunts last winter, and as an educational game it is scarcely less instructive. Gazette advertisements are worth reading anyhow, and when a word is found which will contribute high numbers, there will be no little interest by dragging it from its place of concealment—probably away down at the foot of some obscure column. Watch and see.

GOLF FINALS AT EDGEWORTH.

Miss Wardrop and Mrs. Nevin Will Meet Today—Edgewood Club's Tournament.

In the play-off of the tie between Mrs. R. P. Nevin, Jr., and Mrs. Robert Wardrop in the women's golf tournament at Edgeworth club for the R. D. Haworth cup the former won 4 and 2. Miss Betty Wardrop beat Mrs. O. D. Thompson 3 and 1 and Mrs. Nevin beat Miss Clara Armstrong 6 and 4. The finals between Mrs. Nevin and Miss Wardrop will be played today.

The Edgewood club has just announced a schedule for the Fourth of July golf tournament. On Saturday a qualifying round will be played without handicaps. Two eights will qualify for cups offered by the president and secretary of the club. A cup will be presented by J. S. McCormick for the best medal score.

On July 4 the first match play rounds will be begun at 10 a. m. There will be a driving contest at 1:30 p. m. The second match play round will begin at 2:30 p. m. A prize will be presented by the club for the best net score against bogey in the afternoon for all except those playing for the cups.

Fred Brand, professional at Allegheny Country club, had 151 at western open championship Saturday at Cincinnati, and Jack Dingwall of Edgeworth club 155. L. Auchterlorie of Glenview club made best score, 134.

CUPID'S CALL DISTURBS BIG DEPARTMENT STORE

Pretty 17-Year-Old Miss Notifies the Manager by Phone of Her Marriage to His Shipping Clerk.

On answering a telephone ring which disturbed the clerks in the office of a large downtown department store at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the office manager received the news that Cupid had paid his office a visit and that one of the pretty employes had answered to the call. The manager was at first unable to understand the message and shouted over the line:

"Who is this?"

"Why—er—this is Miss—Mrs.—why it's Edna."

"Well, what do you want?" queried the manager.

"I just called up to tell you I want to resign. I won't be to work any more. I was married this morning."

The manager turned from the 'phone and called out:

"Say girls, 'Edna' just telephoned she is married."

There was a flutter of excitement as the girls started to leave the office to spread the news to the others in the store. One thoughtful girl ran straight to the basement to see if Joseph Frey, a shipping clerk, was working.

"He has not not been here today," said another clerk, and everyone in the store knew who Edna's husband was without asking questions, as they had been almost inseparable companions since the employes of the store held their annual picnic at Kennywood last summer.

The bride, Miss Edna Alter, who is aged 17, on Wednesday asked to be allowed off all day Thursday, but the manager, not knowing he was interfering with Cupid's plans, tried to prevail on the girl to work in the morning. In this he was unsuccessful. Frey, who is aged 21, gave as his excuse to get off that he wanted to go on a boat excursion.

The young couple did not tell any one their secret, but yesterday morning took a train for Youngstown, where the knot was tied. They then returned to their homes on Mt. Washington and broke the news to their parents and friends. The elopement caused such a flutter of excitement among the girls employed in the store that the management breathed with relief when the hour for closing arrived.

RIDDLED WITH BULLETS BY MURDEROUS MOB

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ATLANTA, GA., June 29.—Specials from Watkinsville, Ga., give the following account of the lynching there early today: Eight prisoners were taken from jail and seven of them were shot to death by a mob of masked white men within 200 yards of the center of the town. One of the men, "Joe" Patterson, colored, escaped death by falling to the ground when the volley was fired, and feigning that he had been killed. The mob left him lying on the ground thinking he had been riddled with bullets. The names of the prisoners killed are: Lewis Robertson, Richard Robinson, "Sandy" Price, Claude Elder, "Bob" Harris, Jim Yearly, all negroes, and "Lon" Aycock, white.

Four of the prisoners were charged with being implicated in the murder of Holbrook and his wife several weeks ago, and one was held for criminal assault. The others were in jail on minor misdemeanor charges. The mob formed quickly just after midnight and marched in order to the jail, where the keys were demanded of the jailer. The demand was made at the point of rifles and the jailer realized that resistance was useless. With the keys in its possession, the mob opened all the cells, ordered the trembling inmates out and then lined them up in single file tieing them with ropes.

The eight prisoners were marched to a corner lot within 200 yards of the jail, in the heart of the town. They were bound to a fence with their hands tied behind them. At a command by the leader the mob stepped back a few paces took deliberate aim and fired a volley of rifles, shot guns and pistols into the line of prisoners. Every man in front of the mob fell at the first volley.

Believing its work had been complete, the mob quickly dispersed.

EASTERN CITIES ARE JEALOUS OF THE RIVER

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, June 29.—Baltimore and Philadelphia hurled a bomb into the waterways conference which was opened by the leading spirits in the Ohio River Improvement association and representatives from many states, south and west, at the Grand hotel here today.

Not only was the east not personally represented, but the two cities above mentioned deliberately opposed the new organization and its proposed national convention at Washington. Secretary Tucker of the Philadelphia board of trade, and Robert Ramsey of Baltimore, went on record with letters for a reconvening of the rivers and harbors committee.

The affair was generally considered an affront and was so stamped by the Pittsburgh delegation. Many felt, however, that they must submit. Others thought that their purpose would be served by any plan. The majority were of the opinion that the proposed reassembling of the committee could never be obtained.

With the most ardent support of the entire middle west and south, as evidenced by delegates present and by most encouraging letters and telegrams, it was determined that the matter should be fought out, and there is every promise that they will eventually march on to Washington to argue for greater river appropriations.

Memorial Church Cornerstone Laid.

ASHTABULA, O., June 29.—(Special.)—The corner stone of the Gilmore Smith Memorial Methodist Episcopal church here was laid this afternoon. Bishop J. F. Berry of Buffalo made the address. This church will cost $35,000.

ARE PLANNING TO MOVE THE WHOLE COMMUNITY

Extension of Industries Causes Holy Cross Parish to Turn to Brookline for Room.

Members of the Holy Cross Catholic congregation of Carson and South Thirty-second street are planning a big undertaking, one seldom attempted before by so big a congregation in the United States, that of removing the whole parish, consisting of 600 families, a large church, convent, rectory and parochial school, to five acres of land in Brookline. The property of the congregation on the upper South Side comprises two acres, on which the church and other buildings are erected. It is reported that several offers have been made for the property, but so far no deal has been concluded.

The Rev. Thomas Devlin.

Since the Holy Cross parish has completed the several handsome brick buildings on its property the manufacturing industries have been steadily moving closer, and the Pennsylvania railroad has made big improvements in the rear of the church property, which is now almost surrounded by the railroad and mills. The location was ideal for church and school purposes when the congregation secured the property, but now the roar of the mills and the railroad shipping has changed the district almost entirely. Formerly many dwelling houses occupied the property now used by the mills and railroad and both companies are reaching out for more land to extend their interests.

Title to the property in that district is changing hands almost daily, and it is reported that 61 dwellings in the parish have been torn down to make room, while the families have had to look elsewhere for a place to live. As the result of industrial extensions many of the members of the Holy Cross parish are looking toward Brookline for a place to live, as all expect their church will be moved to Brookline in the near future, and they will have the benefit of the handsome church in which the pastor, the Rev. Thomas Devlin, contemplates building in Brookline. Father Devlin has been in charge of the parish for 21 years and during that time he has been given splendid support in his plans to build up the religious community. When the present property of the congregation is sold those who move to Brookline will continue to benefit from the support they have given the parish in past years.

A new traction line is also being built, which will use the Mt. Washington tunnel to reach the city. Capitalists propose to erect houses for people who move to Brookline and allow them to pay for them the same as rent.

SIXTEENTH REGIMENT MUST BE VERY GOOD

FRANKLIN, PA., June 29.—(Special.)—By an order issued today, Col. Willis J. Hulings of the Sixteenth regiment demands discipline at the coming brigade encampment at Erie, and holds his officers individually responsible for any breach of conduct. En route to Erie the men will not be allowed to leave the cars. The colonel says emphatically that breaking from the train and entering saloons, robbing orchards, accosting women and looting eating houses must be "cut out."

A Suicide Open to Suggestion.

NORFOLK, VA., June 29.—B. Frank Vaughn, aged 56 years, prominent in Portsmouth, Va., after casting in the Democratic primary election today what he declared would be his last vote, started to Norfolk, and in the railway waiting room committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

Takes Chill Hazzard's Place.

PROFIT-TAKING IN STOCKS CAUSED LOWER PRICES

Reading Made New High Record and the Tractions Were Firm, but Everything Else Sold Off. Air Brake Closed Five Points Higher.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The taking of profits in the New York stock market yesterday caused lower prices all around, and there was a falling off in the volume of business, the total sales approximating 638,000 shares. The course of the market was entirely natural, in view of the 10-days' rally ranging from 5 to 15 points, and the stocks which had scored the largest gains suffered the largest loss in the reaction, although the declines were in no instance severe.

Another incentive to profit-taking was the reports from Odessa which possibly foreshadowed the long-talked-of revolution in Russia. In the London market Russian bonds were off a point, and Japanese bonds were slightly lower on the reports of an impending new issue of between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000. The London quotations for American securities were also lower, and the tone of foreign markets heavy.

While the profit-taking began at the opening and continued all day, there were occasional displays of strength. Reading was notable in this respect, the common making a new record by advancing to 100¾, and being one of the few stocks which closed at a net gain for the day. In the remainder of the list opening prices were generally the highest and closing prices at or near the lowest. Amalgamated Copper was an exception, and after opening at 82, advanced to 83¼, but subsequently lost all the gain and closed unchanged for the day. Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Metropolitan Street Railway were strong while the rest of the market was declining, and closed slightly higher for the day.

The steel stocks were less active and heavy. U. S. Steel common closed 1⅛ and the preferred ⅝ per cent lower. Tennessee Coal and Iron lost 1¼ per cent. U. S. Cast Iron Pipe preferred was an exception, advancing to and closing at 94¼, a net gain of 2¾ per cent.

Call loan rates advanced to 3½ per cent during the afternoon, the highest for several weeks, but reacted to 2½ bid, 2¾ asked at the close. A rise in rates at this time is to be expected, and they may go higher today, because stock exchange loans will carry over until Monday, and in the meantime July interest and dividend disbursement, which will be the largest on record, will fall due; but bankers continue to express the opinion that the outlook is for easy money during July at least. The weekly statement of the Bank of France did not reflect any pressing necessity for gold imports to that country, there having been a slight decrease in specie and loans. The weekly statement of the Bank of England showed an increase of more than $23,000,000 in loans and a decrease of more than $5,000,000 in reserve, the percentage of reserve to liability falling to 46.19, against 51.06 a week ago.

Commodity markets were irregular. There was a sharp reaction in cotton and the market closed at the lowest prices of the day. On the other hand there was an advance in wheat and corn, which closed strong, the incentive being fear of a spread of troubles in Russia, which would become serious enough to interfere with shipments of Russian grain.

Trading in local stocks was better distributed than for a long time past, but the tone of the market was heavy, and prices closed lower. Crucible Steel common was the active leader, but sold at the uniform price of 10½, a net loss of ⅛ per cent. The preferred closed ½ per cent off at 61½. U. S. Steel common and preferred were moderately active, but kept close to prices quoted in New York. Late in the day Manufacturers Light and Heat became active and sold off to 35½, closing with a net loss of ½. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas lost 1 per cent on sales of 100 shares and closed weak at 60¾ asked. Ohio Fuel Supply was unchanged at 40. National Fire Proofing preferred declined to 33½, but recovered to 34⅜. There were no dealings in the common, which was offered at 9½. The coal stocks were less active. Pittsburgh preferred declined to and closed at 64¾, and River preferred was a fraction lower at 24⅞. Independent Brewing preferred declined to 39½, and Pittsburgh Brewing common to 26⅜. Initial transactions in United Copper, which has been listed on the local exchange, were recorded, 500 shares of the common changing hands at 23. Westinghouse Air Brake was the strongest stock in the market, advancing $5 a share to 150 and closing at the best. There were no transactions in Westinghouse Electric.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The announcement of the consolidation of N. Holmes & Sons and the Union National bank was a subject of very general discussion in local financial circles yesterday. There was a good deal of guessing as to the consideration involved in the deal, but the terms will probably not be made public. There was also some guessing as to the amount of deposits which the firm will be able to turn over to the bank, but a close estimate will be possible when the official statement is published in response to the next call of the comptroller of the currency. Some persons estimated the deposits at $3,500,000, or about equal to the deposits of the Union National. The latter, it was generally conceded, would be able to retain a greater percentage of the business of the private banking firm than was the case two years or more ago when consolidations were numerous, and when customers of merged banks objected to having their accounts sold to another bank without asking leave. A banker who has had experience in such matters was asked yesterday as to the basis on which consolidations were usually negotiated. He said that at one time the value of a bank's deposits was figured at about 5 per cent, but that so many consolidations now entered into such deals that it was impossible to make a calculation that would apply generally. In the present instance the difficulty was increased by the fact that N. Holmes & Sons, being private bankers, were never required to publish a report of their business, and in addition the real estate which was bought with the business was the most important consideration. In fact, it is said that the eligibility of the site at the corner of Fourth avenue and Wood street was the thing which first attracted the Union National and was the most important consideration in making the deal.

There was listed on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday the $5,000,000 preferred and $45,000,000 common stocks of the United Copper Company, of which F. Augustus Heinze is president. The preferred stock has been receiving semi-annual dividends of 3 per cent since the organization of the company. The latter has $2,000,000 surplus and no bonded or floating debt. The transfer office in Pittsburgh is the Union Trust Company, and the Pittsburgh registrar is the Fidelity Title and Trust Company. The initial trade was 500 shares of the common at 23, Hall to Masten.

The Monongahela Water Company yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable July 10. On the exchange Sproul & Co. bid 40 for a block of 1,000 shares of the stock, but 50 shares were offered at 39¾, and 38 was the best bid at the close.

The decline in Louisville & Nashville foreshadowed the declaration of the usual semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent. For some weeks past there have been rumors of the probability of an increase in the rate or the declaration of an extra dividend. The stock is still quoted about 10 points over Pennsylvania, which pays the same rate of dividend.

Joseph G. Holmes, son of the late John G. Holmes, and James R. Wardrop, son of Robert Wardrop, president of the Peoples National bank, have formed a stock brokerage firm under the title of Holmes, Wardrop & Co., with offices on the second floor of the Peoples National bank building. Messrs. Holmes and Wardrop were formerly in the employ of N. Holmes & Sons.

J. M. Askin, who has been floor man at the Pittsburgh stock exchange for N. Holmes & Sons for the last five years, and who was with W. R. Thompson & Co. for five years previously, will go into business for himself on July 1 at rooms 1206-9 Peoples Savings bank building.

The money market in New York gave some premonitory symptoms of the preparation for the July settlements. Call loans were reported tight even while there was no marked change in the quoted rate and there was a considerable paying off on the part of borrowers on call. This was evidently in the expectation that the borrowing today, which is to carry over until Monday, might result in a flurry in the money market. The rise in call loans to above 3 per cent before the close confirmed this view. The grave aspect of internal affairs in Russia and the outbreak of violence in Odessa brought into renewed discussion the possible future demand upon New York for gold. Foreign stock markets received the news with great placidity, the price of French rentes making a full recovery of an opening decline. Sterling exchange at Paris rose sharply 1½ centimes in the pound. London discounts also receded a fraction, notwithstanding the imminence of the half-yearly settlements and the price of gold receded in London. There was little change in the local exchange rates. The immediate conditions therefore were all toward relaxation of the pressure upon New York for gold.

The governors of the New York stock exchange decided not to close the exchange on Monday, July 3. Consequently the local market will not be closed on that date.

The news from Odessa was of more immediate effect in the grain markets, owing to the importance of that point as a port of export for wheat. The prospect of an interruption of the supply of wheat by means of the closing of that port contended as an influence in the wheat market, with favorable weather news from the home crop regions. Estimates on wheat and corn received during the day were highly favorable. There was also an early decline in cotton. The day's news is thus seen to have supplied influences favorable to higher prices for stocks.

News bearing on immediate prospects of dividend disbursements on stocks received close attention. Thus the coalers were prominent yesterday for their resistance to the reactionary tendency, the rumors of a further increase in the Reading dividend being supplemented by the strong showing of May net earnings made by Reading, Ontario & Western and Lehigh Valley. Canadian Pacific and Cleveland, Cincinnati & St. Louis were sensitive to their relatively poor showing. Assertions that higher dividends were in prospect were the influences in the advance of Amalgamated and Brooklyn Transit.

The German National bank of Pittsburgh has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent and an extra dividend of ½ per cent, payable July 1 to stock of record June 30.

Big Four declared the usual semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent and the stock declined a point to 97.

The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent, payable July 20.

The Mercantile Trust Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable July 1.

The Columbia National bank has declared a quarterly dividend of 4 per cent, payable July 1.

The George's Creek Coal and Iron Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of $2 a share, payable July 5.

The Irving Savings Institution of New York has cut the annual interest rate from 4 to 3½ per cent. Its deposits exceed $2,000,000.

The Diamond Savings bank has declared a quarterly dividend of 8 per cent, payable July 1 to stock of record June 30.

The Diamond National bank has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 5 per cent, payable to stock of record June 30.

The Distillers' Securities Company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1 per cent, payable July 28.

Net earnings of Rock Island for May increased $300,000.

The aggregate capitalization of the corporations formed this month under the laws of New Jersey, Maine, New York, Massachusetts and West Virginia, with a capital of $1,000,000 and upward, as reported to the New York Commercial, was $188,150,000, a falling off of $38,650,000, as compared with last month, and an increase of $97,650,000, as compared with June, 1904. New Jersey ranks first this month, displacing New York, which occupied first place in May. Companies with a combined capitalization of $118,650,000, which is $28,650,000 in excess of May, were incorporated in that state. Maine takes second place, with a total capitalization of $48,500,000, which is only $2,500,000 less than the total of last month. New York is third, with $11,000,000, a falling off from last month of $80,000,000; West Virginia has a $9,000,000 company and Massachusetts a $1,000,000 company.

PROFIT-TAKING MARKS THE DAY'S SESSION

Professional Traders Influenced by Unfavorable News—Net Declines Small.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 30.—The Herald this (Friday) morning says: Profit-taking by professional traders rather than the distribution of stocks by the manipulative clique, appeared to be the chief characteristic of yesterday's stock market. Tuesday's reaction was quite clearly a distributive movement, resulting from some enlargement of public buying, growing out of the sentimental influences of the "campaign to change sentiment" and some good news.

Yesterday's unfavorable news almost as clearly indicates the disposition of traders to transform profits into cash, and it was probably the manipulators who were the buyers. Under any circumstances, the market showed a strong undertone, at a lower level, and there were no signs of disturbing liquidation, despite the selling movement. Net declines were not, as a rule, as considerable as the decline from the high prices of the day to the closing figures. Business contracted, and there were few if any signs of public interest.

While the unsettled condition of foreign markets, growing out of the remarkable state of internal affairs in Russia, particularly at Odessa, made operators cautious, the effect of the riots and the piratical demonstration at that port exerted a greater influence in advancing wheat than in depressing stocks. Still, the fact that in the twentieth century a condition was created in a great European port similar to that which existed when Morgan, Hawkins and Drake ravaged the Spanish Main and placed Curacao, La Guayra and Puerot Cabello under tribute was sufficient to check enthusiasm.

Aside from this, however, the near approach of the holidays, Sunday and Independence day; the advance of call money to 3 per cent, with a fair possibility of its touching 5 or 6 per cent today, and the wild movements in staple commodities, wheat bounding up and cotton tumbling down, contributed their part to the reaction and to the curtailment of business.

WENTY-STORY BLOCK FOR BANK

New Union National Will Erect a Skyscraper on the Holmes Site Next Year.

SALE IN WOODLAND ROAD

ittsburgh will in all probability get a 20-ry skyscraper as the result of the consolida- n Wednesday of the Union National bank d the bank of N. Holmes & Sons. It was nounced all but officially yesterday that the ilding would be erected next year on the olmes corner at Fourth avenue and Wood street, which is 36x34 feet. The site is amply large enough for a building of this kind and in case the Thaw property adjoining in Wood street should be improved at the same time, it is rumored, the two buildings could go up gether to mutual advantage. Plans for a 20-ry skyscraper were prepared for N. Holmes Sons two years ago by a firm of local archi-ts, the estimated cost of the structure then g put at about $2,000,000. These plans may be acceptable to the new board of directors en they take up the matter of building and e question of designing the building may be t open to competition. C. F. Dean, cashier the Union National bank, said yesterday at while no official action had been taken building is pretty sure to be started next ring, and practically the same statement s made at the Holmes bank.

Some time ago the Holmes interests were of-ered nearly $1,000,000 for their site. Last year ey remodeled the three-story building on e corner at considerable expense. The two r-story buildings adjoining in Wood street, ich also belong to them, are tenanted by iller & Voegtley, hardware dealers, and the exander Furniture Company. The leases on se buildings and on the bank building can be canceled April 1.

The consolidation of the banks also means at the Union National site at Fourth avenue d Market street will be sold. The bank ns two lots, one being 25x90 feet at the cor-r and the other, adjoining, being 41.5x175 feet, nning through to Chauncery lane. Brokers are busy yesterday trying to get a deal rted for this corner. The erection of the kyscraper on the Wood street corner and the obable erection of a 10 or 12-story building y the Commonwealth Real Estate Company on he Dallmyer property adjoining in Fourth venue will make a complete change in that ighborhood and give realty values a strong lift.

Fine Property Is Reported Sold.

It is reported on very good authority that Maj. George M. Laughlin of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company has added to his holdings in Woodland road by the purchase of a little over two acres of the property of the Pennsylvania Female College, which adjoins his own plot on the north. The lot is valued at about $42,000. It abuts 191 feet on the west side of a triangular shaped lot, which runs up from the main part of the Laughlin site along Woodland road. On the south end it is about 260 feet long and about 450 feet on the north end. An old brick stable which has been an eyesore to the community for years and one or two outbuildings stand on the college lot in the rear of the Laughlin residence and near his greenhouses. As announced in The Gazette a few days ago, Maj. Laughlin has commissioned Architects MacClure & Spahr to prepare plans for a costly residence to be built on his Woodland road plot, but this may not be started this year. The deal for the college land was "on" some time ago, and it is said that the land was wanted to square up the Laughlin site. Maj. Laughlin is in Maine and no detailed information about the present deal, which is credited to John A. Sharp, could be obtained yesterday.

No Notion of Selling.

The story published in two morning papers yesterday to the effect that A. L. Richmond, Jr., owner of the Hotel Lincoln, had bought the property of the Christian Home for Working Girls in Duquesne way, in the rear of the hotel, was a lurid product of the imagination. The price named in the story was $150,000, enough in itself to have branded the yarn as a "pipe." In the first place, the trustees of the home paid about $72,000 for the property and spent $100,000 more for their new building, which was only recently dedicated. At present the property would sell for much more than they have invested in it. In the next place the home has no idea of moving from its present quarters, which are as handsome and comfortable as those of any similar institution in the country. James H. Park, one of the trustees, said last night:

"There is absolutely no truth in the story. Our property cost us much more than the price named in the item this morning and we have no idea of selling at any price at present."

What gave rise to the report was the fact that Mr. Richmond has tried recently to secure an option on 25x80 feet of vacant ground between the Hotel Lincoln and the building of the home. This is at the corner of two alleys and is wanted as a site for a power plant for the hotel, which will be 12 stories high when finished. This lot is valued at about $18,000, but no deal for it has been made and no option given.

30 Houses for Sheraden.

The finest lot of houses that has ever been built in or around Sheridan has been started by M. J. Bostoce along the Sheraden boulevard, which leads from Main street up the hill. There will be 30 houses in all—some brick and some stone dwellings of eight and 10 rooms, which will cost from $5,000 to $6,000 each. Three of them are now under way, and when the lot is completed it will cover all the available frontage on the east side of Sheraden boulevard. The frontage on the opposite side is owned by the Sheraden estate and cannot be bought. The houses to be built now will be rented for about $50 a month.

Seven houses to cost $4,000 each will be started at once in Alice street, Swissvale, by Little & Pfeihl, who have awarded the contract for their erection to the Braddock Lumber Company. These will be eight-room brick houses and the first of them will be completed by October 1.

Hospital Gets Its Deed.

The deed for the W. C. King property in Aiken avenue, which was purchased recently as a part of the site for the new Homeopathic hospital, was delivered yesterday in the office of A. R. Peacock, one of the leading promoters. The property is 265x331 feet and was bought for $35,000 through the agency of J. B. Lawler of the East End Savings and Trust Company.

It develops that the deal for the Painter holdings in Water street, between Wood and Market streets, has not been closed. The price reported a few days ago was $100,000 and the buyer was said to be a downtown merchant. At this figure the property would cost $3,334 a front foot for the lot, which runs through to First avenue, thus establishing a new record price in Water street. It is said that a higher offer has been submitted.

The Salvation Army has bought from the William Ward estate 46.6x100 feet at Forty-sixth and Plummer streets for $10,500 through the office of M. H. England & Son. The lot is improved with a brick building which is known as the Lawrenceville turnverein. The Salvation Army will use it as an industrial home.

The same brokers sold to Walter Torlew for Mrs. Elizabeth Muetze 269 Forty-fifth street, a brick and frame house on 20x100 feet, for $2,900; for John Zimmer to Joseph Woldyla, 3533 Butler street, a three-story brick store and house on 24x110 feet, for $6,250.

MARKET LINES FIRM AND PRICES RISING

Green Goods and Produce Make Some Sharp Advances and Flour Is Firmer.

Everything in the green goods and produce lines showed firmness yesterday, and many commodities showed a tendency to advance. Canteloupes have moved up sharply, and berries are decidedly higher-priced than the day before. Cabbage is scarce, and prices have advanced. Oranges are also higher.

One sign that summer is well advanced is the cutting out of quotations on old apples. There are none in the market, but the fresh fruit is coming in plentifully and improving daily. In another week or ten days the ripe harvest apples will be in the market. They are not good keepers, but are the first ripe apples of home production, and their coming is always hailed with delight by the fruit-loving public. By the end of July there will be all kinds of fruit in, and as the crop promises to be most abundant this year, there is no reason in sight yet why it should not be cheap.

Groceries held firm yesterday, flour showing a market improvement, although trade in that line was dull. The firmer tone in flour was imparted by the advance in wheat. Although there is an immense crop of wheat this year, the supply of good milling wheat left over from last harvest is practically exhausted, a somewhat unusual situation. This will put the new crop on the market earlier than usual, and the millers claim the price will be high all summer. Nevertheless the condition of business at the mills does not improve, buyers refusing to get in.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania lines, 8 hay, 10 oats, 4 corn, 1 straw, 1 feed; Pittsburg & Lake Erie, 3 oats, 3 hay; Baltimore & Ohio, 4 hay, 1 oats, 1 corn.

The market was firm in all lines yesterday. Receipts were not heavy, and prices were advanced, with every indication that top has not been reached. Grain continues active, and dealers have no trouble in disposing of their goods at full quotations. Straw is getting scarce, and a firm feeling is noted on same. Millfeed is about steady. Hay has advanced in price, and the demand is good.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The annual meeting of the Horseshoe Mining Company, held at Beulah, Wyo., has resulted in the election of the following board of directors: R. H. Binns, F. B. Alsop, Mark W. Watson, E. H. Binns, R. T. McCready, A. N. Cavitt, Frank P. Sproul and J. W. Hussey, all of Pittsburgh. There are at present about 3,600,000 shares of stock of issue in the old company. This stock is to be exchanged for 300,000 shares of preferred stock, 10 shares of the old to be exchanged for one share of the new. There will be left 150,000 shares of the preferred in the treasury to be used for taking up the old liens and other indebtedness of the company. The 75,000 shares of common stock are to retire the outstanding Horseshoe common stock and to meet the reorganization expenses. The company's big mill at Terry, S. D., was recently destroyed by fire.

It is officially announced that the Union Copper Mining Company has made a contract with the Tennessee Copper Company, whereby the latter will take over a large amount of the former's ore output. At present the Union copper mines, located near Gold Hill, N. C., is producing about 50 tons, or two carloads of ore a day, which is being shipped. This ore is taken by the American Smelting and Refining Company. The copper company is now in a position to produce considerably more than it sells to the smelting company and the contract made with the Tennessee Copper Company, which has new and improved smelters, will insure a market for an output up to 150 tons a day.

A dispatch from Ouray, Colo., says: An enormous body of ore is reported to have been encountered in the Joker tunnel at Red Mountain a few nights ago. The ore shoot is said to be the whole width of the tunnel between eight and ten feet wide, and has not yet been cut through. The ore is said to carry 15 per cent copper, besides silver values amounting to $50 per ton. The strike is said to be the biggest ever made in this district.

A Cripple Creek dispatch says: Lessee Charles Vetter and associates, who have been operating a lease on the Doctor-Jack Pot property at Raven hill, between the third and fourth levels, have encountered a rich strike. The initial shipment has just been made of a full carload that shows calaverite and sylvanite clear through the rock. The ore is expected to give returns of several hundreds of dollars in gold to the ton. The mineral is being broken down from two to four feet in width. The average width of the ore is three feet. This strike, if it continues, and it gives every indication of doing so, the vein being in place, should make these lessees a small fortune. The facts concerning this strike are being withheld at the present time, and little is obtainable. The fact that a rich strike has been made, however, is not denied.

DISORDERS IN RUSSIA HELP WHEAT MARKET

Fresh Damage Reports from the Northwest Furnish Additional Bullish Sentiment.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 29.—Internal disorders in Russia stiffened prices in the wheat market here today. Fresh damage reports from the American northwest furnished basis for additional bullish sentiment. At the close, wheat for September delivery was up ¾@1c. Corn is off ⅛c; oats are down ¼c and provisions show losses of a shade to 12½c.

Strength in the wheat market developed after trading was well underway. For a time, the sentiment in the pit was quite bearish, clear weather in the northwest being the governing influence early in the session. Despite big holders, prices at Liverpool the July option here opened unchanged to ⅜c lower, at 90⅞c to 91¼c. September was up a shade to ⅛@¼c lower, at 87¼@87⅜c. Seemingly little or no attention was paid at first to the reports of serious disturbances in Russia, traders here seeing for the time being nothing in the situation to materially affect prices. Pit traders were fairly active sellers during the first hour. Elevator interests also had wheat for sale. Under this selling, prices dropped a trifle lower, September declining to 87c, and July to 90⅞c. Before the middle of the session, however, sentiment changed to bullishness. Reports of rust were received in messages from the northwest, telegrams from a Chicago trader now on a tour of inspection through Minnesota being especially pessimistic concerning the outlook for the spring sown crop. The reports of the disturbances at Odessa which had caused little apprehension among traders here earlier in the day, seemed now suddenly to presage unusual demand in Europe for American wheat. The practical closing of even one port, it was argued, would greatly curtail shipment of grain from Russia. This view of the situation started active covering by shorts. The market readily responded to the urgent demand, September advancing to 89¼c. Meantime July sold up to 92¾c. Although the market continued strong the remainder of the session, the advance was not all held, prices reacting somewhat on profit taking. The market closed strong with September at 88⅞c; July was up 1c, at 92¼c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 45,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 239,000 bushels, compared with 294,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 167 cars, against 120 cars last week, and 219 cars a year ago.

Under renewed liquidation by several prominent longs, sentiment in the corn pit was bearish. Receipts were larger than ordinary, and country acceptances were again on a liberal scale, thus insuring heavy receipts for a few days longer at least. Strength of wheat held sellers in check late in the session. The market closed weak. September opened ⅛c to ¼c lower, at 54⅞c to 54½c, sold off to 53⅞@53⅞c, and closed at 53⅞c. July ranged between 54⅝c and 55⅜c, and closed at 55⅛c, a net loss of ⅛c. Local receipts were 679 cars, with 184 cars of contract grade.

Influenced by the weakness of other grain, sentiment in the oats market was rather bearish during the first hour. In sympathy with the bulge in wheat, the market became quite firm. Cash houses were active buyers. Late in the session the market closed firm with July up ¼c at 32½c. September opened ⅛c lower, at 31c, sold between 30⅝@31c and 31⅛c, and closed at 31⅛c. Local receipts were 107 cars.

Provisions were easy on heavy receipts of live hogs. The volume of trading was small. At the close September pork was off 12½c, at $13 00. Lard was a shade lower, at $7 45@7 47½. Ribs were down 7½c, at $7 92½. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 1 car; corn, 594 cars; oats, 104 cars; hogs, 27,000 head.

The leading futures, as reported by John D. Armstrong & Co., Farmers' bank building, Pittsburgh, members of Chicago board of trade, ranged as follows:

Outlook for Extensions in the Southwest Is Not Encouraging

Lower southwest operators are not completing anything but the most ordinary producers. Very few of the wells drilling are important as to location, leaving the work now under way of the routine order. In a few localities they are looking for extensions to the old fields but the outlook is not encouraging.

West of Mannington, in the 30-foot district, the most pretentious development of the year, there is no longer any hope of extending the producing area. The interior has been fully developed and at the present time there are but two wells drilling in the district. The Freehold Oil and Gas Company is down 1,200 feet at a second test on the B. Boards farm. None of the wells has a production of 100 or more barrels a day. The most of the old wells have been shot till it no longer has a beneficial result. The entire district at this time has not a production of more than 800 barrels a day. Near Burton, Wetzel county, the Hope Gas Company is due in the sand at a test on the Jolliffe-Glover farm. The Ohio Valley Gas Company is down 1,800 feet at a test on the S. A. Barnard farm.

Northeast of Folsom, in Wetzel county, near the Harrison county line, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 7 on the J. L. Price farm is holding up at 200 barrels a day. South of the Stout district, in Ritchie county, the Pittsburgh and Parkersburg Oil Company's test on the E. E. Snyder farm has been put to pumping and is producing 20 barrels a day.

The efforts to extend the Big Lime development in the Milton pool, Cabell county, are meeting with no better results than in the deep sand territory. One and one-half miles southeast of the No. 1 on the E. W. Beckett farm, the initial well in the pool, the Buena Oil and Gas Company has drilled its test on the John White farm through the Big Lime and has a small gasser.

In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 3 on the M. A. Wilson farm is producing 150 barrels a day. This is a new well, located in the northeast end of the development. The same company's Nos. 3 and 4 on the Rose L. Norman farm are producing 100 barrels each. The Carter Oil Company's No. 2 on the L. G. Fluharty farm is holding up at 130 barrels a day.

In the Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company has put its No. 5 on the Anna Harvey farm to pumping and it is producing 30 barrels a day. In the Wallace district, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has given its test on the Celia Robinson farm a shot, but it failed to respond. In the Salem district the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 on the Andrew Spindle farm through the Gordon and the hole has filled up 1,800 feet with fluid. It will be given a shot. The South Penn has drilled its test on the Jemima Sandy farm into the top of the Gordon and has a light show of oil.

In the Newport district, Greene county, Pa., the Philadelphia Company has drilled its test on the William Warwick farm through the sand and has a large gasser. Interest in the fourth sand development, west of Butler, has gone glimmering. None of the late completions in that development show the possibility of an extension in any direction. The old McBride well on the Waldron farm is still the most pretentious producer in the field and has a production of 15 barrels an hour. Three-fourths of a mile to the northeast of the same well, the Southern Oil Company is drilling an important test on the Ihmsen heirs' farm. Should this well come in a fair producer it will open up some new territory.

In the Benwood district, Monroe county, O., the Pure Oil Company has completed a test on the M. Feltner farm and has a show for a 15-barrel producer in the Berea grit. In the same district, the Carter Oil Company has completed a test on the M. Schumaker farm and has a duster in the Berea grit at a depth of 1,834 feet. In the Marietta district, Washington county, William Reader has drilled in his test on the Cynthia Mendenhall farm and has a good producer. The well placed 200 barrels to its credit the first 24 hours and when last reported was holding up at eight barrels an hour.

WOMAN FINDS THIRTY POUNDS IN A BOX OF PILLS.

Regains Weight Lost Through Nervous Dyspepsia and Female Weakness. Saves a Relative, Too.

Ever since the discovery of radium and the manufacture of liquid air, people have been readier to believe that wonderful power can be stored in a very few grains of matter. The story given below shows that health and happiness for two women were rolled up in few pellets which were bought at a drug store for a mere trifle.

"I never felt better in my life than I do now," Mrs. Wager has been recently saying to all her acquaintances, "and yet only two years ago I was all run down. I had lost thirty pounds of my regular weight, and I was suffering all the time from a nervous disorder in my stomach and from other troubles peculiar to women."

"How did you bring about such a change in yourself, Mrs. Wager?" everyone asks, in astonishment.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did it all. Some friends told me that these pills would help me, long before I was willing to try them. It seemed altogether too much to believe, I was then so weak and miserable. Finally I did try them, but without any confidence whatever that they would cure me. I took them, in fact, first to satisfy my friends, and at first it looked as if the trial would end in a dead failure. My friends urged patience until my system should be brought fully under the influence of the remedy. The surprise came just as I was finishing the fourth box. Then the good that they had been quietly doing all the time began to show itself clearly. I kept on using them a while longer, and grew better every day until I was entirely cured. I now weigh 160 pounds and tell everyone who is run down to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

"Do you know of anyone who has followed your advice with good results?"

"Yes, I do. My brother's wife was very miserable. She was so weak that she would faint when she was just sitting on a chair doing nothing. Her body was full of rheumatism. I urged her to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and she finally did so. She has used only a few boxes, but she says that she already feels like a new woman. She does all her household work, and she looks as if she felt as well as she says she is. I am so glad that I have found a medicine that will do all that it claims."

Mrs. Louise Wager lives at No. 11 Byron street, Wakefield, Mass. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a prompt and thorough remedy for all diseases of the blood and nerves. They tone up every nerve in the body. They drive out of the blood the poison that causes rheumatism. They strengthen the stomach and make digestion thorough and comfortable. They are particularly suited to the special requirements of the delicate organism of women, correcting all irregularities and making healthy complexions and lively spirits.

One of the best things about these pills is the fact that they do not contain the slightest trace of any harmful drug. While they are overcoming disease they are building up general conditions of good health. They are sold by all druggists.

A Famous New York Hatter Makes

Oetting's Hats

Rough Straws Are Always Good

There isn't any "have-to" about wearing a plain, smooth straw hat—though it's a mighty nice hat to wear.

Many of my customers are selecting rough straw hats that are equally stylish.

And when I say rough, I don't mean the heavy, coarse kind.

But, rather, neat effects, such as the nobby Japanese Sennit and Mackinaw, and a new China straw called Fuseyana.

Best straw hats at $4, $3, $2.50, next best at $2, $1.50 and $1.

White duck and linen crash outing hats and caps at $1, 75c and 50c.

Golfing hats made of red, green, tan or brown burlap at 75c.

Fancy adjustable hat bands for straw or felt hats, 50c and 25c.
